WATCH YOUR TONGUE

If Furred and Coated, It's a Looking Glass Stomach Warning.

When it is the morning after the night before, you do not have to look at your tongue to know that the stomach is upset, the head is aching, no appetite, nerves on edge with all the sunshine of life clouded.

The real time to watch the tongue is all the time. If it is coated with a white fur, or possibly with dark trimmings, even though the stomach does not tell you by the acute pains of indigestion that it needs help, yet the coating shows that you are getting into a bad way and that there is need of Mi-o-na.

Mi-o-na is so positive, so sure, so reliable in its curative action upon the stomach that W. E. Richardson & Son., the local agents, give a guarantee of satisfaction with every 50c. box or money back.

Crushed Between Rolls

Crushed between two rollers in the saw mill of the Carney Lumber Company, Owen Sound, was the terrible death which came to Joseph Bellicotti, a Pole, on Saturday. The man was one of a gang brought down from the company's timber limits near Massey, Ont., to work in the mills. One of his companions was working at what is called a slasher, a machine which cleans up slabs before they are sent to the lath mill. An obstruction formed under the conveyor which carries the slabs. Bellicotti, who was engaged at other work, voluntarily went to the man's assistance. It was while at this work that his foot caught in a conveyor chain belt and the man was picked up and thrown on two rollers known as the hurry-ups and carried between them up to his chest, where he became wedged and the machines stopped. The victim lived until he reached the the hospital. His brother Phillip witnessed the accident.

Owen Sound has a miniature railway in operation and the citizens who have to listen to the screeching of the whistle are objecting very strongly.

The four-year-old son of Mr. Wm. Cherry, who lives south of Palmerston, was found dead floating on the surface of a pond in his father's field on Saturday morning by a couple of Palmerston boys who had gone there to bathe The little fellow had followed his father to the field where he was working, and was seen playing around the field by his father about twenty minutes before the body was found.
