Industrial Home Notes

(By an Inmate)

The garden stuff produced on this place was abundant this season. Cucumbers were especially prolific. We never saw a larger production from the same amount of ground or a finer specimen of the fruit. The corn is all cut, potatoes and turnips are the only crops remaining to harvest.

Mr. Harness is busily engaged remodelling the stabling under the barn and has more the appearance of a hard worked mechanic than the gracious manager of an industrial home.

On Monday evening last Rev. Mr. Cline, Baptist minister of Owen Sound, called at the Home and had evening prayer with the inmates.

On the 18th inst. Thomas Simmons and wife of Clarksburg were admitted to the Home. Thomas is a respectable old gentleman, in his 72nd year, a shoemaker by trade, but fast failing health and eyesight has rendered him incapable of farther supporting himself and his blind wife by his trade. His wife is a most remarkable woman. She is eight months her husband's senior, and has been totally blind from childhood, but in every other respect she is perfectly healthy. Notwithstanding the 72 summers that have passed over her head, she is still as smart as many a woman of 50: is a talented musician and possessed of a fine soprano voice. She brought with her a melodeon, two large accordeons and an auto-harp, all of which she plays with exquisite skill. Among her other accomplishments she can fluently read the Bible and Testament, of which she possesses about forty books in raised letters. She is also an expert knitter, being able to do any kind of knitting; and, the old gentleman informs me she can beat him all hollow at dominoes. The old couple have been married about 32 years. She is the daughter of Mr. Stephens, one of the founders of Meaford. They will be remembered by some of the Kimberley people, where the old gentleman plied his trade a few years ago, living in a house belonging to the late Dan Henderson, who died here in November last. The old couple are pleased with the Home, contented and happy, and we hope they may enjoy many more happy years together.

On Wednesday last Mr. John Baines of Markdale sent to the Home a beautiful cabinet organ for use at our Sabbath services. We are informed that it is Mr. Baines' intention to make a gift of the instrument to the institution if a volunteer organist can be found. This is a most generous consideration of that gentleman, and we have no doubt that an organist will be forthcoming, and too many thanks cannot be expressed to Mr. B. for his generosity, which will add so much to the attractiveness of our divine service. Mr. Bains has taken a zealous interest in our meeting from the beginning, being seldom absent except when absent from home, and added materially to the singing by his clear, rich tenor.

Your scribe had the pleasure of meeting on visiting day, a friend whom he had not seen for more than twenty years, in the person of Mr. Joseph Ferris, of Kimberley. Although the years are many, and Joe was but a growing youth then, yet the meeting was readily recognized, notwithstanding the great change in both. Joe has become a strapping, fine-looking fellow, your correspondent has transformed into a—well, never mind, but we are glad to hear you are prospering, old friend. Long life and double success to you. Come again.

On Friday last John McIntyre, of Glenelg, was admitted as an inmate to the Home. The poor old man is in a bad state, and a more fit subject for an hospital than for the Home. He was sized with paralysis three or four weeks ago, the right side being completely gone and he is perfectly powerless to help himself in any way. Surely this is becoming a veritable hospital, but what about the staff?

A greater or more pleasant surprise could scarcely be possible, than that sprung on your cor. on Friday afternoon last, when the matron announced that two ladies awaited in the day room to see him. Mrs. Christoe and daughter, Mrs. (Rev.) Thom, of Flesherton, are the ladies referred to, and as the late lamented Dr. and Mrs. Christoe had for so many years been among the kindest of your cor's many kind friends in Flesherton, the call was much more gratefully appreciated. Their kindness, and that of Mrs. Thom, in days gone by, will ever be remembered with gratitude. On being informed that the ladies did not wish to infringe on the rules of the house by desiring to be shown through it, the matron expressed her regret that they did not apply, as it would have been a pleasure under the circumstances, to show them through the principal part at any rate.

W. H. Thurston, Editor of the Advance, was also a welcome caller on the same day.

Maxwell

On the 21st inst. Maxwell L. O.L met in special session and presented Bro. John A. Scott, M. D., with an emblem and the following address: Dear Sir and Bro,—We, the members of L. O. L. No. 666, having learned of your intended departure from our midst, take this opportunity of expressing our regret at losing such a friend and brother but hope our loss may be others' gain. We hereby extend you a hearty good wish for your future happiness and success and ask you to accept this charm as a token of our fraternal friendship, not for it's value, but as a mark of esteem for a worthy brother. We therefore ask you to accept this token and hope that you may live long to defend the principles of which it is an emblem. Signed on behalf of the Lodge, R. N. Kinear, M.; Robt. Arnott, D. M.

