Don't Guess But Know

Whether the "Pain" Remedy You Use is SAFE?

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

THE person to ask whether the preparation you or your family are taking for the relief of headaches is SAFE to use regularly is your family doctor. Ask him particularly about "ASPIRIN."

He will tell you that before the discovery of "Aspirin" most "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as bad for the stomach and, often, for the heart. Which is food for thought if you seek quick, safe relief.

Scientists rate "Aspirin" among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and the pains of rheumatism, neuritis and neuralgia. And the experience of millions of users has proved it safe for the average person to use regularly. In your own interest remember this.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

Lady—I am collecting funds for the suffering poor.

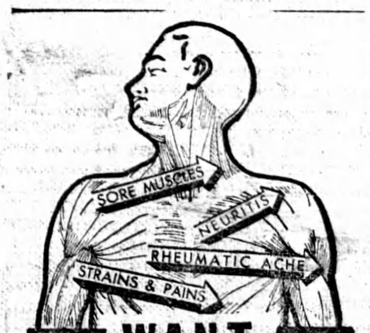
Man—Are you sure that they are really suffering?

Lady—Oh, yes; I go around and talk to them for hours at a time and I wish you could see how miserable they are.

Day breaks but never falls.
Night falls but never breaks.

Minister—Do you promise to love, honor and cherish this woman?

Politirian—Yes. Whatever the platform says, I subscribe to it.



WANT QUICK RELIEF?

Then treat pain as authorities advise—with Omega Oil. Far better than internal dosing, it works down deep to correct the cause. Three times faster than ordinary liniments, safer and surer. At all drug stores, 35 cents.

HAVE YOU HEARD

MY WISH

It is my wish to think one kindly thought,
To breathe one simple prayer each day I wake,
That I may add to those about me naught
That would their own life's burdens harder make.
If I but do one comfort-giving deed,
If I but speak aloud one word of cheer,
Perchance some soul, discouraged, sad, may heed,
And lose its sodden weight of doubt or fear.
What service to mankind can be more blessed?
It costs so little, and I gain so much
Each time I pass the sunshine to the rest,
I, too, am warmed by its gentle touch.

Young Man—Darling, I love you as no one ever loved before!

Young Widow—Humph! I can't see any difference.

Opportunity knocked on some doors here in the city recently and the householders, thinking it was the brush salesman, went right on playing contract bridge and didn't answer the door-bell.

Dentist's Nurse—Doctor, it took you a long time to pull that last man's tooth.

Dentist—Yes, confound him! He married the girl I was in love with.

Now, Mr. Willcox, will you be good?

"LOST—My husband. Answers to most any name. I called him everything before our separation. He is bald- headed, short, fat and dumb; true American type of the "model" husband. Finders keepers. LUCY WILLCOX. — From the Burnt Chimney's, Virginia, Weekly Clarion.

He had long outstayed his welcome.

"Tell me," said his host, at last, "how long was the fish you caught the other day?"

"Oh," said the guest, holding his hands wide apart, "so long."

"Well, so long," returned the host, "if you really must be going."

Peck—My views on bringing up the family are—

Mrs. Peck—Never mind your views. I'll bring up the family. You go and bring up the coal.

It's easy enough to eat corn off the cob,
When you've nice teeth to be proud about,
But the guy worth while
Is the one who can smile
When all his front teeth are out.

Fresh Lamb The Year Round

Is The Object Of The Newly Formed Canadian Lamb Committee

An appreciable benefit to the Canadian farmer-sheepbreeder is anticipated from the work being carried on by the recently organized Canadian Lamb Committee, which has undertaken to conduct a campaign to encourage the consumption of fresh Canadian lamb and to inform Canadian housewives of the economical and nutritive advantages and the year-round availability of this type of meat according to a statement just issued by the committee.

The committee consists of W. H. J. Tisdale, Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers, chairman; R. W. Wade, Canadian Sheepbreeders' Association, secretary-treasurer; S. E. Todd, Industrial and Development Council of Canadian Meat Packers, L. E. O'Neill Live Stock Commissioner, Ontario Department of Agriculture, and A. A. MacMillan, Associate Chief Live Stock Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture, directors.

