Three Serious Accidents---Other Interesting Items.

The wet weather of last week made the farmers call a halt on seeding operations for a few days.

Miss Atha Heron of Osprey glen visited her aunt, Mrs. R. J. Colquette, over Sunday.

A large congregation listened to an interesting and instructive sermon given by Rev. A. P. Stanley on Sunday last in the Bethel Methodist church on the tenth line.

Messrs. Fred Heron and Will Coulthard went to new Ontario on Monday last. We hope the boys may strike it rich in the new country.

Born—On May 7th to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weldrick, a son. No wonder Fred wears a broad smile these days, a son and heir has come to stay.

Miss Alice Ottewell has rented her farm to Messrs. Will and Chas. Barber of the townline.

Mr. Matthew Spofford got seriously hurt the other day by a pole breaking on a scaffolding and letting Mr. Spofford fall a distance of 8 or 9 feet to the floor below. He broke the bones of one ankle and the small bone of the leg and otherwise got a bad shaking up. Mr. Spofford is about eighty years of age, and was one of the first settlers of Osprey township.

A very bad runaway occurred on the 6th line of Collingwood last week. It appears that a spirited team of horses attached to a wagon and driven by a son of Mr. Samuel Eagle, became unmanageable while being driven across a very rough and stony field, and ran away, throwing the young man out in front of the wagon. He became entangled in the whiffletrees and lines, and, the draw bolt coming out, the horses dragged the young man away from the wagon and around the rough field. We are informed that they ran, dragging him, for nearly half an hour when the young man became loosed; the horses, however, kept on running till they could run no longer. Fortunately no bones were broken, but he was most terribly bruised and battered. We understand the young man is doing as well as can be expected, though it will be some time till he will be able to work again.

An accident of a terrible nature occurred at Curran's portable sawmill on the 8th of Osprey, near Singhampton, on Wednesday, of last week, when Albert Hindle, a young man 18 years of age, very nearly lost his life. It appears that the saw got stuck in a log and the young man went under the sawdust carriers to clear away the sawdust. While there the saw became loosened and began to revolve. It caught the young man on the back, cutting it badly but not into the vital organs. His arm was almost severed at the shoulder and his skull sawed open so that the brain was visible. Drs. Bond of Maxwell and McFadden of Singhampton were on hand as soon as possible and worked over him most of one day and part of another. The young man is still living and the doctors have a hope of saving his life, and also preserving the arm. The young man's home is near McIntyre.

The liabilities amount to $8065, making the apparent deficit $151. The largest creditors are McMahon & Grainger, $1,050; H. Heitman sr., $924; Ames, Holden & Co., $349; Hobbs Hardware Co., $401; T. CAUSE FOR ALARM

Epidemic Influenza, Grippe, Catarrhal Troubles, Pneumonia, Increasing

A marked increase in troubles of the breathing organs is noted in many localities. If you will only have Hyomei at hand to use with the first attack of Cold in the head, pneumonia, Colds, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Croup, in fact any respiratory affection, the trouble will be quickly overcome.

If the attack is neglected and becomes severe, speedy relief will come in most cases and persistent use of Hyomei will cure.

The directions for using it vary, but the principal is always the same, that of destroying all the germs in the air you breathe and having it reach the air passages with dry medication from the Pine and Eucalyptus forests.

Remember that liquids or moisture is barred from the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs. It's the dry air of Hyomei that reaches the spot. W. E. Richardson & Son guarantee it.

A GREAT CONVENTION

Lucas and Sproule Again Candidates For Centre Grey.

The Liberal-Conservative convention held in Markdale on Friday last was one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in Centre Grey. Haskett's hall was crowded with a good natured and orderly lot of delegates from all parts of the riding. President Dyre of Thornbury occupied the chair. The nominations for both Legislature and Dominion House were so numerous that President Dyre could not find place for all on the platform. Each candidate came forward, made his excuses and retired, with the exception of Mr. Lucas and Dr, Sproule. These two nominations were then made heartily unanimous—the former for his old seat in the Legislature and the latter for the position he has so gracefully filled for nearly a lifetime. The speeches, of course, were numerous, including the two candidates. As that of Mr. Lucas was the most important just now, we give a synopsis of his address, which embraces all the salient points brought out. During the afternoon the president took occasion to feelingly refer to the death of Thomas Andrews, who for many years was prominent in the party circle in this riding, and a unanimous vote of sympathy was conveyed to the relatives through the President. Another noteworthy incident of the afternoon was a short address breathing strong loyalty to the party by Mr. John Lyons of Markdale, a man now in the feeble stage of old age. There was pathos in his words, too, for he is 87 years of age.

