The C. P. R. carpenters have the station building up, and partly enclosed.

Miss Maggie McDonald, who has been a successful teacher at Calderwood, is now attending the Commercial College, Chatham.

Mr. Murphy of Ceylon, who has been taking a few well-earned holidays after a long season of industry, was in town for a day lsst week.

The higher temperature last week lowered the snow considerably, but we have an abundance yet, especially on our public roads. It is easily observed, this winter, the improvement that wire fences make on winter roads, and particularly where the wire is on both sides of the roadway.

Since we last wrote several of the early residents of this vicinity have passed away from this life. On the morning of the 18th of January, Catharine, relict ot the late Rev. Robt. McIntyre, at the age of 79 years, passed away after a sojourn of 55 years on the South Line, Glenelg. In 1853 Mrs. McIntyre and her husband left their native Isle, Mull, Scotland, and came to this country. Deceased was a consistent member of the Baptist church and in the absence of her pastor, Rev. L. F. Kipp, the services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Matheson, assisted by Rev. H. Berry. She was laid beside her husband, who predeceased her 23 years, a son 29 years, a daughter 3 years, and one last June.

About 8 a. m. on the 31st it became known in the village that one of the early pioneers, Mr. Donald McDonald, had passed away, a victim of that dread disease, cancer, at the age of 68 years. Mr. McDonald came to the village in its early years, a strong, muscular young man, and was shortly afterwards appointed Constable, which office he filled efficiently until declining years and illness rendered him incapable. Deceased leaves a wife, 3 sons in the far west and Allan at home, also one daughter, Mrs. Mallatt of Toronto, who was with her father for some days previous to his death. Mr. Mallatt also attended the funeral to St. John's church and cemetery at Pomona on the 4th of February.

Died—Mr. Archibald McLean, aged 67, for several years a citizen of our village, who suffered acutely for several months with a cancer in the face, passed away on Saturday, 1st Feb. Mr. McLean and family formerly lived on the South Line, Artemesia, and afterwards in Osprey for a time, and finally removed to this village. Deceased leaves a wife and several children, the majority of whom are quite young. Mrs. McLean is an industrious and kind mother, and spared no pains in attending her husband during his illness. The roads became so impassable by late storms that the funeral could not take place until Saturday, the 8th, when the remains were interred in Evergreen cemetery, near Mud Lake, South line, Rev. H. Berry officiating.

Malcolm McGilvray, aged 88 years, an old resident of Glenelg, died on the 10th. The funeral took place on the 13th from the residence on the 3rd concession, north, to the village cemetery. Rev. Mr. Newton, pastor of the Baptist church, Durham, officiated at the house and grave.

We are pleased to see Mr. Charles Winters able to do his work again after having been laid up with blood poisoning in his thumb, caused while loading logs. Also Mrs. Winters, his wife, who has been suffering with a felon on her finger. It seems trouble never comes singly.

Well Mr. Editor, you will be thinking Hatherton is completely snowed under, not having heard from us for the past 3 weeks. We have had one of the worst blockades of snow that this section of country has seen for years. Just ask Dr. Bond of Maxwell. He will be able to tell you lots about it, as he certainly had some hard times getting to see his patients.

The result of the local option recount in Durham resulted in cutting down the majority by two, which left, according to the judge's reasoning, a majority of ten.

A Little Boy Killed.

Run Over by a Heavily Loaded Timber Sleigh.

A terrible accident occurred in this village on Wednesday of last week resulting in the death of J. T. Merle Sled, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sled of the suburbs. The little fellow, who was only six years of age, had been in town with his mother and was waiting at a friend's house until his father, who was drawing logs, would come along, so that he might ride home with him. When he saw his father's team coming he ran to the house and told his mother, then went out to the road, but the team had passed. He ran into the road, after the sleigh, not noticing another team behind, driven by Mr. Emerson Wickens, which was also loaded heavily with logs, and being on a down grade the driver was unable to stop his team until it had knocked the little boy down. The front bob ran up on his stomach and had to be backed off before he could be picked up. He was tenderly lifted and conveyed to his home where everything was done that loving care could conceive to save him, but four hours afterward the spirit left the little body. The baby was conscious up to a few moments before death, when he said, "Oh papa, I cannot see," A few minutes after this he ceased to breathe. There was no outward mark of injury.

The heart-broken father and mother are the recipients of an unusual amount of sympathy. The only child! A bright, interesting little one whom every person would look at a second time, and admired for his winning ways. The inscrutable ways of Providence are hard to fathom. The shock has been almost more than the poor parents can bear. Could we but make the grief lighter how gladly it would be done. Warm sympathy is but a cold thing in a case like this, however, but it goes out from hundreds of hearts in this neighborhood, all the same.

The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon, the remains being taken to the Methodist church, where a most touching service was held by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Caldwell, who chose as his text 2nd Samuel, 12th and 13th verses, and from which he preached an unusually strong and sympathetic sermon. During the afternoon previous to the accident Merle had been singing "Jesus Wants Me for a Sunbeam," and this was touchingly rendered after the sermon by Miss Irene Wilson. Several children also sang "Bring Them In." Notwithstanding the terribly stormy day, the church was filled with the many friends and sympathisers of the grief-stricken parents. Interment took place in the Flesherton cemetery.

Among the relatives from a distance present at the funeral were Geo. Sled, Nottawa Village; Wm. Sled, Glen Huron; Edward Hewson, Allandale, and D. Vancise, Batteau.

My voice grew very hoarse and I coughed every night, and through the winter could scarcely speak. My voice was gone. Two doctors didn't help me at all. The next doctor ordered "Catarrhozone." It cured me and now many others here use it also. My doctor says he doesn't know anything so good for Catarrh and Throat Trouble as "Catarrhozone." Use it to lay, you're better tomorrow, 25c and $1.00 at all dealers. Try Catarrhozone.
