For The Advance,

Autumn

In the air there seems a softness,
As of breezes murmuring
In refrain a gentle farewell
To the joys that came with spring,
And the sunbeams twinkle, hazy,
O'er the waters, rippling, lazy,
In the Autumn.

Garbed in gold and brown and crimson,
Stands the maple, fair to see,
While her sisters' darker foliage
Forms a background prettily,
And the vines, their rich hues blended,
Show to us the summer's ended,
And 'tis Autumn.

Shorn and sheer the fields are standing,
While the thresher's busy hum
Sings to us of cheer and plenty
When the frosts of winter come;
And the orchard boughs are laden
With red apples, midst the faden
Leaves of Autumn.

Yet at times there comes a sadness,
And the wind wails round the eaves.
Can it be the voice of Ceres,
And for Prosperine she grieves,
Who, when flowers bloom, comes hither,
But must leave us when they wither,
With the Autumn?

And perchance, e'en with the Goddess,
Human hearts have unfulfilled
Hopes that came like springtime blossoms,
But which colder blasts have chilled,
So that Nature's forlorn fretting
Brings to them a vain regretting,
When 'tis Autumn.

Yet those words are true, though mystic,
Each thing worketh for the good
Of the heart that loveth, serveth,
And the time of reaping would,
If we knew it in its rightness,
Fill all our hearts with garnered brightness
In the Autumn.

—I. G. Beattie.

Physically Exhausted

Lacking in courage—out of joint with everything—scarcely on speaking terms with even fair health. Such low spirits are pitiable. Your brain is fagged, vitality so exhausted your constitution is well nigh ruined. What you need is Ferrozone, that great vitalizer and nutritive tonic. It's by making flesh and blood, by infusing iron and oxygen into the system that Ferrozone helps; it repairs weak spots, instills new life into worn-out organs—makes you feel like new. Ferrozone lifts age from the old and imparts resilience and buoyancy to the depressed. Be manly, ruddy-colored — cast aside weakness and enter the happy life that comes from using Ferrozone. Fifty cents buys a box in any drugstore.

Maxwell

(Held over from last week.)

A death which has caused profound sympathy in the community for the bereaved parents was the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCallum of Toronto. The remains were brought to the formers parental home, Mr. Ed McCallum, fourth line on Thursday and the funeral took place to the Presbyterian cemetery on Friday afterooon and was largely attended by sympathizing friends. Rev. Mr. Ballantyne conducted the funeral service.

Mrs. Neil McIntyre of Newberry, Michigan, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. W.H. Guy at present, also her daughter, Miss Lizzie McIntyre.

Miss Winnie Hamilton of Toronto is visiting with Mrs. Fred Spofford this week.

Mr. Windsor Ross is visiting his parental home at present.

Dr. Scott and family moved to Collingwood last week and Mr. Glassford has moved in where Dr. Scott was.

Miss Maud Guy is visiting friends in Collingwood this week,

A number of the young people in our vicinity attended the exhibition at Collingwood last week and some report of having an extra fine time.

The following address was read to Dr and Mrs. Scott previous to their departure for Collingwood.

To Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Scott:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Scott,

It is with profound regret that we, the people of the vicinity of Maxwell have learned that you are about to sever your connection with us. During your term of residence with us we all feel that you have filled a very important position in the community in which your lot has been cast. Not only will we as individuals miss your familiar faces from among us, but we are satisfied that the vicinity as a whole will experience a severe loss in your departure.

During the years that have passed friendships have been formed which we hope the tide may never efface. By some you will be remembered as ones who were always willing and ready to help and advise, by others and by the great majority you will be remembered among our most familiar friends and acquaintances; but by all you must be remembered as energetic and enthusiastic workers for all causes to which you chose to lend a helping hand, and while we feel that Dr. Scott has always been a leader in promoting anything that was for the benefit and advancement of the society of this locality, no less do we feel that Mrs. Scott has faithfully done her part in the circles among which she has been accustomed to move. So we feel in departing from us you are vacating a place which those who follow may find hard to fill, and no greater tribute can be paid to any one than that they did well that which they took in hand to do.

Now before we part we desire to make use of this opportunity to express to you in some slight way our esteem and good will for you and your family, as a token of which we now ask you to accept this tea set and cocoa set and when you part from us we hope that you may enjoy health and prosperity in your new home and we pray that wherever you go, that the blessing of God may go with you.

Signed on behalf of the people of the vicinity of Maxwell: Mrs. T.F. Andrew, Miss Lizzie Guy.

It destroys every root and branch of the disease so thoroughly that a relapse need never be feared.
