The third report of the Hydro-Electric power commission, just to hand, deals with the waterpowers of the Georgian Bay and Lake Huron district. In this report Eugenia falls is credited with a minimum horsepower of only about 1100, while according to the engineer who made a most complete report on this power, Mr. Von Schon, an average of a little over 4000 horsepower can be developed. The commission combines this power for its purpose with that of the Severn river north of Orillia, to serve the towns in the Georgian Bay district. A peculiarity of the report is that while it gives figures and data covering cost of Eugenia power delivered at Dundalk and Shelburne, it does not refer in any manner to Flesherton or Markdale, which are both close to the source of developement, and more directly interested in the success of this developement.

The Burks Falls Arrow says: During the two weeks of the hunting season, four hundred hunters went down the Magnetawan River by the Armour and Wanita, also 125 hounds and 430 pieces of baggage. And these 400 hunters brought back with them over 615 deer—the largest number ever secured in one season and brought up the river on the boats.

George Brown, an old man who was returning from Manitoba to reside with his daughter at Guelph, fell off a train between North Bay and Powassan. He was brought to the latter place and taken charge of by the Company's doctor, who dressed a scalp wound. The physician took him to a boarding house and left him there to have dinner. From the boarding house he wandered away, and the last seen of him was as he was wandering into a bush about a mile and a quarter from the village. The only trace that has been found of him was Mr. Nairn finding his cap a short distance from where he entered thousands of acres of bush. The train stopped at a siding a little on this side of Powassan to take water, and it is supposed that the old gentleman, who is 77 years of age, had stepped off there and received his injuries. The family have given up hope of finding him alive.

Address

One evening recently a number of members of the Presbyterian church, Flesherton, drove to the residence of Mr. John Chard, near Markdale, where a pleasant evening was spent. During the course of the evening the appended address was read and a dainty luncheon partaken of, Before parting the gather- heartily sang "God be with you till we meet again." The address was as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. John Chard:—

Dear Fiends,—Your removal from our midst has been sincerely felt by Chalmers Church, and especially in the Sabbath School where, as teachers, you rendered very faithful and efficient service. During your long connection with the school you have given a willing service and we believe not with the hope of earthly reward, but for the joy of service and the higher reward to be given in the hereafter to those who have labored in the Master's vineyard. We, however, feel that as a Sabbath School we cannot part with you without expressing our regret at your removal and giving some slight token of our affection and appreciation of you as as co-worker with us. We, therefore ask you to accept of this chair as a remembrance from from your sincere friends in Chalmers Church Sabbath School, who earnestly wish you and your family happiness and prosperity in your new home,

Signed in behalf of the School—

Chas. Stewart
Mrs. Bella Thom.

Eavesdropping

To the Editor of The Advance.

Dear Sir—Maxwell now enjoys the benefits of a telephone service which we deeply appreciate as it has proved itself highly satisfactory in most regards. Unfortunately some do not realize that it is exceedingly poor taste as well as against the rules to be eavesdropping. We trust it is due to ignorance that such persist in this exceedingly contemptible habit. If the same is not discontinued steps will be taken to prevent its recurrence. It is a pity that such a long needed convenience should be thus abused by those, who should, but do not apparently know better.
