Priceville Fall Fair

Priceville fall fair, held on Friday last, was very successful in almost every respect. The crowd was somewhat larger than last year, and as a consequence the receipts were also in advance. They would need to be, because the directors this year went to large expense in securing entertainment and instruction for their guests, and admittedly succeeded in this respect. The Stalker sisters of Acton, 9 and 11 years of age, Scottish dancers, attracted much attention. They were accompanied by Mr. P. McArthur on the bagpipes. Flesherton band also rendered a choice variety of music throughout the afternoon and evening. The concert hall in the evening was crowded to the doors to hear a splendid concert put on by the directors with choice imported talent.

The exhibition was opened by H. H. Miller, M. P., of Hanover, who delivered a short address along patriotic lines, after which he pronounced the show open. At this juncture a portion of the grand stand collapsed, precipitating some of the band boys to the ground. None were seriously hurt, but some of the horns were damaged. As tumblers the boys are graceful in their evolutions and as a first act after the raising of the curtain this event created considerable applause.

As for the show proper it was fully up to any former event. The live stock was especially good and the inside exhibit was very fine indeed. The crowd throughout the afternoon was very orderly and apparently enjoyed themselves, with the air at a proper temperature for enjoyment. The rain held off very accommodatingly until evening when a steady drizzle set in which lasted for many hours, but the Artemesia show was an event of the past and was, fortunately, not affected.

Osprey Fall Fair

Osprey fall fair, held on Thursday of last week, was another record-breaker, the gate receipts running up to $278.40. The day was not of the best, either. It rained in the afternoon, but not enough to make things very disagreeable. This show, as we have before remarked, is one of the growing kind. It does not stand still, and is of a purely agricultural nature, too, without any frills to draw the crowd. It is a plain, every-day agricultural exhibition, gives good prizes (improving in this regard year by year also) and the people show things. We doubt if the stock exhibit this year could be beaten north of Guelph. It was one of the best we ever saw for a country show. The inside exhibit of roots and vegetables was also up to the mark, notwithstanding a poor season, and the fruit exhibit was superb. Everything went off in an orderly manner with the exception of one small unpleasantness created by some of Collingwood's scum which had floated up to the fair with a bottle in its pocket and a desire to "do up" somebody. He was not run in, but he should have been.

Flesherton was well represented, as it always is. Dundalk band supplied the music.

The concert at night drew a crowded house, the receipts being $127.60. Total receipts for the fair amounted to $406.00. Following is the prize list:
