ADOPT EGG REGULATIONS

Amendments to the federal egg regulations have now been finally adopted by the province of Ontario. The egg regulations are administered by the Federal Department under the authority of Federal statute, and their adoption by Ontario makes them fully operative throughout the Dominion. The general principle of the regulations is not altered in any way in the amendments. Some changes have been made in country buying regulations designed to secure for the producer full graded value for his product.

Lightning Hit House

Early Friday morning during the thunder storm a bolt of lightning struck the home of Mr. Dan McEachnie of town, but very little damage was done to the building. The bolt struck the chimney, demolishing it, and also ripped a number of shingles from the roof. It travelled down the electric wiring destroying it and the meter. Considerable paper was ripped off in the room directly below the chimney which was destroyed. Mr. and Mrs. McEachnie were sleeping at the time the home was struck, but were awakened immediately, and investigated the extent of the damage

June 21 is said to be the longest day of the year as far as sunlight is concerned, but June 22 has only three seconds less, so really June 21 has very little about which to boast.

White-collar folk in Russia are not allowed to purchase as much sugar as the manual workers, and there's another reason why neither class wants much of it. The price is 15 cents per pound.

WINNIPEG AN EXCEPTION

"With seven cents tax on gas, $16 provincial license plate tax, and now the civic tax," reads a news story from Winnipeg, "owners are beginning to protest." The civic tax referred to is $5 on each of the 30,000 automobiles registered in the Manitoba capital. The one pleasant thing about the civic tax idea, as carried out in Winnipeg, is the fact that other municipalities in Canada have not adopted it. It has numerous disadvantages, one of them being that the car tags can be detached and used by others. The civic car tax was abandoned in Chicago for this reason.
