Messrs. Alex. Carruthers, R. McMullen and Fred Walton succeeded in capturing a bear of the female persuasion on Saturday last out at what is known as the "four corners" where the four townships, Euphrasia, Collingwood, Osprey and Artemesia, meet. They tracked the animal for some distance and brought it to bay with dogs. It was an old animal and very poor, weighing only 130 lbs. Madame Bruin was shipped to Toronto.

The snow which fell the fore part of last week, some eight or nine inches, created considerable havoc in the fruit orchard throughout this county. Very little of the winter fruit had been picked and the weight of snow on fruit and leaves broke down many of the trees. In the north part of the county some large fruit raisers are very heavy losers. The snow only lasted a couple of days, however, and lovely fall weather has followed.

The Mission Band of the Methodist church gave a "brown" social on Friday evening last which was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by those present. Everything was brown, from decorations to eatables. There was a guessing contest and a neat program consisting of a solo by Miss Irene Wilson, duet by Misses Lillian and Laura Armstrong, duet by Misses Lillian Bunt and Leona Thompson, and readings by Miss Ella Karstedt and Miss Wass. The collection amounted to over four dollars, and with the opening of the mite boxes the receipts were eelven dollars.

On Sunday last a certain clergymen took occasion to decry the reading of secular papers on Sunday. During the same discourse he undertook to draw a lesson from the Ontario Bank difficulty and the recent storm, so destructive on orchards. The lay mind would like to take a peep behind the scene and discover if that good clergyman refreshed his memory Sunday morning on these topics, which have taken up so much space in our dailies for the past week? In any event they would like to have the moral difference between reading about these things and hearing of them from the pulpit pointed out. There may be a difference but the ordinary mind cannot grasp it.

A new store erected this summer by Harry Heitman, jr., of Feversham, was burned to the ground early Saturday morning last. The building was not ready for occupation. Mr. Heitman was at Collingwood getting glass for the building when the fire occurred. A store house at the rear, 20x30, was also destroyed, and the Salvation Army building suffered considerably. This was certainly a clear case of incendiarism and it is a great pity the perpetrator could not be discovered. Mr. Heitman is a young man just entering business life and the blow will be severe, as, of course there was no insurance. Much sympathy is expressed for him, but sympathy alone is poor consolation for such a loss.

THE GIPSY'S SECRET

This is the title of a drama to be given in the town hall on the evening of October 25 under the auspices of South Grey teacher's convention. The cast of characters includes a round dozen of Flesherton's most talented foot light artists and the drama is said to be a good one. There are four acts, as follows: 1—The George Washington, a country tavern. An impromptu wedding. 2—Lovers' leap, Blue mountain precipice, A daring rescue. 3—The Courtleigh place plantation mansion. A woman's folly. 4—A mountain studio. A painter's paradise. An affair of honor. Tickets of admission are placed at 25 cents. The funds go to the South Grey Teacher's Association. Crowd the hall.

Richardson—Pritchard

A very pretty event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Pritchard of Vandeleur on Wednesday evening, Oct. 10, when their eldest daughter, Sarah E., was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Robert Richardson of Flesherton. The bride, who was beautifully attired in white silk trimmed with embroidered point d'esprit and lace, carried a bouquet of white asters, entered the parlor leaning on the arm of her father, while Mendellsohn's March was played by Miss H. Irwin of Markdale. Miss Mary Pritchard, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid. She was also becomingly attired in pale blue silk trimmed with allover lace and carried a bouquet of pink asters. Little Miss Edna Holley was prettily gowned in white silk trimmed with lace and ribbon and acted as flower girl. Mr. W. Richardson, brother of the groom, ably supported the groom. The ceremony, which took place under an arch of green and white decorated with bells, was performed by Rev. Dr. Caldwell of Flesherton. After congratulations, about eighty guests partook of a dainty wedding supper. The bride was the recipient of many costly and useful presents. We congratulate the youug couple on the prospect of a christian and useful career. They will take up their residence at Flesherton.

Even the dry work of examiners who overlook the papers of students is occasionally lightened by subjects which relieve the monotony of the task. Recently while scanning the papers of a student not more than a thousand miles from Shelburne, who was writing on his second class non-professional examination, the examiners came across a new theory in his paper on "Physical Geography." "We have reason to believe," wrote the learned student, "the first man was a one celled being. To meet changing conditions he advanced through stage after stage into a monkey. Being of a rather lethargic temperment, he wore his tail off sitting down too much; wore the hair off his back leaning against trees, and acquired the habit of speech to meet the condi tion of finding fault with the Govt."—Economist.