The annual harvest home services at St. Mary's church were held morning and evening on Sunday last. The church had been decorated with grain, fruit, flowers and potted plants with good taste by a party of ladies. The choir, under Miss Little, organist, sang an anthem at both services, during the collecting of the offertory. There were large congregations both morning and evening. The sermons were preached by the rector, Rev. G. M. Franklin. In the morning the text was St. Matthew, 12, "The Parable of the Tares" being the subject. At the evening service the subject was taken from Psalm 126. The discourses were appropriate to the occasion, and many useful lessons were drawn from the texts used, to the edification of the interested congregations. Taken altogether, the services were very successful and were considered of equal interest to any for many years past.

Mrs. Charles Hickling of Brunswick Ave., Toronto, is visiting her auntie, Mrs. Hickling, at Maxwell.

Three Jurors Cured.

Of Cholera Morbus with one Small Bottle Of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. G. W. Fowler of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Clebourne county, Alabama. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some souse meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drugstore for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one small bottle cured the three of us." For sale by W. E. Richardson.

Rural Deanery of Grey

The semi-annual meeting of the Rural decanal chapter of Grey was held in Markdale on the afternoon of Tuesday, Sept. 19th. The members met in Christ church at 2 30, the Rev. J. Ardill, Rural Dean, in the chair. The Rev. E. Appleyard was secretary. Rev G R Newell read the 91st Psalm, and Rev. G. M. Franklin said the prayers. One of the most important matters on the agenda paper was the closing of the mission station at Ravenna, Collingwood township. The parish of Heathcote, which is in charge of the Rev. J. G. Hooper, is at present composed of Heathcote, Banks, Duncan and Ravenna. Mr. Hooper said that the people who had contributed to the support of services at Ravenna belonged rightfully to two other parishes, and that it would be in his interest and that of the church to close the said mission station. The Chapter by motion made the desired recommendation to the executive comittee of the diocese.

After the disposal of other minor matters of business, there was a consultation as to the proceedings of the next meeting of the Chapter. A program was suggested which, if carried out, should prove interesting. It will consist of papers or addresses on living issues of the day by the Rural Dean and by the Rev. Messrs. Newell, Bice and Masters.

A missions committee was elected, consisting of the Rural Dean, ex-officio; Rev. Messrs. Brown and Newell, and Messrs. Mills and Mockridge.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Rev. J. R. and Mrs. Newell for the hospitality provided at the rectory for all who attended the meeting.

At 7.30 evensong was held in the church. The Rev. W. G. Reilly read prayers and the Rev. Rural Dean Ardill preached the sermon from Ex. 2:4. Unfortunately the weather was most unfavorable, but those who ventured out in the rain were well repaid in hearing a most excellent discourse.

Next May the meeting of the Chapter will be held at Chatsworth.

Strained Back and Side

"While working in a saw mill," writes C. E. Kenney, from Ottawa, I strained my back and side so severely I had to go to bed. Every movemsnt caused me torture. I tried different oils and liniments, but wasn't helped till I used Nervilene. Even the first application gave considerable relief. In three days I was again at work. Other men in the mill use Nervilene with tremendous benefit too." An honest record of nearly fifty years has established the value of Polson's Nervilene.

Feversham

Mrs. Harper Harrison of Toronto, who has been visiting with Mrs. A. Stewart and Mrs. Alexander, Flesherton, has come to Feversham to spend a short time with Mrs. Perigo.

Fred Hickling of Hickling Bros., Sundridge, spent Saturday and Sunday at his home on the 8th. He had been on a business trip to Toronto and took the advantage of calling on his people before returning to Sundridge.

The new mill is not progressing as fast as is desirable, but is expected to be in operation early in October

Mrs. Roy has been visiting her sister at Grand Valley. She will shortly leave to spend the winter with her daughters in New York and Pennsylvania.

Bills are out for our fall fair. Don't forget the date and don't forget to come; also don't forget to remain for the big concert at night.

Harvey Perigo has returned from Toronto, where he went on a business trip.

Some of our "green huntsmen" are getting their weapons oiled up in readiness for the attack of buck fever, which is expected to become epidemic about the first of November.

Eugenia

Sunday last there was a Sunday school service for the children in the Presbyterian church. The church was very prettily decorated with flowers and potted plants for the occasion. Rev. Mr Thom gave a very interesting address, to which the little people paid the greatest attention. The choir rendered some splendid music. Miss Deagle, who is visiting her brother, Mr. Fred Deagle, and her cousin, Miss Jerome, gave a duet which was highly appreciated, as the young ladies possess beautiful, well-trained voices.

