East Grey Fall Fair

All those connected in any way with the East Grey Fair are certainly to be congratulated on the outcome of last week's show. It was sandwiched in between four disagreeable days of cold and rain and the weather almost seemed to be made to order. The show this year was almost, but not quite, up to last year in every respect, but showed a slight falling off in some classes, especially roots and vegetables and fruits. The exhibits of horses, sheep and cattle were extra fine, some magnificent imported stock being shown in these lines. The gate receipts amounted to $300.00, a slight decrease from last year but sufficient to make the directors feel complacent. Following is the prize list:—
