THANKSGIVING

We thank Thee, Lord, and not alone
For gold of gladness, full success,
For wealth that we have called our own—
The faith, the love, the happiness;
But for the sorrow and the smart,
The failure and the striving vain,
The song we carolled in our heart
When our poor lips were dumb with pain.

Not for accomplishment complete,
Not for the care-free guarded way,
Not for the paths of peace our feet
Have found, we thank Thee, Lord, to-day;
But for the highway's dust and din,
For perilous places safely passed,
For every brier of doubt and sin
Which clutched, but dare not hold us fast.

For all Thy patience through the years—
The years that come, the years that go;
Thy patience with our fault, and fears.
Dear Lord, we thank Thee, kneeling low

Those young men are once more beginning to congregate on the street corners in the evening to the great discomfort of ladies who are passing. We thought this had been stopped, but, in the words of Scripture, "The dog is turned to his own vomit again. and the sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire."

A little party of four left this week for Thessalon, where, in the wilds north of that town, they expect to tackle the buck moose The party is composed of Messrs. Jas. Vause, Jos. and James Oliver and Jos. Watson. They take the journey all the way by C.P.R.

The filling of the sink hole on this end of the new railway line, referred to last week, has been in progress for the past week and a half, and will be completed this week. A temporary track was built around the hole and a great quantity of gravel has been swallowed up, but the contractor hopes to have a solid road bed.

The following parties left this village on Tuesday for the hunting country:—Geo. Mitchell, John Wright, P. Munshaw, S. Pedlar, John McKee jr., Geo. Stewart, Geo. Cairns, Malcolm McDonald. W. H. Thurston and Herb. Smith. Venison ought to be plentiful when this hunting outfit returns. The first five form a portion of one party which goes to the old grounds near Comanda; the others go to the Shaganaga in Paryr Sound district where they had such phenomenal success last year.

Hay has been delivered quite freely during the past week, the price ranging all the way from fifteen to twenty dollars. Nobody seems to know what to ask. Several loads were delivered at $15, others at $17, and one load brought $20. Seventeen seems to be about the standard price. There is a change in conditions this year, the farmer setting his own price. He cannot always sell at what he asks, of course, but in some instances the buyer is forced to give whatever is demanded. The moral is to lay in a supply before you are entirely out and obviate forced buying.

In the Review's report of the teacher's convention at Durham last week it said: "Inspector Campbell is a host in himself on any of the topics, and the new men from the east, Urquhart of Dundalk and Heath of Flesherton, were decided strength to the discussions and will be further heard from. Mr. Urquhart championed the "Written Reading" paper at summer exam. valiantly, though the popular view was against it. He supported it as containing sound educational principles. Mr. Heath made the interesting comment that of all the conventions he had attended elsewhere, this had shown more of a religious and moral trend of thought through all the papers, speaking well for the ideals of the inspectorate."