Mrs. Robert Hawkins is very ill at present, but under the skilful treatment of Dr. Bond it is hoped she will soon be around again.

Mr. Isaac Turner and his bride, who have been visiting relatives here, left on Tuesday for their home in Winnipeg. As they have both spent their childhoods days at Eugenia, the best wishes of a large circle of friends accompanies them to their home in the west

Miss Georgena Smith has gone on an extended visit to friends in Buffalo. She will be very much missed in the church and Sunday School, yet her many friends wish for her a delightful visit and a safe return to her friends and home at Eugenia.

Mr. Alex. McCallum, who has been spending some time in Mono, is now visiting his mother at Eugenia.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller have gone on a visit to the old home at Shelburne for a few days.

Mr. Robert Williams lost a fine cow by its falling down the side of the mountain onto the rocks in the ravine below.

The church of England congregation will hold their first harvest home services on Sunday, Oct. 1, at 3 p. m. The hall will decorated and a suitable sermon will be preached by rev. G. M. Franklin.

Mr. W. Purvis is very low at present.

Mr. W. Hislop of the Valley, we are pleased to hear, is some better.

McFarland, Stafford & Co's. Big Store
MARKDALE, ONTARIO

Grey County's BIGGEST and CHEAPEST STORE

Eager For Business

Everybody around this big store is eager for business. The Summer holidays are now a thing of the past. We've all had 'em—from the delivery boys to the heads of the firm. The consequence is we're all back feeling refreshed and eager for the fray, anticipating the biggest and busiest Fall and Winter season this store has ever seen.

Every Condition Warrants it.

Times are good, crops are good, all kinds of farm produce are bringing big prices. For months past we have been planning for this Fall and Winter business—buying for spot cash in large quantities gives the entrance to the best mills and manufacturers in the Dominion. Our Old Country importations are larger this season than ever before.

The Way We Save You Money

Years ago we formed a connection with some of the largest and best dry goods firms in the old country, among them being MESSRS. RYLAND, SONS & CO., Limited, Manchester, England. This firm is claimed to be the largest Dry Goods concern in the world. They control a large number of mills in the British Isles; do their own bleaching, do their own dyeing, do their own printing, etc., in fact they employ year in and year out over 12,000 hands. Messrs. Rylands, Sons & Co., Limited, send a representative to Canada twice each year. We have control of their large range of samples for Markdale and it may interest you to know that their representative only calls on one other firm between Markdale and Toronto. Common sense will tell you that importing direct from a large concern like this we not only save all middlemen's profits, but CAN and DO BUY merchandise cheaper than the average store possibly can.

Large Arrivals of Fall Goods

For weeks past both Canadian and imported goods have been arriving by dray loads, and we have been kept at our wits end to find a place for all the new goods. Our store is large, but every available foot of room will be needed.

You are Invited

We extend to all a wide, open invitation to make this store your headquarters—meet your friends here—rest here—use us in every way you can. A waiting room provided with mirrors, comb, brush, whisk, etc., is at your disposal our wash and toilet room is at your convience. Make use of it.

Keep Abreast of the Times. We claim to have the most up-to-date store and up to date store methods in this county. We are trying continually to see what a thoroughly comfortable place we can make this big store to trade in. We want you to feel at home here. Examine the goods and compare values to your heart's content. Every department is now crowded with bright new fashionable goods, gathered together from the best markets of the world, bought at the lowest possible prices and marked at the lowest living profits and sold on this guarantee "your money back if not satisfied." We want your trade. We can save you money. Come in and take a look around. No need to buy unless you wish.

Purgatives Are Dangerous.

They gripe, cause burning pains and make the constipated condition even worse. Physicians say the ideal laxative is Dr. Hamilton's Pills of mandrake and Butternut; they are exceedingly mild, composed only of health giving vegetable extracts. Dr. Hamilton's Pills restore regular movements of the bowels, strengthen the stomach and purify the blood. For constipation, sick headache, billiousness and disordered digestion no medicine on earth makes such remarkable cures as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Try a 25c. box yourself.

I Was Troubled for Two Years.

Peterboro, Ont. Aug. 23rd, 1905

D. A. Cameron & Co.

Dear Sirs,—It is now about three months since I wrote to you for two bottles of your Rheumatic Cure, I am very pleased to be able to say that I am troubled no more with rheumatism. I had tried nearly everything I had heard of, and some good doctors, previous to taking your medicine, and received but little benefit I felt very little better until I had nearly finished the first bottle but continued taking the medicine, and now I am a well man. I will be only too pleased to answer any person who writes me, in regard to the value of your medicine.

I remain yours respectfully,
Henry Babcock.
