EDITORIAL DRIFT

There is one phase of the immigration question that we have not seen mentioned in the press, and which offers an explanation of the considerable amount of distress and dissatisfaction prevalent among the new comers. The agricultural problem in this country is one that has not as yet been solved. Our farmers need a large amount of help during the summer months and the extraordinary demand for this class of labor has created a misleading impression abroad. Thousands of immigrants are given work for two months or so in summer, after which their services are not required and they are turned adrift with insufficient funds to keep them through the rigors of winter. Some get work at intervals and are able to struggle along, but many—a large percentage—are thrown upon charity and have to be assisted. We believe immigration should be discouraged, instead of fostered, for some time to come, or until we have assimilated the foreign population now clamouring for work and wages.

We notice by our exchanges that the County Council of Simcoe has authorized the publication of a history of that county. This is certainly a praiseworthy action and the Grey County Council could not do better than to follow the action of Simcoe in this regard. Simcoe has had an interesting history, but so also has Grey, and a volume of deep interest could be written on the ups and downs of this county since the days of Governor Simcoe. The founding of our lake ports, the experiences of our early pioneers in their conquest of nature, the early attempts at legislation, would all make instructive reading to the present and coming generations. This work, if done at all, should be set about at once before the principals in this drama, are all drawn behind the curtain.

Short Letter From Idaho

To the Editor of The Advance.

DEAR SIR,—Owing to an apparent misunderstanding by some of your readers of a part of my letter regarding the cost of irrigation in this part, I will try to explain again. Our water right will probably cost from $25 to $30 per acre paid by a water tax levied equally per acre, divided into about ten equal yearly payments, or about from $2.50 to $3 per acre per year.

I learn from an item in your paper concerning the return of Mr. Leitch from Idaho that the writer was laboring under the delusion that Mr. Leitch came to Idaho with the intention of settling here, which is a mistake, though it is one that a goodly number of us shared. He told us in plain English, by both word and action, that he did not intend making his home here, that he simply came here to see the country, which, though in the winter months, impressed them so favorably that they had nearly decided to locate when, alas! homesickness of a very virulent type set in, from the effects of which they were unable to recover without meeting their kind friends and neighbors of Artemesia and enjoying the pleasure of a good old Canadian sleighride again. As our loss may your gain we will try not to mourn their departure from our midst. The proof of these statements and other information may be gained by interviewing Mr and Mrs. Leitch at the home of their friends near Rock Mills.

As an account of our deplorable accident may be had from Mr. and Mrs. Leitch I will not say much about it now, saving to state that Will Russell is recovering from the terrible blow, in Boise hospital, and we hope to soon have him with us again. He has proven by his courage, patience and good humor to be a worthy son of any nation or family. All who have made his acquaintance here have learned to respect and admire him as a gentleman. My brother's hand that was wounded in the accident will soon be well again.

—W. J. SIMPSON.

Boswell, Idaho, Feb. 6.

Henry Clayburn, a colored man, who ran away from slavery in 1842 at the age of forty-five years, died on Tuesday, the 14th inst., at Williamsford, and on account of the storm interment was prevented until Monday last when the remains were laid to rest at the Rocky burying ground. The deceased was the last of a number of the negroes who left Virginia at the same time and settled as a colony in the townships of Glenelg and Bentick about a mile north of Rocky Saugeen, four miles north of this town. He was the first settler in the township of Glenelg Clayburn claimed to be born in 1796, but some of the older settlers think he was about two years younger, that is 110 at the time of his death. Mr. Edge, who knew him since 1844, has very little doubt of his being 112 years as Clayburn himself claimed. He was fond of fishing and trapping, and seemed contented and happy when he had enough to eat and wear. He was always at home telling stories of the slavery days. Only two or three years ago he was a familiar figure in this town, but since 1904, when he moved to Williamsford, he has not been around. He leaves no relatives.—Durham Chronicle.

This Combination Always Wins

How often we hear of people who have had an aching joint or muscle for years. No more speedy remedy can be adopted than to rub on Nervilene and then apply a Nerviline Porous plaster. At once the muscles begin to resume their wonted vigor and flexibility. Inflammatory symptoms and pain disappear. Nervilene Plasters can be worn by the most delicate child or aged person. They are invaluable as thousands have proved. Used along with Nervilene they are guaranteed to permanently drive out any muscular ache, pain or stiffness. Try these remedies and judge for yourself. 25c at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

The Collingwood Township Agricultural Society, last year, gave prizes for the best field of white oats, amounting to $25. At the time Secretary Pye made the entry for his society he was too late to get the supplementary grant from the government. We are pleased to learn, however, that the successful competitors, viz., Messrs. Charles Parkinson, Amos Keutner, J. H. Irwin and W. H. Matthews recently received cheques from the Ontario government giving them a substantial premium. The judging was under the direction of the government.—Reflector.

Mr. Arthur Tennison, 88 London Street, Toronto, writes enthusiastically of the merits of Psychine for all stomach troubles.

"For seven years I have had indigestion and dyspepsia. I tried scores of remedies. My room resembled a drug store with nostrums which I had bought. Eventually I used Psychine, and every dose brought permanent relief."

All throat, lung and stomach troubles quickly cured by Psychine. It is the prescription of a great specialist. At all druggists, 50c and $1.00, or Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, Toronto.
