Song From the Ship

To sea, to sea! The calm is o'er;
The wanton water leaps in sport,
And rattles down the pebbly shore;
The dolphin wheels, the sea-cows snort,
And unseen Mermaids' pearly song
Comes bubbling up, the weeds among.
Fling broad the sail, dip deep the oar:
To sea, to sea! The calm is o'er.

To sea, to sea! our wide-winged bark
Shall billowy cleave its sunny way,
And with its shadow, fleet and dark,
Break the caved Triton's azure day,
Like mighty eagle soaring light
O'er antelopes on Alpine height.
The anchor heaves, the ship swings free,
The sails swell full. To sea, to sea!
—Thomas Lovell Beddoes. "Poems".

Owl Laffs

Faith without works is about as useless as a watch without wheels.

The score was tied and two minutes to play. Any second now the ball would be snapped back for that last, all-important attempt. The crowd was spellbound, breathlessly counting the seconds. Would he make that final floal kick which meant victory and honor?

"Let's go now and avoid that terrible jam," she said.

She never knew what hit her.

If it's true that the good die young, this present generation ought to be here for quite a long time yet.

James—"The same as you do."

"He gives me a pain in the neck," says Jones, "this man from India who hasn't spoken a word for several years. Gosh, I've been married twice that long."

On one very rare occasion an enthusiastic golfer arrived home for dinner. During the meal his wife said:

The great trouble with the man who says he only wants a moment of one's time is that he knows not how time flies.

"Two dozen loaves, please," demanded the zoo keeper.

"Are you having a party?" asked the grocer in amazement.

"No," replied the keeper, "the kangaroo kicked the elephant, and I want to make a bread poultice for him."

"That young man stayed very late again, Edith."

"Yes, papa, I was showing him my picture postcards."

"Well, the next time he wants to stay late, show him some of my electric light bills."

The high stepper is more apt to stub his toe than the fellow who shuffles along. Most of the troubles of the young folks are not mental, but temperamental. Once a boy is engaged, his big worry is that she'll change her mind before he can change her name. There is one nice thing about a party telephone and that is that there is some one to answer the call or listen. A real angel is not always trying to make you believe he is a real angel. It's funny about a fellow getting more health out of the game he plays for fun, instead of for his health.

Agatha—"But doesn't your husband have any hobby?"

Agnes—"Oh, yes; he's always trying to comb his hair over the bald spot."

ANSWER TO LAST WEEK'S PUZZLE

Canadian Pine Valuable Wood

There are nine distinct pine species native to Canada, of which six are of great commercial importance. Eastern white pine is the most valuable coniferous wood in Canada. Up to a few years ago it was the most important in point of quantity exported, but recently there has been a relative scarcity. The Western white pins is similar in most respects to the Eastern species but does not form extensive pure stands. It is confined to the Province of British Columbia. The red or Norway pine of Eastern Canada is harder and more resinous than the white pine, and the tree is a valuable source of structural timber as well as of sawn lumber. The Western yellow or "bull" pine of the interior of British Columbia is softer and lighter in color than the red pine, and is now extensively used as a substitute for white pine.

There are three hemlock species in Canada's forests, two of which are valuable timber trees. The Eastern Lemlock is abundant throughout its range in the Eastern Provinces, but is not found west of the Province of Ontario. The wood is chiefly used for construction, especially in house-framing. It supplies the demand for a cheap, strong material for many purposes, including poles, mining timber, pulpwood and firewood, and its bark is a valuable source of tannin. The Western hemlock is found in Canada only in the Province of British Columbia, and is becoming more valuable each year as its qualities are better appreciated. The Western species is used more extensively than the Eastern in pulp manufacture.

There are only two species of the genus commonly called cedar in Canada. They are both of great commercial importance, each in its own region as their ranges do not overlap. The wood of the cedars is the most durable coniferous wood grown in the Dominion. The Eastern tree, white cedar, is found from the Atlantic to the south-east part of Manitoba. Cedar is preferred to all other native woods for shingles and for all structural work exposed to moisture, enormous quantities being used for poles and fence posts. The Westerr red cedar is one of the giants of the Pacific coast, being surpassed in size only by the Douglas fir. Its wood is made into shingles to a greater extent than any other wood in Canada, and it is also sawn into lumber.