The object of the campaign, the statement continues, is to effect a more even balance between the production and the consumption of fresh lamb in Canada. Its work has been necessitated because within recent years the finishing and marketing methods of fresh Canadian lamb have been improved to such an extent that this meat may now be obtained at moderate prices during any month in the year.

The majority of housewives, however, are still apt to regard fresh lamb as somewhat of a seasonal luxury and are not fully aware of the continuous monthly movement of the farmer's product to the retail market, it is claimed in the statement. A great many housewives also do not appreciate the tremendous nutritive value of lamb and its suitability as a staple meat in the family diet, and the committee is confident that its efforts will be of substantial benefit to thousands of Canadian housewives as well as to thousands of Canadian farmers and sheepbreeders.

Community Action In Soil Control

Is Needed For A Maximum Degree Of Success

While individual effort is usually very effective in controlling soil drifting, and every farmer should adopt the best known control measures on his own farm, the most successful results, says the "Soil Drifting Control in the Prairie Provinces" bulletin is the adoption of community action. sued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, will undoubtedly follow The importance of this community action will be readily understood from the fact than an area of unhindered, drifting soil usually expands very rapidly. Moving particles of soil are not always brought to rest by collision with stationary soil particles, and in many cases the latter are caused to join in a general movement under the influence of high winds.

The most carefully planned and executed control measures may be entirely ruined if the soil has to withstand the combined action of wind and drifting soil from adjoining areas. These facts show the necessity for community action if a maximum degree of success in the control of soil drifting is to be obtained. While the control of drifting on any farm is primarily the concern of the individual farmer, his success may be aided or hampered by the action of his immediate neighbours.

In order to prevent losses to neighboring property by unprotected summerfallow, the Legislative Assembly of the province of Alberta passed an Act in 1935 known as the "Control of Soil Drifting Act." This Act carries certain penalties for failure to provide proper protection to adjacent property. No claim for damages may be made by any person, however, unless the claimant himself is complying with the Act in regard to soil drifting control measures. The Act comes into force on the 1st day of March, 1936.

Buying Feeder Cattle

With the abundance of pasture and hay cattle should be fed this fall and winter fairly reasonably. On some farms pasture is going to waste at the present time for lack of cattle. Barns are full of hay and hay stacks are plentiful. his is not likely to have much market value except through cattle. Those needing cattle this fall or winter might advisedly be scouting around for animals of good conformation and showing feeding qualities. Good feeder cattle are none too plentiful. There are too many of the plain, common type. To delay securing a supply of cattle may result in having to accept the plainer kind. Good cattle that are available are being picked up rapidly. When buying cattle attention should be paid to the quality, as animals that show some breeding make better use of the feed than do the scrubs.

Four Hundred Thousand More Jobs

Wage-earners in Canada are finding more jobs.

You might not think so by watching relief rolls and costs, but if you would search out the good news, analyze the figures prepared and tabulated each month by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The bureau receives returns monthly from over 9,000 buiness firms which employ normally almost a million workers or about 45 per cent of the total industrial working force of Canada.

Assuming this "sample" is still proportionately the same, what do we find? In short that there are now about 2,770,000 people back at work, a gain of 4 per cent. or 115,000 compared with the same month a year ago. Compared with the Autumn of 1932 this means employment at the present time for 460,000 more wage-earners.

Among the sixty different industrial groups which comprise these figures, two in particular stand out like mountain tops. One is silk firms; the other metal mining. For instance, silk plants are now employing 5 1-4 men for every one they employed in the so-called "normal" year, 1926. They have two men employed for every one in 1931.

And the new figures show that the "metal mines" — as apart from coal mining and non-metallic minerals—have now doubled their staffs as compared with the low point of the depression; are employing 23 per cent. more men than at this time a year ago, and reached a new record level of employment on Sept. 1.

Two important groups show smaller employment than at this time last year. Logging camps are seasonally quiet and employing 9 per cent. less than a year ago, but are looking forward to an active season in the bush for 1935-36. Construction is 6 per cent. less active than at this time a year ago, due to considerably less government work on the highways. Building and railway construction are ahead of this time last year.—Financial Post.
