Industrial Home Notes

(By an Inmate)

Owing to an attack of sickness your cor. was unable to furnish his usual budget of news last week.

Now the days are long and warm, the furnace now may rest; and Billy S., the fireman, may snooze his very best. Billy is an old Jack Tar; to many lands he's been; across the seas both near and far; and rummy sights he's seen. True sailor-like, a yarn he'l spin; and draw the long bow back to ear, for all who seem to take 'em in, and they are very few, I fear. But now he's grown both gray and old, and stiffened are his legs; yet he manages to go aloft, and gather up the eggs.

Patrick Delaney, of Owen Sound, was admitted to the home on the 15th inst. He gives his age 75 but looks at least 15 years younger but says he is used up badly wid the rheumatiz. Says Patsy, Oi'm an Oirishman, in Wexford Oi was bor-rn, my daddy died soon after that and I was left forlor-rn. Oi kem out here when but a kid, and then me mammy died, thin Miss Forchune kicked me up and down, and thin from saide to soide. How ould am Oi? Be-gobs, Oi'm sivinty foive, next Candlemas, an' that's as thrue as Oi'm aloive. Oi lived in Owen Sound a spell and the Docther says, now Pat, if ye'll jest go down till Markdale ye'll soon get sthrong and fat; that may be so, but Oi'm very much in doubt, that Wexford Pat will ne'er get fat, till King Death knocks him out.

Miss Robinson, of the staff, has been at home for several days past, attending to her mother, Mrs. Henry Stone, who has been very ill. During Miss R's. absence the matron has only had one girl, and all the inmates who are able have been obliged to give his or her little assistance to get through the daily amount of work which must necessarily be performed.

Those of the old fellows who have good eyesight and nimble fingers have been employed as the spirit moved them in cutting seed potatoes in the barn, but none have collapsed from over fatigue. It was the intention to have the seed in the ground last week but other unfinished work and the sudden change in the weather on Saturday changed the program which, however will be carried out this week, weather permitting.

Messrs. Harry Harness, R. and H. Christie, of Owen Sound, were down on Wednesday of last week, trout fishing. They carried back with them a very nice catch of the speckled beauties. Mr. Christie, head of the firm came, down the following day and after finishing a job of plumbing in the house also tried his luck at the same sport and with good success. It was ideal fishing weather.

We are glad to announce that the matron has fully recovered from her recent severe illness. Although at the time of leaving her apartments a few days ago she looked far from ultimate recovery, yet a few days has made a wonderful change and she now looks and feels in splendid health.

A large crowd are expected in Markdale on Victoria Day, and as it falls on the regular visiting day at the House of Refuge, doubtlessly a large number will avail themselves of being shown through the Orphanage. We hope the weather will be propitious for a day of solid enjoyment for all.

Old dame Kriezer is growing discontented again; she tried to slip away on Saturday last, but she was observed and brought back shaking her fist viciously. The poor old woman is hardly able to waddle and scarcely responsible for her actions.

A Fish Yarn

(WRITTEN FOR THE ADVANCE)

A young lad and lassie went fishing one day,
But the lassie was shy, and the laddie was, too,
So the one to the other had little to say,
Still, with glances downcast the blue eyes spoke to blue,
But another young lad came along.

And the first angler noted, with many a frown,
As he watched, in amaze, the small maid by his side,
That, twixt glances downcast, the blue eyes spoke to brown.
And he mused "Girls are nice but they soon let you slide,
For they're just about 'sslippery as eels."

But the lad older grew and in manhood's estate
Was considered the "Catch" of the season; so nets
Were outspread, with the meshes of smiles, and then, Fate,
When entangled as many a poor sucker gets
On the shores of the benedicts landed him,

Then the world was rose-tinted, the skies azure hued,
And good Cupid was smiling as he hovered near,
While they basked in the sunlight of love, till imbued
With such joy, that e'en Paradise seemed to be here;
For they both were as happy as clams.

But the house-keeping proved not such heavenly bliss
As it once had been hoped by this jubilant boy,
For the lassie found often that things went amiss,
And then both of them learned, with more sorrow than joy,
There were sharks in this life's troubled sea.

When the years sped, the man no more time in sport spent,
Yet the lady ne'er gave up her pastime of yore;
If she extra cash wanted, a-fishing she went
Into pockets, as soon as she heard her lord snore;
For the lobster ne'er thought to wake up.

Eugenia

Born—At Eugenia, May 15 to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Williams, a son.

Mr. W. H. Fenwick and son, Master Stanley, of Toronto, were visitors at Mr. Henry Fenwick's for a few days the past week. Mr. Fenwick came up for a catch of the speckled beauties, as the Beaver is yielding a plentiful supply.

Miss Down of Euphrasia was a visitor at Mr. Fred Pedlar's of Summer Hill, recently.

Miss Maggie Armstrong of Heathcote spent a short time visiting her parents at Eugenia recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cairns of Ceylon were visitors at Mr. Hogg's of Fern Villa, the past week.

Mr. Roger of Orillia assisted Mr. Thom at Sunday morning service at Eugenia. His discourse was listened to with great interest, as Mr. Roger is still a general favourite with the Eugenia people. A very cordial welcome was extended to him by all his old friends.

Mr. Smith of Caledon East is the guest of his brother, Mr. A. Smith of Eugenia.

Mrs. Robertson of Carluke is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Deagle.

Mr. Wesley Latimer and brother, W.J. and wife, are visiting at the parental home.

Mr. and Mrs. Latimer, sr., visited their daughter, Mrs. Dunlop of Griersville, for a few days.

Miss Lily Graham, who has been a resident of San Francisco for some time and passed through all the horrors of that dreadful fire and earthquake, has got safely home to her parents in the valley and seems nothing the worse for all she has gone through. She lost a great many of her belongings. A friend dragged her trunk fourteen blocks to escape from the fire. No one seemed to mind as long as their lives were saved.

Farmers are through seeding now; the root crop is in force. After that they can go picnicing for a week and enjoy a well earned rest until haying time comes. The man behind the plow is better off than the woman with duster and broom. Her work is never done.

Mrs. D. McMullen has had a barn built. Mr. John Whitten had the contract. She has also had a wire fence put up all around her pretty home, adding greatly to its appearance.

Mr. Munshaw is having a great deal of interior improvements done to his already commodious hotel, by putting in lavatory and bath, and a great many other useful things for the convenience of his guests.

Work on the mountain is expected to start again this week.

Sciatica Cured After Twenty Years of Torture.

For more than twenty years Mr. J. B. Massey, of 4322 Clinton St., Minneapolis, was tortured by sciatica. The pain and suffering which he endured during this time is beyond comprehension. Nothing gave him any permanent relief until he used Chamberlains Pain Balm. One application relieved the pain and made sleep and rest possible, and less than one bottle effected a permanent cure. If troubled with sciatica or rheumatism why not try a 25-cent bottle of Pain Balm and see for yourself how quickly it relieves the pain. For sale by W. E. Richardson and H. L. Douglass,

It Is Dangerous to Neglect a Cold.

How often do we hear it remarked: "It's only a cold," and a few days later learn that the man is on his back with pneumonia. This is of such common occurrence that a cold, however slight, should not be disregarded. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and has gained its great popularity and extensive sale by its prompt cures of this most common ailment. It always cures and is pleasant to take. For sale by W. E. Richardson and H. L. Douglass.
