Mr. Geo. Wardrobe met with a serious accident on Monday. While carrying a keg of lager down cellar at the hotel his foot slipped when about half way down and he fell with the keg among some boxes at the bottom. The back of his head, nose and lip were badly cut.

The watch advertised as lost in last week's Advance has been r ecovered. Mr. A. McAulay was the finder and having seen the advertisement handed it over to the happy loser, a young lady. Score another for the Advance advertising columns.

Dr. Murray, dentist, has installed a gas plant in his office—not an illuminator but one of those affairs that makes tooth pulling and jaw probing a pleasant dream. It is designed to make these operations painless and is one of the most complete outfits that money can buy.

We learned through Mr. O'Donohue last week that the Georgian Bay Power Company have been approached by the president of the electric railway company for a price on 1000 horsepower to run their line. Mr. O'Donohue expresses himself as confident that the railway will be built.

Large bills for the East Grey fall fair were issued this week giving full particulars of this big event. The directors are anticipating a big show and a successful one this year. Th exhibition ought certainly to be good in grains, roots and fruit, of which our farmers are enjoying a bumper crop.

Here is a pointer for the new Standard Bank people: The Meaford town council are saving money this year by having the municipal taxes paid into one of the local banks. The Molson's Bank offered to do the work free of charge, and the council accepted the offer and decided not to engage a collector.

Mr. Sam Fisher, whose terrible accident at Sundrige was referred to in last week's issue, has since had his leg amputated just above the knee. The accident was caused by a slab forcing him on the saw. In attempting to save himself a large portion of flesh was ripped from his breast and the saw entered his knee diagonally, cutting the knee cap in two. Mr. Fisher's many friends at Eugenia and elsewhere sympathize keenly with the unfortunate man, who is at present in the hospital at Huntsville.

A home-warming and christening combined was celebrated at the handsome residence of Mr. Wesley Buskin, west back line, on Thursday afternoon last, when several old pioneers of this line were present by special invitation—in fact all of the old inhabitants now left. These included Mr. and Mrs. George Buskin of Markdale, parents of Mr. Wes Buskin; Mr. and Mrs. P. Quigg, Mrs. Wm. Neil and Mr. John Duncan. Other guests were Mrs. Flanagan of Huntsville, Muskoka, and Mrs. Jaffray of Chatham. The christening was performed by Rev. L. W. Thom, after which the old people spent some time in relating incidents of the early days. A bountiful supper was enjoyed by all. During the past summer Mr. Wes. Buskin, who resides on the old homestead, erected for himself one of the most complete, comfortable and modern brick farm residences to be found in this county, combining all the latest conveniences, including hot and cold water, bath room, hot air furnace, etc. Mr. John Buskin, who cleared this farm many years ago, has, with his wife, been residing in Markdale for some years. He was a Somersetshire, England, man, and his partner was a Miss Hannah Savage, a native of Markham, Ont. They will celebrate their golden wedding on Oct. 30 of this year. May the old couple enjoy a long and happy evening of life, and their son on the homestead and his most estimable young partner a long harvest of happiness on the old homestead.

Thanksgiving day has been fixed for Oct. 26.
