Road Thoughts,

At a meeting held in Guelph recently A. W. Campbell, Deputy-Minister of Public Works, made the following statements:—"In the last ten years the residents of townships in the Province of Ontario have spent 10,510,900 days in statute labor. In the same time the township councils have expended $9.045,619 in cash on the making and repairs of public highways within their limits. In addition to this nearly $900,000 has been spent by the counties (one third of same being contributed by the Provincial Government) under what is commonly known as the good roads movement. This statement does not include the outlay by cities, towns, and villages, nor even the considerable sums spent by counties which are not taking advantage of the Government's good roads policy. Assuming that statute labor is worth a dollar a day, there has been expended through the township councils alone in labor and cash twenty million dollars, or two million a year, in the last ten years. And yet I venture to say that the roads of the Province are little better than they were at the beginning of that ten year period." Dealing with the preliminaries necessary to secure good roads, Mr. Campbell said:—"The first thing to do is to pass a by law fixing the width of highways within municipal judrisdiction. The next is to provide for the abolition of the statute labor, and the raising of the money necessary for the roads in the form of cash. The third is to provide for the appointment of a skilled officer, who will have supervision of all road building within the municipal limits." Since the passing of the good roads laws there has been spent by nine counties nearly $900,000, one third provided by the province. Of this amount Simcoe has spent $97, 938.91; Wentworth, $86, 800.25; Lanark, $30.159; Wellington, $17,843.70; Oxford, $17,678.27, Lincoln. $9,125.97; Middlesex, $7.141.36; Lennox and Addington, $6, 338.18, and Hastings $2, 438.75.

The hired man at Mr. Geo. Rutherford's, Loree, had a very narrow escape from being killed by lightning. While the family were at breakfast a current passed through the house, striking the hired man and partially paralyzing his arm and hand in which he held his fork. We learn that he is recovering from the effects and will probably not be disabled in any way.—Reflector.

A New Stevens Catalogue

We have just been informed that the J. Stevens Arms & Tool Co., Chicopee Falls, Mass., manufacturers of the popular Stevens Single Shot and Repeating Rifles, Shotguns, Pistols, Firearm accessories, etc., have issued a new 160 page catalogue.

This Book of Reference embraces detailed descriptions and illustrations of all Stevens goods and contains in addition, valuable and interesting pointers on the proper care and selection of Firearms, Shooting, Ammunition, etc.

The front cover is especially attractive and unique and original besides. It depicts, in appropriate colors, representatives of all nations shooting the universally popular Stevens models and makes a stirring "action picture." A number of the well-known Stevens Arms are faithfully produced in conjunctiou with this illustration.

We suggest that all interested in firearms—and what healthy, red-blooded American is not?—should send 5 cents in stamps (in order to cover postage), to the J. Stevens Arms & Tool Co., Chicopee Falls, Mass., for a copy of their latest attractive and exceedingly useful firearm catalogue.

Seven men have been arrested by Ont. detectives, charged with passing counterfeit money. All are, or have been, residents of Lindsay.

Conductor Thompson, who was sentenced to three years in penitentiay for neglect of orders, resulting in the collision at Gourock, has been pardoned by the Minister of Justice.

Mr. John McKenzie, Spruce Hedge, Keward, lost a valuable horse recently, by a peculiar accident. A board had been taken off the horse's stall for ventilation, the horse got his head through the aperture and in twisting to get his head out he must have burst the jugler vein in his neck, as he bled to death internally, dropping dead while being led away from the stable. The loss is heavy, as the horse was a pure bred Clydesdale stallion, two years old and was was valued at $1,000.

That the hearts of the people are in the right place was demonstrated at Creemore the other day in a practical manner, says The Star. Miss Ann Neely was unfortunate to lose two cows within the last few months, and as it was from them that the greater part of her income was derived, it was very generally felt that the loss was too much for her to bear alone. Accordingly a subscription list was on foot, and in a very short time over $50 was contributed and handed to her to assist in replacing what she had been unfortunate in losing.

A strange accident happened to two canoeists on the Saugeen near Walkerton recently. A farmer had strung barb wire across the river to keep the cattle back. The canoe struck this and in a jiffy the boat capsized and both the occupants of the canoe were precipitated into the water. Mr. Robertson succeeded in reaching the shore, but Mr. Henderson got his feet tangled up in the wire and was almost drowned before he could liberate them. His coat and waistcoat had in the meantime floated down the stream and have not yet been recovered. Along with the waistcoat went Mr. Henderson's gold watch. Mr. Robertson lost a suit case and contents.

BITING PAINS IN THE BACK.

Every man and woman—who has dragged the day out with back "almost breaking," and then tossed in bed from side to side in a vain endeavor to find relief from the maddening pain—would pay $10 a box, if necessary, for Bu-Ju. The first box gives such instant relief—and afterwards takes away every trace of pain and soreness—that sufferers would not be without them at any price. Bu-Ju costs only 50c a large box—and is guaranteed to cure Kidney and Bladder Troubles, and Rheumatism. If your druggist does not handle Bu-Ju—the Gentle Kidney Pill—write The Claflin Chem. Co., Ltd, Windsor, Ont. 55

Progress on the new railway is not very swift in town. The right to cross Garafraxa Street has not yet been settled, though an engineer of the Railway Commission was here recently and looked in the direction of the disputed territory. It seems as though another year will elapse before the cars come in.—Durham Crhonicle.

The annals of Canadian horsemanship present no more striking instance of a narrow escape than is contained in a report that comes from the township of Greenock. The man who figured in this dangerous incident is Jas. D. Campbell, owner and manager of the noted Percheron stallion, St. Patrick. He was making his usual concessions when an automobile swooped by and caused the big stallion to rear into the air. Mr. Campbell was sitting in the rig leading the horse when the incident happened and before he could get from his perilous position the stallion bore down on the rig, wrecking the vehicle and striking the occupant with his knees. Mr. Campbell was crushed against the wheel of the buggy but managed to get clear of the outfit before the big steed commenced plunging. The crash of the wreck caused the horse in the shafts to break loose and it proceeded up the road leaving Mr. Campbell and the big stallion to fight it out on the highway. History does not tell how he got Sr. Patrick quieted, but it is certain that he did and what is stranger still is the fact that the owner escaped with only a few scratches on his hand and a few on his side.
