GIANT TRIPLETS "Currency" "Bobs" and "Stag" Chewing Tobaccoes, in big plugs. Quality always the same.

Mr. D.W. Clinton of Osprey returned last week from a visit to the Northwest, and says the crops as a whole give promise of a medium yield. He visited the Armstrong colony and found the prospects there better than almost anywhere else in the west.

C. E. Tryon—Practical Painter and Decorator, will receive contracts for church decoration and school houses. Priceville, Ont.

Three loads of Durham young people passed through here enroute for Eugenia on Friday. The party consisted of nine girls and three boys. We suppose this is a fair evidence of the sexes as they exist in our sister town to the west?

For Quality and Quantity ask your dealer for the new big plugs of "bobs" "stag" and "currency" Chewing Tobaccoes.

The Christoe business property in town has been sold. Mr. Oscar Phillips is the purchaser of the building which he at present occupies as a harness shop, and Messrs Fred and Peter Norris have purchased the block occupied by their tin shop.

Methodist church announcements: Quarterly meeting and sacrament at 10.30 a. m. Sermons; a. m., "The Saviour in Gethsemenae," p. m., "Two farmers. one of them a fool."

Priceville baseball club came over Monday evening and got back somewhat at the Flesherton club for the terrific drubbing it gave them recently. The score Monday evening was 7-5 in favor of Priceville. Flesherton mourns the loss of its catcher, Billy Defoe, who is away. Jimmy Milne, operator at the station, pitched a very good ball Monday evening but was not at his best. The game was quite an interesting example of amateur baseball.

Mr. George Bellamy, while bicycling to the station one day last week met with a diversion that he would not care to have repeated. When passing a team he suddenly found himself lifted, wheel and all, into the air and deposited into the ditch. One of the horses had reached out suddenly with its hind foot and caught the wheel under the saddle, lifting it into the air as stated. George was somewhat dazed, but neither he nor the wheel were injured in the least. It might have easily been much more serious.

Mr. F. T. Carr of Stoughton, Sask., informs the Advance that he has received his land grant as a veteran of fenian raid days, and hopes the grant is at Cobalt! Speaking of the weather and crops out there, Mr. Carr says:—The weather here is and has been ideal summer weather. The crops are growing immensely and the general prospects are of the most promising kind for a bountiful harvest. Every one is jubilant at Stoughton, Sask. The glorious 12th came duly to hand and we celebrated and jubilated and established procedure and precedent in this grand new province, Saskatchewan, to the tap of the Orange drum. A glorious day, a happy crowd and a rich success every way.

WANTED,—Work by an experienced thresherman for the clover and grain season on either engine or separator. Apply at this office.

The Advance journeyed down the Valley Road on Friday last towards Kimberley and was thoroughly surprised at the improvements made in that thoroughfare during the past couple of years. The whole road from here down is quite suitable for buggy travel. Perhaps it would convey a satisfactory idea of the condition of this road if we state that we bicycled as far down as Mr. John Weber's without having to walk ten rods of the way all told! Considerable stretches of the way have also been gravelled. For several miles at this end the drive is a most charming one—a regular "Lovers lane" of leafy green verdure, twists and turns along the rippling Boyne, and the road excellent. The largest kind of a load can be brought up this way, and the considerable amounts of money spent have been supplemented with good, conscientious statute labor, until now the Valley Road is beginning to fulfil its destiny.

Account book lost—On Collingwood gravel or fourth line, Artemesia. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving the same with John English, butcher, Ceylon.

Mrs. Lafayette Badgerow, 4th line, is the champion wild strawberry picker of this district, if we know anything. During the past season she picked 75 imperial quarts herself without assistance, and has to show for it to doubting Thomases 55 imperial quart sealers done up, besides what the family used on the table. Of course the strawberry season was a good one, but, as a picker, so is Mrs. Badgerow, as the above remarkable record goes to prove.

Look out for this Man

If he offers something "better" than Putnam's Corn Extractor, it's the additional profit or inferior goods that tempts him. Putnam's is the one sure and painless cure. Use no other.

ELLIOTT—CARTER

On Wed. July 24, Mr. William B. Elliott of Owen Sound to Miss Annie Pearl Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carter of the East back line, Artemesia. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Caldwell at the parsonage, Flesherton, after which the whole party repaired to the bride's parental home for a dainty tea and pleasant evening. The young couple will live in Owen Sound.

Sudden Death

Mrs. Francis Bunt of Woodbridge who has been living here with her son, W. H. Bunt, for some time, was called away very suddenly on Saturday morning last. Mrs. Bunt was in her usual good health Friday evening. At 5 a. m. next morning she was taken suddenly ill and within two hours was dead, notwithstanding the physician's efforts to save her. The deceased lady was 75 years of age. She was born in Toronto shortly after her parents arrived in this country. The remains were taken to Woodbridge on the 5 p. m. train Saturday and the funeral took place there on Monday. A sad feature of the case was the fact that Mrs. W. H. Bunt and children left to visit friends at Woodbridge the evening before and Mrs. Bunt sr. was alone with her son in the house at the time. Mrs. W. H. Bunt was recalled and returned on the next train.

Will Drill For Oil.

A Detroit gentleman is making preparations to drill for coal oil at Kimberley. Options are being taken on all the farm property in that corner of Euphrasia and a couple of holes will be put down this fall. Certain signs have been present in the valley since the first settlers arrived and it is now proposed to see if these signs will lead to anything.

Received Their Grants

No. 6 company, 31st battalion, was organized in 1865, and the following year did duty in the fenian raid. The veterans of that time are only now receiving land scrip in recognition of their services. During the past couple of weeks the following ex-members of this company have received the scrip, entitling them to locate land in nine or ten townships of New Ontario: Geo. Moore, Johnson Cullen, R. J. Carson, Joseph Watson, and James Paton, all still residing in this township, also Mr. F. T. Carr of Stoughton, Saskatchewan.

BUSINESS COLLEGE EDUCATION—All young men and women who intend entering a business college this fall are invited to write to the Elliott Business College, Toronto, for their handsome catalogue. This school is classed among the best business colleges in Canada. The advertisement of this college appears in this paper.
