A farmer near Tweed had nine head of cattle killed by lightning.

Will the person who took my coat from the ticket office, agl. grounds, on July 1st, in error, please return the same to me. G. McTavish. Flesherton.

Priceville Methodists will hold their annual garden party on their parsonage grounds on Thursday evening, July 11. See bills for large list of attractions, etc. An especially good time is anticipated.

During a thunder storm Saturday evening lightning struck and demolished the chimney on Lloyd & Scully's egg-packing establishment. Fortunately the fluid did not penetrate the building to any extent but appears to have switched out through an upper window, and there were no cooked eggs.

Mr. R. N. Henderson of Winnipeg spent most of the past week visiting his old haunts and friends here. Newt. is employed with the Galt Coal Co. and has had occasion to visit all of our western provinces in discharging his duty as inspector and thinks it is a great country. We were glad to note that the climate agrees with his physical requirements. His mental faculties, too, have better play in the broad, free west. Long may he live to grace the prairies with his presence.

Three residents of Fergus had a narrow escape from death, the horse they were driving being struck by lightning and killed.

A horde of religious fanatics armed with rifles, revolvers and knives, are reported from Pierson, Man., to be marching on the Yorkton Doukhobors.

Mr. Aldcorn, the enterprising merchant of Priceville, was the first to get freight over the new C. P. R. line, he getting a car load of sugar.

Mrs. M. Langford, wife of a farmer on 8th King, aged about 50, was viciously attacked by a sow on June 3. She had taken one of the little pigs into the house. On going out into the yard again the sow rushed at her and bit her terribly about the head and neck, one ear was bitten off. The hired man came to her rescue and with difficulty drove the infuriated animal off in time to save her life.

Rev. Mr. Little exchanged pulpits on Sunday with Rev. Dr. McKenzie of Shelburne. The latter preached anniversary sermons here morning and evening to large congregations. His sermons were scholarly and were highly appreciated. At the evening service little Miss Evelyn Hall of Toronto sang a solo, "Nearer my God to thee," in a beautifully touching and pleasing manner. This little lady has a wonderfully true and melodious voice for a child so young (she is only 13) and is likely to be heard from later in the concert world. The collections amounted to about $50.

Mr. R. Allen had a nice flock of brown leghorn chickens, numbering about 50, until recently. He now only has seven or eight. A cat belonging to the farm got it into his whiskers that chickens were good to eat, and as a consequence the birds began to disappear until some forty had come up missing. Then the feline was caught in the act and the cat was out of the bag. Pussy has now returned to mother earth and will not eat any more chickens. He found out when too late that chicken meat was not wholesome when washed down with chilled shot.
