VACATION — SAD PARTINGS

Little bankroll, ere you part,
Let me press you to my heart,
All the year I've worked for you,
I've been faithful, you've been true.
Litte bankroll in a day
You and I will go away,
To find some gay and festive spot;
I'll return—but you will not.

If they'd put this country on a brass standard, we know a lot of people who would be well fixed.

Canadian Revenue Up 19 Millions

FIRST FOUR MONTHS OF FISCAL YEAR—JULY AHEAD $3,418,715 WITH LAST YEAR

Canada's revenue continues its upward march. Substantial increases in customs, excise and income tax collections were shown for the month of July compared with the same month last year, it was announced last week by Hon. R. C. Matthews, Minister of National Revenue. Total revenue for the respective months was $24,609,263, and $21,190,548, showing a net increase of $3,418,715. Customs receipts totalled $5,900,314, increase $705,626; excise taxes $10,634,700, increase $745,564; excise duties $4,141,078, increase $669,068; income tax $3,862,668, increase $304,125; sundry collections totalled $70,504.

During the first four months of the present fiscal year customs, excise and income tax revenue amounted to $117,908,072. This shows a net increase of $19,325,468, compared with the same months of 1933. Customs receipts increased by $7,596,099; excise receipts by $10,823,496; income tax receipts by $927,393.

New Bills To Be Smaller

Those who have become stoop-shouldered from carrying around pocketsful of paper money will hail with glee the Ottawa announcement that the new Bank of Canada notes—shortly to be issued in denominations ranging from $1 to $50,000 or thereabouts—will be much smaller than our present greenbacks. Smaller, in fact than the dwarfed currency of United States. There'll be confusion at first. The Bank of Canada money is designed to take the place of today's Dominion and chartered bank notes, but the business of changing over will occupy several years. Eventually, however, the new bills, shrunken in size but not in value will completely supplant the old. Then we can straighten up once more —Border Cities' Star.

Business worth having is worth going after.

Words dropped from the average vocabulary in 1916 and now likely to be revived include "Scuttle of suds," "schooner" and other old familiar titles. The "bar," however, is now the "beverage room."

Has Superannuated From Indian Work

Rev. Dr. S. D. Gaudin, who has been a missionary for over 43 years among the Cree Indians in Manitoba Conference, has retired from active work giving the reins into younger hands. Dr. and Mrs. Gaudin are now in Winnipeg, Manitoba, but are expected to arrive in Flesherton next week. It was hard for them to leave the work and the people in whom they were, and always will be so interested. And then there are the graves of Dr. Gaudin's mother and of their three little girls who went home at such interesting ages, 2½, 3 and ten years respectively! It was hard to leave all, and to make a new home, new friends and new contacts. But such is life!

MAKE A WILL

Among the varied educational campaigns, is one giving every man and every woman a reminder of the duty of making a will and of appointing competent and responsible executors. The importance of this should be plain, yet thousands die yearly without leaving wills. Under the circumstances, their property is disposed of according to laws which cannot undertake to deal with the families in accordance with individual requirements. Frequently injustice results with much suffering entailed. This emphasizes the duty of making a will. Men and women should realize that only in this way can their estates be distributed as they should wish.

The chief trouble, however, is simply neglect. Some, who realize their duty to have their wills drawn, keep putting off the discharge of it to "another time." But a fatal accident, or a sudden illness affecting their minds and rendering them mentally incompetent to the end may occur and, obviously, make it impossible to repair the neglect. While the normal expectation of those in their prime is to live "to three score and ten" or more, it is only common sense and common prudence to recognize the uncertainty of life.

Although the drawing of a will naturally takes into consideration the certainty of the coming of death some time to the testator, it should constantly be kept uppermost that the whole purpose of the instrument is the service of life; the care of the "dear ones" of the decedent who remain behind, or the cause of humanity in general.

The drawing of a will ought to be recognized as a thing not to be "put off."

THE PROPER CARE OF YOUR AUTOMOBILE

Care of the Finish

ALL automobile finishes become dull and faded when they are exposed to the weather for a few months. The ultra-violet rays of the sun gradually disintegrate the film-forming ingredients in the finish, causing the loosening of tiny particles of pigment. Commonly called chalking or weathering, this results in the roughening of the originally smooth and glossy finish.

These tiny particles of pigment, together with an accumulation of dust and dirt gather on the surface of the car, forming a thin hard coating which we call "traffic film."

It is a mistake to believe, however, that when this film has formed over the finish causing it to appear dull and faded, that the only thing that will bring it back is re-finishing. Of course, if the weathering has been permitted to progress, until it has penetrated through to the undercoats, re-finishing is necessary, but just as long as there is a layer of the original finish on the car, it can be restored by polishing. Most cars just need the removal of the traffic film, and the application of a correctly formulated polish, to renew the lustre of the finish.
