Serious Runaway

An accident of a terrible nature occurred in this village on Friday evening last which has cast a gloom over the whole community, when little Jimmy Wilson, the 6 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Wilson, received what was for some time considered a fatal injury from a run-away horse. A team driven by a young man named Robert Thompson, east back line, was returning from the station after the 5 p. m. train, and on the outskirts of the village attempted to pass the 'bus. The driver says a line dropped from his hand and with the other line he steered the now frantic team into a telegraph pole, where neck yoke, lines and double tree were broken. One of the animals came uptown at a wild pace and in front of the barber shop took to the sidewalk. Two little girls, Hazel Thompson and Maudie Mcdonald, were with Jimmie Wilson in front of the bakeshop when the animal came tearing down upon them, and before they could get away the beast's hoof struck the little boy behind the ear, breaking his skull in a terrible manner. The effusion of blood was frightful. The poor little fellow was picked up and carried the few doors to his own home. and a doctor was at hand in a few minutes, but the case was considered hopeless. A consultation of three doctors was held later, including Dr. McWilliams of Dundalk. They entertained no hope. The little sufferer regained consciousness, however, and has since appeared to be holding his own, in fact to rather improve. On Monday Dr. Bingham, a specialist of Toronto, came up and examined the little patient. He found it unnesessary to perform an operation and gave the cheering information that there was strong probability a complete recovery would result. Jimmy is a bright, good natured and well mannered little boy, and being an only son his loss would have been a heavy blow to the fond parents and their many sympathetic friends. Many a prayer went up for the little lad's safe return from the borders of the spirit land, and it looks now as though these prayers will be granted.

The animal which inflicted this injury came within an ace of seriously hurting several other persons. Mr. T. Pallister was knocked down by the brute as it passed the crossing at Boyd & Hickling's store. After taking a circle of a couple of blocks it brought up at Munshaw's shed. It created enough excitement and injury to last this town a lifetime.

Priceville

For a few miles east and west there has been fair sleighing during the past week and was much appreciated by those having logs, timber, etc. to haul.

On March 1st our citizens heard with regret that Mrs. M. McIntyre had passed away, She had been prostrated with la grippe some years ago and catarrh of the stomach was an after result which terminated her life. The deceased lady was born in Wellington county 55 years ago and after marriage lived in Egremont for some time and 18 years ago Mr. and Mrs McIntyre and family became residents of our village. The funeral an the 3rd was largely attended and proceeded from the residence on Artemesia St. to the Presbyterian church where Rev. J. A. Matheson her pastor delivered a sermon from Rev. 14 13, assisted by Rev, W. F. Roach, Methodist. Both pastors spoke feelingly of the life of deceased as one worthy of imitation, having assurance of eternal life and bearing her afflictions and troubles with heroic christian patience. Interment took place in the cemetry one mile west of village. The bereaved family consist of husband, two sons and four daughters who feel the loss of a beloved wife and mother.

Mr. Jesse Boaks, son of Robert Boaks, of the township of King, who has been in the west for some time, visited friends here recently. His mot her died and he was removed to his late home when an infant and had never seen his maternal grandmother, Mrs. McKechnie, until this winter. The meeting of the aged, frail grandmother and the youthful grandson was very affectionate indeed.

Always Keeps Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in His House.

"We would not be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is kept on hand continually in our home," says W. W. Kearney, editor of the Independent, Lowry City, Mo. That is just what every family should do. When kept at hand ready for instant use, a cold may be checked at the outset and cured in much less time than after it has become settled in the system. This remedy is also without a peer for croup in children, and will prevent the attack when given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, which can only be done when the remedy is kept at hand. For sale by W. E. Richardson and W. J. Douglas.

Dr. Jakeway, a well known and highly esteemed resident of Stayner, was burned to death in his own stable recently. The Sun says: About half past ten last Thursday night, March 1st, Dr. Jakeway went to his stable to attend to his horse for the night, it being his custom to take care of his own driver. Shortly after the stable was discovered to be on fire and an alarm was sounded. The brigade responded promptly and the blaze was extinguished. Those who first assembled at the fire did not see the doctor and enquiries were made as to his wherabouts. His wife told them he had gone to the stable to feed the horse and that he must still be inside. The building was entered and the horse and entire contents removed but although the most courageous and determined efforts were made to enter the loft it was impossible to do so for some time. The lantern had evidently either exploded or been upset while the doctor was in the loft throwing down hay.

Mrs. Dillon, of Euphrasia, was last week paid the insurance money on the life of her deceased husband for which she brought suit against the New York Mutual Reserve Insurance Co. over four years ago. The company it will be remembered, refused to pay the money alleging that Mr. Dillon had knowingly witheld certain facts in his examination for insurance. Mrs. Dillon sued the company with the result that the jury rendered a verdict for the full amount together with costs. The company appealed the case but was again beaten. Not satisfied with the judgement they carried it to the Surrogate Court and then to the Supreme Court, the higher courts upholding the verdict of the jury in each instance. As a final resort the Mutual Reserve Company threatened to carry the case to the Privy Council but were advised by their solicitors to do nothing of the kind. Mrs. Dillon deserves great credit for her plucky fight against a company which, thinking she had not money to defend the case in the higher courts tried to freeze her out. Mr. I. B. Lucas of Markdale who conducted the case for Mrs. Dillon, is to be congratulated on the success which has attended his efforts as a lawyer.—Thornbury Herald.
