MOVED LIKE A DOLL

Had to be Helped Off with His Coat

Now As Active As Ever

How happy this man must feel to be strong and fit again, after being a victim of rheumatism for so long.

"It is many years now," he writes, "since I was first laid up with chronic rheumatism. Then I had to go about with two sticks. I worked in misery until five years ago. I could only move like a wooden mtn by turning round altogether. I could not get my coat off without my wife's help. But, thanks to Kruschen Salts, which I have taken regularly now for five years, I am as active as a young man of 23."—E.H.

Why continue to get only temporary relief from rheumatism when you can obtain lasting comfort and remove the cause of your rheumatic torment with Kruschen Salts? Here is a plain statement of the facts:—Two of the various salts of which Kruschen is composed dissolve the needle-pointed shrystals of uric acid which have settled in your joints, causing them to swell, ache and inflame. Other ingredients of Kruschen assist Nature to flush out these dissolved crystals through the natural channels. Other ingredients still, prevent food fermentation or decomposition taking place in the intestinal tract, and thereby check the further formation not only of uric acid but of other body poisons which undermine the health.

Start on Kruschen to-morrow. Keep up "the little daily dose" and you'll soon joyfully agree with thousands of others that rheumatism meets its master in Kruschen.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c and 75c per bottle.

Owl Laffs

Reggie—"Do you send your shirts to the laundry?"

Charles—"No, I just wear them once and tear them myself."

Jacob—"Where did you get that black eye?"

Alfred—"I kissed the bride."

Jacob—"But I thought that was customary?"

Alfred—"Well—not two months after the ceremony, it isn't."

The phonograph and radio have saved parents many a dollar that would have been wasted on piano lessons for girls who had no musical talent.

Waiter — "Haven't you forgotten something, sir?"

Professor—"Why, I thought I gave you the customary tip?"

Waiter—"You did, sir, but you forgot to eat."

A lecturer says that mothers find it difficult to get modern children to believe fairy-stories. Fathers are often faced with a similar difficulty in the case of modern mothers.

Hostess—"Will you sit on my right hand during dinner?"

Male Guest of Honor—"Not with that big ring on your finger."

Mrs. Jones (to her neighbor)—"You know I think my husband was drunk last night."

Mrs. Helms—"How's that?"

Mrs. Jones—"Why, he came in and jumped in the bed."

Mrs. Helms—"Well?"

Mrs. Jones—"The bed wasn't there."

Irate Passenger—"Madam, what do you mean by letting your child snatch off my wig?"

Mother (with a sigh of relief)—"Oh, it's a wig, is it? I was afeared fur a minute that he's scalpt ye alive."

The easiest job in the world is the one most grievously neglected — attending to your own business.

Phyllis—"Daddy, John asked me to marry him, but I told him I couldn't leave mother."

Father (brightly)—"That's all right, my dear. Take her with you."

The man who says "I run things at home," usually refers to the lawn mower, washing machines, vacuum sweeper and errands.

Diner—"I see that tips are forbidden here."

Waitress—"So was apples in the Garden of Eden."

Employer—"I want you to prove your power as a salesman. Just sell that gentleman some of those cigars."

Salesman—"But I sold him some of them last week."

Employer — "I know, but selling them to him again is where the real test of a salesman is going to come in."

We might have better times right away if people would stop using their money for everything by paying debts.

Doctor—"When the symptoms first appeared did your teeth chatter?"

Patient—"I don't know they were on the table."

According to a child specialist, school children really do not need a yearly vacation. Maybe not, but their teachers do.

Colic Pains

"I found that BABY'S OWN TABLETS relieve colic pains almost at once", writes Mrs. Mildred Noddin, Long Creek, N.B. Many other Mothers report equally happy benefits from giving their children these Tablets.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS are recommended by Mothers for teething troubles, upset stomach, indigestion, colic, simple fevers, constipation.

There is no need for YOUR child to suffer. BABY'S OWN TABLETS can be given with absolute safety—see analyst's certificate in each 25c package.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

All Souls Night

Fetch the candles! Make a light!
Let it search the growing gloom!
Shadows are abroad to-night—
They shall enter every room.

