Industrial Home Notes

(By an Inmate)

John Campbell, the aged inmate admitted on the 9th inst. passed away about 5.30 a. m. Tuesday the 20th inst. The old man was 87 years of age, very feeble and totally blind. On the 9th he was driven from his home in Egremont, a distance of twenty-eight of thirty miles, and it being a cold, raw, damp day no doubt the poor old man got chilled throughout his whole system. Two days later he took to his bed from which he never again arose. On Wednesday morning Rev. Mr. Sheppard held a short funeral service over the remains in the presence of the inmates assembled in the serice room after which undertaker Chapman conveyed the remains to Markdale cemetry for interment. Shortly after the old man's death, the manager phoned to his relatives as to what ccurse was to be pursued with regard to the corpse and received word to bury him here decently. The old gentleman leaves a son and daughter reported to be in fairly good circumstance, and Mr. Harness probably inferred from the tenor of their reply that they would at least bear the expense of the funeral and consequently held the matter in abeyance pending further instructions. However, none being received, Mr. H. again phoned next morning asking if they intended taking charge of the remains and received for an answer that they wanted nothing to do with it, just bury him the same as any other inmate. This seems very hard coming as it did from his own flesh and blood, truly may be quoted Tom Moore's lines

"Breathe not his name, let it lie in the shade,
For cold and unhonored, his relics are laid."

John Cameron, who was discharged at his own request at the expiration of his time in November last, was re-admitted on the 15th inst. John found some light employment for last winter and managed to get along until return of poor health forced him to return to the home. He would not likely have returned had his old job been open this winter, but the work will not be in operation this winter owing to the scarcity of men. John was not, however, destined to remain here long. A party came the day after his arrival and offered him a home and light employment as long as he wished to stay with them. He accepted the offer and the party returned on Tuesday last and took him away bag and baggage. John was a model inmate while here, honest, straightforward and truthful and enjoyed the confidence of the governor and matron for which he received the ill-will of a few of the inmates, but, —John brought a good character with him when he first came here and carried with him, when he left, an equally good recommendation and we trust that good health will be his portion and that he will never again be under the necessity of returning to the House of Refuge.

Messrs. Christy Bros., plumbers, of Owen Sound, with their apprentice, Harry Harness, are busily engaged making the much needed alterations to the sewage and water pipes, to prevent their future freezing up, which has caused so much trouble in the past.

The first move towards beautifying the grounds in front of the house was commenced last week. The road grader was engaged grading a 14-foot driveway from the road, terminating in a circular driveway immediately in front of the house. We understand the roadbed will consist of small or broken stone substantially covered with fine gravel. Each side will be boulevarded, and the inside of the circular driveway will be laid out in flower beds. Three or four rods to the south of this driveway a similar road, minus the circle, has been graded as an independent road to the barn from the gravel road. We do not know whether or not anything further will be done this season. Mr. John Davis of Flesherton suburbs manipulated the grader.

The quotation from Tom Hood's lines, "Rattle his bones," etc., which appeared in a recent issue of The Advance, in connection with the funeral of the late Mrs. Smith, may possibly have been misconstrued by some (and we have reason to think such to be the case) to be a reflection on the institution and its management. If such be the case your cor. desires to say that any such intention was never for a moment conceived. The thought emanated from the fact that we have known several instances wherein relatives of deceased inmates have totally ignored the poor unfortunates rather than strain a muscle to pay them the last christian tribute. Your cor., in referring to the institution and management, has always spoken of it in the highest terms, except the facilities afforded in cases of severe sickness, especially previous to death, when proper attendance is totally inadequate. With regard to the spiritual welfare of the inmates, that duty rests entirely on the goodness of the manager. Paragraph 12 of the rules and regulations state that the inmates shall assemble themselves in the service room for divine worship, clean and with clean apparel, and that order shall be maintained, etc., etc. Yet there is no provision made, so far as I ever knew, for a clergyman of any denomination to officiate at such service. Again, there are others where a clergyman and, if I remember aright, an organist, receive some remuneration for their services on the Sabbath day, and perhaps for each funeral. Were it not for the christian feeling and the spiritual interest of our superintendent we ask how often would the inmates of this institution meet for divine worship, or where would be the use for paragraph 12 of the rules and regulations governing this institution ?

Chapped Hands

Wash your hands with warm water, dry with a towel and apply Chamberlain's Salve just before going to bed, and a speedy cure is certain. This salve is also invaluable for sore nipples, itching piles and skin diseases. For sale by W. E. Richardson and H. L. Douglass.

Vandeleur

Clover threshing is the order of the day.

Mrs. J. Boland visited friends in Eugenia the past week.

Mr. Harry Douglass has returned home after an extended visit with friends in Owen Sound.

Mr. S. M. Osborne and family have moved into our neighborhood. We extend them a hearty welcome. We understand Mr. Osborne intends putting in a saw mill n the near future.

Mr. H. M. Douglass has been laid up with the measles for some time.

Mr. S. Osborne is finishing up the grain threshing in this neighborhoood this week.

