Chard; 2nd Vice Pres., Mrs. J. L. McMullen; Sec., Chas. Stewart; Treas., Mis Eva Loucks; Finance Com., Jos. E. McKee. T. R. McKenzie, Mrs. W. J. Stewart, Mrs. McMullen; Program Committee, Mrs. F. Tucker, Mrs. W. Bentham, Miss Celia VanDusen.

Mr. W.F.C. Arlidge of Meaford writes a lengthy letter to the press justifying the action of the grand jury, of which he was a member, in reporting as they did upon the house of refuge. Mr. Arlidge's letter certainly shows up the institution in an unfavorable light and thoroughly justifies the action of the grand jury, notwithstanding any report to the contrary. The result of this little tempest which has raged for the past few weeks cannot help but have a favorable effect on conditions at the house of refuge. It will let the management know, at least, that they are not lost to sight in the public eye and that the public demand humanitarian treatment for the unfortunates placed in its care

"Cedar View" Farm, west back line, was the scene of a merry party on Tuesday evening, Nov. 19th, the ocassion being the celebration of the marriage of the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. John Wright, which was solemnized in Orangville Babtist church on Nov. 19, 1902. Mrs. Wright received in her wedding dress. About forty guests were present, British Columbia being represented by Mrs. J. Foster, while Corbetton, Flesherton and Ceylon were among the places from which the majority haled. The dinning-room was beautifully decorated for the occasion. In a neat speech, Rev. G. C. Little proposed the health of host and hostess. After dinner the party was entertained by all sorts of parlor games.

Public School Notes

A rather costly accident occurred in the school house furnace last spring which has recently been repaired at a cost of $74 00. It was one of those cases where nobody could be blamed particularly—more from unfamiliarity with the action of heat and cold water than anything else.

In the last inspector's report the caretaker's work is pronounced to be "well and carefully done generally."

The inspector also reported of the work in the school: "The classes have hardly yet begun to realize what hard work means. The seniors, however, show a decided improvement. They now study quietly and appear to have recognized in Mr. Heath a master hand. Miss Kane's pupils also are doing excellent work. In Miss Young's room the pupils do better work than one would expect with the order prevailing. The order is, however, a great improvement over that of last term and I hope it may become better in the near future."

Letter of Condolence

The following letter has been forwarded on behalf of Prince Arthur Lodge, A. F. & M.:

Mrs. A. S. VanDusen:

DEAR MADAM—At the regular meeting of Prince Arthur Lodge, No. 333, A F. & A.M., held on Friday evening the 15th inst., a resolution was unaimously adopted, instructing the undersigned committee to convey to you the heartfelt sympathy of the lodge in the great bereavement which you have been called to pass through by the death of your beloved husband.

Prince Arthur Lodge mourns with you because of the loss of a member and an officer so valued and so highly esteemed as was Worshipful Brother VanDusen, who had filled with much honor to himself and to the craft the highest positions in the gift of the lodge.

We mourn because we shall no more at our lodge meetings see his familiar face, hear his voice in words of wise council and be helped by his true fraternal fellowship. But much as we feel our loss we are conscious it can be felt but in a small measure to that experienced by you and your family as you view the vacant chair in your home and "sigh for the touch of a vanished hand and the sound f a voice that is still."

Therefore the deepest sympathy of the lodge is hereby extended to you and your family in the loss you have sustained, and while earnestly praying the Most High to greatly comfort your sorrowing hearts we would remind you of the consoling thought that:

"Death is but the gateway to a higher life,
A life much broader than the one we see
A volume grand, rewritten and revised
Of what we are and what we are to be."

On behalf of Prince Arthur Lodge, J. Blackburn, M. K. Richardson, T. A. Blakely, Committee.

A Denial

To the Editor of The Advance.

Dear Sir—In a late issue of your paper I notice a list of the injured from the Caledon wreck who have settled with the railway company. Among those is my name. I would say, so far as my name is concerned the statement is untrue and misleading and might work an injury to others similarly situated. My injuries are of too severe a nature, and, I fear, too lasting a character, to admit of settlement as yet. Will you please give the above named statement a complete denial over my signature.

—JAMES BRANDER.