Texas Supplies Most Mohair

Lubbock, Tex.—Texas produced 31 per cent of the United States mohair clip in 1929, according to an analysis of the 1930 census completed by Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, head of the department of agricultural economies at Texas Technological College. Sixty-five per cent of the nation's goats and kids are in Texas.

"A great deal that is most important in newspapers is unfortunately read only by a very few."—Nicholas Murray Butler.

HAD RHEUMATISM FOR 20 YEARS

But None Since 1930

This man must have something like a record for suffering. He says:—"since 1910 up to 1930 — that is 20 years—I have been a great sufferer with rheumatism. I am glad to say that since 1930 up to date, I have been free from that dreadful pain, simply by taking Kruschen Salts—and nothing else. I must say that 20 years is a long time to have that awful rheumatic pain about one."—W. P.

Your rheumatism is just like his and everyone else's. It is caused by sharp-edged uric acid crystals getting into your joints. Kruschen will dissolve those crystals away. Furthermore—if you keep up the "little daily dose" ever afterwards, it will never be possible for them to form again. Rheumatism will be gone for good.

FREE TRIAL OFFER

If you have never tried Kruschen—try it now at our expense. We have distributed a great many special "GIANT" packages which make it easy for you to prove our claims for yourself. Ask your druggist for the new "GIANT" 75c. package.

This consists of our regular 75c. bottle together with a separate trial bottle—sufficient for about one week. Open the trial bottle first, put it to the test, and then, if not entirely convinced that Kruschen does everything we claim it to do, the regular bottle is still as good as new. Take it back. Your druggist is authorised to return your 75c. immediately and without question. You have tried Kruschen free, at our expense. What could be fairer? Manufactured by E. Griffiths Hughes, Ltd., Manchester, Eng. (Estab. 1756). Importers: McGillivray Bros., Ltd., Toronto.

Do You Know?

That at Kettle Point, Ontario, on the shore of Lake Huron, stones which are known locally as "kettles" break through the ground like a mushroom and harden only after exposed to the air and daylight? The size of these "kettles" which are strewn all over the beach at this point is shown by comparing it with the child standing on one.

London's Beauty

Is London beautiful? Not at all in the sense in which Paris is beautiful, i.e. on account of its splendidly laid-out streets and "places" and the unity of style in its chief thoroughfares. Paris has a classic beauty which no one can deny, London's beauty is like the face of a Rembrandt portrait; it looks beautiful without being so. London gets its beauty from the climate, the light and, above all, the mist; it is barely the same for two days, nay two hours, together, and is at its unloveliest in "lovely" weather. You get the most marvellous sunsets in the world on the river, lighting up with a magical radiance the masts and warehouses and bridges that pierce the misty sky. Rain and mist, the sky signs, the trains puffing out steam as they roll by, the many-colored reflections of a thousand lights on the asphalt are among the ingredients of London's beauty, and the soot that blackens every building, leaving only the turrets and domes standing out in their whiteness, the red of the innumerable buses against the grey of the streets, the flickering acetylene lamps in the street markets help to complete the picture. —From "England, the Unknown Isle," by Paul Cohen-Portheim. Translated by Alan Harris.

"Size does not constitute value."—Canon Lindsay Dewar.

Weak After Flu and Pneumonia

Joseph English is Well and Strong After Taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to Rebuild Health

"I feel we practically owe my brother's life to the benefit obtained from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," writes Doris English of Fort Langley, B.C. "My brother took the 'flu' and, getting a chill, contracted pneumonia, which later developed into an abscess on the lung. After an operation and a long siege of illness, he was so thin and weak he was a sight. He had no appetite for food, and we weren't given much encouragement that he would recover. However, we found Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as good as they were advertised. From the beginning of the treatment there was a marked improvement. He soon had a good appetite, and his face took on a healthy color. He gained weight from the first. To-day he is well and strong, and hopes others may benefit from this wonderful remedy as he did."

Gained From The Start

Whatever the cause of a run-down condition of health, use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They create new red blood, which revitalizes the whole system and builds up new energy and vigor. For that reason they are equally good for young, growing girls. Get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the new glass containers from your druggist. 50c a package.