This is the time for silence. Draw your chair
Close to the hearth! The fragrant birchen log
Smolders and shows a glowing eye.
The dog
Lies stretched out motionless, save when with hair

Bristling along his back he cocks an ear
To leaves that brush against the window frame
Like tapping fingers of lost souls who came
From far-off regions, begging entrance here

Draw close your chair! The guttering candles throw
Strange shadows on the walls, and with the rain
Come voices as of lost souls in their pain—
So was it in the time of Odilo.

Snuff the candles! Seek your bed!
Down upon your bended knees!
As Saint Odilo once prayed,
Pray you for the souls of these!
—F. L. Montgomery.

Countrywoman

Her heart was bred by calm and gracious things:
Humbled before the gentleness of trees,
Made still by wind and rain and rising wings.
Her dream was fashioned by the least of these
She knows the secret of the small cocoon,
Design of corn and pattern of the ferns,
The stately beauty of the harvest moon
That like a bright wheel on the mountain turns.

Cities will beckon, bells will bid her pass,
Torches will flame among the lofty towers,
But from her mind, as in a crystal glass,
Will rise the little ghost of forest flowers.
She needs no guile of art; around her stand,
Unseen, the leafy regions of her land.
—Florence Ripley Mastin, in the New York Times.

Treasure Yield Expected From Ship Sunk in 1678

Cape Town, South Africa—Silver bars, ivory and cases of Chinese porcelain, hundreds of years old, may be the reward of salvage experts who are starting work on the wreck of the East India trading ship Haarlem II, sunk in Table Bay in 1678.

For what is believed to be the first time in salvage operations, a dredge will be employed. The wreck is only twelve feet below the surface, but lies so deep in sand that divers cannot get at it. The dredge will first clear the ground. After that little difficulty is expected.

Records show that the Chinese porcelain carried by the Haarlem II was tightly packed in cases, and hopes are entertained that it may be found intact. Sea water does not affect porcelain.

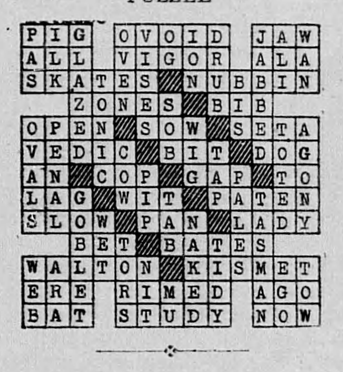
ANSWER TO LAST WEEK'S PUZZLE



65 Courses Are Offered By School of Pedagogy

New York—The Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences' School of Pedagogy will offer sixty-five extension courses during the 1932-'33 season, according to an announcement made recently.

The purposes of the school are fourfold. First, it provides a means of culture and professional study; second, it brings the work of the university, the college and of the professional schools within the reach of teachers in the public and private schools; third, it furnishes teachers desirous of promotion or advance licenses for teaching an opportunity to prepare for such examinations as the Department of Education of the city may announce.

Australian Train World's Slowest?

Adelaide, S. Aust.—Long distances rather than sensational speeds are the outstanding accomplishments of Australian trains, which have to span a continent. But the Commonwealth has some claim to the slowest train in the world, in one which travels from Port Augusta, South Australia, to Kalgoorlie, Western Australia, and back—a total mileage of 2100 taking two weeks over the round trip. Still, there is really no hurry necessary; all that is needed is regularity.

This train is called the "tea and sugar train" and is so named because it transports domestic supplies to settlers along the east to west transcontinental route. To them it is a vital link with far-off capitals on both sides of Australia.

With it goes Mr. William Cowan who is described as the East-West undenominational missioner, and whose diocese embraces the whole sweep of desert country beyond Port Augusta to the bzorders of Kalgoorlie, and the little communities en route Mr. Cowan distributes hundreds of newspapers, enabling the lonely settlers to keep contact with the far-off cities.

Power dwells with cheerfulness, hope puts us in a working mood, while despair is no muse and untunes the active power.—R. W. Emerson.

Source of Cosmic Ray Exists in Stratosphere

Brussels.—King Albert heard Professor Auguste Piccard tell the story of his recent voyage into the stratosphere.

Addressing a scientific gathering, the professor declared he had established that the source of cosmic rays is in the stratosphere, although the origin of this radio-activity still is a matter of mystery.

Discovery of the cosmic ray's origin will enable mankind to produce greater energy than has ever been known, Professor Auguste Piccard, famous for his balloon flights into the stratosphere, said recently.

Professor Piccard detailed his last flight before an audience which included King Albert and the entire Belgian diplomatic corps.
