Eugenia

Died—At his late home "Eden Vale," Eugenia, on Wed., Dec. 4th, Mr. John Beecroft, aged 72 years, one of our most highly esteemed citizens and who for almost 50 years has resided on his farm here. Deceased emigrated from Yorkshire, England, with other members of his family. After residing in King township for a short time they came to Eugenia, at that time little better than a wilderness. He was of a kind and genial disposition and an obliging neighbor. Two sisters are left to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate brother, Mrs. John Walker of Creemore and Miss Beecroft who still made her home with her brother, who never married, have the sympathy of all the community. A large number of sympathising friends accompanied his funeral to Flesherton where the remains were interred in the family plot beside other members of the family. Rev. Mr. Laidlaw conducted the burial service and consigned all that was mortal of our late friend to await the glorious resurrection morn when death divided friends shall again be united with their loved ones, no more to be parted.

How Diphtheria is Contracted

One often hears the expression, "My child caught a severe cold which developed into diphtheria," when the truth was that the cold had simply left the little one particularly susceptible to the wandering diphtheria germ. When Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given it quickly cures the cold and lessens the danger of diphtheria or any other germ disease being contracted. For sale by W. E. Richardson.

The thaw and mild weather of Saturday, Sunday and Monday was gladly welcomed as water was getting scarce, some wells having gone completely dry, others nearly so, necessitating some to draw water from a distance. A home made happy by Chamberlain's cough Remedy

About two months ago our baby girl had measles which settled on her lungs and at last resulted in a severe attack of bronchitis. We had two doctors but no relief was obtained. Everybody thought she would die. I went to eight different stores to find a certain remedy which had been recommended to me and failed to get it, when one of the storekeepers insisted that I try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did so and our baby is alive and well today. —Geo. W. Spence, Holly Springs, N. C. For sale by W. E. Richardson.

The following methods will enable the housekeeper to form a very fair opinion as to the quality of the milk she is using. The proportion of cream in new milk may vary between one-tenth and one-fifth, so a fair average would be one-eighth or one-seventh. A pint of milk contains forty standard tablespoonfuls, therefore after this quantity of milk has stood in a cool place for 24 hours, it should produce five tablespoonfuls of cream. Another method is to take a glass jar or tumbler with flat bottom and straight sides, pour in whatever quantity of milk you wish and measure the height of this on the outside of the glass, being sure that the glass stands perfectly level. Stand the glass away in a cool place for twenty-four hours and then measure the thickness of the cream, which should be at least one-eighth of the first measurement. For example suppose the height of milk is four inches, then the thickness of the cream should be about one-half inch.—Com.