Messrs. Kaake, of Duncan, and Woods and McMaster with their clover huller are making short work of the clover threshing in this vicinity.

Miss Annie Buchanan, of Oxmead, is visiting friends in this vicinity.

Mr S. Warling, of Port Law, and Mr. Wm. Richardson, of Chatsworth, visited at Mr. Geo. Warling's last week.

Mrs. Milligan, of Flesherton, spent Sunday with her brother Mr. W. Alcox.

Mr. Thomas Hathers, of Markdale, Sundayed with friends here.

In Time of Peace

In the first months of the Russia-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our greatest men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by W. E. Richardson and H. L. Douglass.

Kimberley

Mrs. Walter McKeown of Collingwood spent Sunday at Mr. J. R. Fawcett's.

Born—On Saturday, Oct. 27, to Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Stuart, a son.

Mr. Jasper Smart and Miss Norma McMullen of Eugenia spent Sunday at the latter's parental home in Meaford.

Miss Hattie Latter visited Collingwood friends recently and was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Jacob Camplin of that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cornfield of Grand Rapids, Mich., are the guests of the former's brother, Mr. Geo. Cornfield.

Mr. Everett McLean of Rockvale spent Sunday with friends here.

Mr. Thos. Soul and sister, Miss Rhoda, of Duncan, spent Sunday at Mr. R. D. Carruthers.

Mr. Stanley Ferguson of Priceville and Miss Eva Black of Thornbury will compose the teaching staff of our school for 1907. Both are holders of second class certificates with honors. Should the new staff prove to be as successful as the retiring one our school will certainly continue to be in a prosperous condition.

Miss L. McConnell is the guest of her cousin, Miss Priscillia McKnight of Epping.

Mrs. George Proctor was the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. McLean of Rocklyn during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. George McCartney and baby, of St. Vincent, visited friends here during the past week.

Mr. Victor Flint visited Epping friends on Sunday last.

Mrs. Richard Fawcett visited Meaford friends last week.

Feversham

Mr. John Paul, who has been confined to the house for a couple of weeks with an attack of lumbago, is improving nicely.

Mrs. Geo Ottewell is gradually recovering from an unusually severe attack of typhoid.

The brickwork on Heitman's new store is almost completed.

The damage done to the Salvation Army barracks by the recent fire has been repaired.

A professional call from a distance of 2,000 miles is something in the career of most medical men. Dr. Park left on Friday last to visit a patient at Indian Head, Sask. Dr. Paget, of Elora, has taken charge of Dr. Park's practice until his return.

Portlaw

Mr. Francis Shire met with a severe accident by falling from an apple tree, sustaining the fracture of a number of ribs. As a result he has been confined to his bed for some time and under a doctor's care, but is now in a fair way to recovery.

We understand that a happy event took place on the fourth line on Wednesday last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher, when their eldest daughter, Miss Mamie, was united in marriage to Mr. James Pedlar. Particulars elsewhere in this issue.

Mrs. W. H. McNally has arrived home after visiting her parents in Manitoba.

Mrs. S. Warling visited her sister at Berkeley lately.

Mr. Jeffreys and Mr. Dinsmore of Toronto were in this vicinity hunting and were the guests of Mr. James Cornfield.

Rev. Dr. Caldwell preached in Mount Zion church Sunday last and dispensed sacrament.

Inspector Campbell visited our school lately. He varied his usual program by discussing with the trustees the provisions of the amended School Act, and regarding necessary equipment. He also intimated that the erection of a new schoolhouse was a question that must be considered in the near future.

The R. T. of T., whose meetings were withdrawn during the revival services, held two interesting meetings the past two Thursday nights. They are looking forward to a visit, shortly, from one of the grand officers.

Miss Stafford has her pupils in training for an entertainment to be given on Thursday evening, Dec. 20.

How to Dress well

We cannot all be judges of clothes but anyone can tell whether or not his clothes "wear to look well" and we pin our faith on this ability of yours to distinguish between the wearing qualities of Sovereign Brand Clothing and any inferior articles; we're after particular, careful men and we're reaching them through their pockets and our excellence. Nothing goes out under Sovereign Brand that isn't first class and a step nearer perfection than anything you have seen in clothing.

Men's Suits 4.50 to 14.00
Men's Overcoats 4.75 to 13.50

The Average Boy

Will "put through" more clothes than the entire rest of the family. We would not have them different but we wish sometimes that their clothes might be. The wearing quality of the material put in our boys' suits is such that it will make them "go some" to wear them out in any reasonable length of time.

Boys' suits 1.50 to 7.00, Boys overcoats 4.25 to 6.50

Underwear

For anything you require in Underwear, we can show you a complete range in every line. We are sole agents for the famous Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear for men and women. Don't try the "just as good" kind—get the best.

Shoes

It takes all kinds of people to make a world and all kinds of shoes to please them. The immense shoe stock we carry and our forethought in buying months ago enables us to fit your feet to your entire satisfaction, no matter what size they are. Our leading lines such as the King Quality, Empress, Economic, F. J. Weston & Son and the McCready have the wearing qualities and the fit and distinction that makes them so popular.