Mr. Lucas confined himself wholly to the temperance legislation of the Whitney government. The government, he claimed, had done well, and there was only one great cry against it, namely the three-fifths clause, and only in two or three ridings are temperance candidates to be nominated, and these only in ridings where it is hopeless for a Liberal to run. The government had enforced the license law well, as witness Marter, Jos. Gibson, Dr. Emory and the Pioneer. Mr. Lucas in referring to the three-fifths clause said: Members of the government had on several occasions outside the House and on the floor of parliament declared in effect that the clause was on trial—that the government were not wedded to it, and that if further experience showed that it was not necessary to give permanence to local option bylaws and was not found in its operation to be for the best temperance interests, then it was for the House to consider the repeal of the clause. In other words, the government were not committed to stand by the three-fifth clause as unalterably the policy of the government. He thought it quite possible, even probable, that the government would by a government measure repeal the three-fifth clause during the next parliamentary term. If, however, they did not do so, it would be open to him as a private member of the House, if he should be elected, to introduce an amendment to the Liquor License law substituting majority vote for the three-fifth clause in reference to local option and the government, as a government would not be bound to either support or oppose such a bill, but could leave the responsibility upon the individual members of the House.

A government, of course, could not afford to take that attitude in respect to a bill introduced by a member of the cabinet. But as he was a private member he had greater liberty, and if endorsed by the convention he proposed to say that if the government did not take any action he would as a private member introduce such an amendment at some time during the next parliamentary term, if requested so to do by a convention representing the temperance sentiment of the riding, press the amendment to a division and vote for the same. This would afford an opportunity for every member of the House on a non-political motion to express his opinion of this much discussed clause and record his vote accordingly. A man who did not desire to make political capital out of the three-fifths clause could not ask for more. He did not propose to let the Opposition in the House trap or force him into voting with them upon want of confidence motions against the government, in respect to the three-fifth clause or any other clause. He declined to accept Hon. A. G. MacKay as his leader upon the temperance or any other question, or vote confidence in him upon a question in respect to which he had no confidence in him.

The convention after some discussion approved of the attitude Mr. Lucas proposed to take and gave him a free hand.

To The Electors of South Grey

Gentlemen:

It is reported that I have withdrawn from the campaign. Why such a report should be circulated is beyond my comprehension, unless the wish be father to the thought.

I wish it distinctly understood that I am a candidate for the representation of South Grey in the Legislature, and, if elected, will endeavor to give the closest attention to the affairs of the province in general and my constituency in particular. It is my intention to conduct the campaign free from everything personal, of everything that will cast a reflection on myself or the electors of the constituency. If I cannot be elected by aod of what is perfectly defensible I do not wish to be elected. It is my wish to emphasise the moral side of politics and fair fight, so that, when the election is over, I can look back with satisfaction, knowing that I did not depreciate polstics.

I am, Respectfully yours
NEIL McCANNEL.

Priceville

Seeding is fairly well advanced on high land, but a great many fields are not fit to be worked, especially on flat and low land.

Sacramental services were held in the Methodist church on the 3rd. There was a good attendance from various points of the circuit, and a very profitable meeting resulted. Rev. H. Berry, the pastor, officiated at the service.

Robt. Reid, O. D. R., is still in very poor health and confined to the house. The kind neighbors for quite a distance around keep dropping in with prepared goods—anything else is useless—but after all, it is reported, the invalid is half starved part of the time. It certainly is a pity that some definite arrangement cannot be made to relieve the sad state of affairs at this household.

Mrs. M. Riley, who has been lying helpless for several months with paralysis, is improving somewhat lately.

G. L. Watson's little boy, Robbie, has been very ill for some days with pneumonia, but has taken a turn for the better.

Will Reiley and the McArthur Bros. have the contract for the lathing and plastering of the station house.

On the east of the town there is a bank of snow several feet deep, and extending 50 rods or more along the north side and up near the crest of McCabe's mountain.

Mrs. Chapman and baby of Toronto are holidaying with her mother, Mrs. Robertson.

Born—May 1st, to Mr. and Mrs. D Whyte, a daughter.

We are pleased to notice that two o our Priceville boys have won prizes for rapid calculation at the O. S. Business College, C. D., son of D. McMillan, Esq, and Jas. McLeod. This causes us to go back in memory to our own school days when our schoolmate, C. D's. father, was always O.K. in his arithmetic and generally "done first" too.

Rev. H. Berry was called away last week to attend the funeral of his brother at Petrolia.

We notice people coming into town to transact business who formerly went elsewhere. When we get regular train service, express and market yards our town will no doubt be a centre of trade.

Gordon C. Laidlaw was drowned at Toronto by the capsising of a dinghy.

Pictures of Japan, Korea and Russia will be exhibited in the town hall, Flesherton, on Thursday, the 21st. The Markdale Standard says: "Rev. N. M. Bielby gave an exhibition of his pictures in New England on Monday evening. The views were both interesting and profitable, and those who were not there missed a rare treat."
