Off For Quebec

The members of the 31st battalion chosen for the Quebec trip went down on Friday. Those who joined the party from Flesherton company (No. 6) were: Charles Moore, Milt Bannon, Bert Martin and Alfred Robinson.

The Earl Grey Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire of Owen Sound have established their right to be called such. As the troops going to Quebec are not provided with the means of sustenance for the journey, but are each allowed the sum of $1 by the government for the purpose of buying food, those ladies donated sandwiches and cake for the Owen Sound company sufficient to last them to Quebec. So the fortunate members of that company will be able to use the whole dollar in buying provisions for the return journey.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church will give a garden party on the agricultural grounds Tuesday next at 6 p.m. There will be a baseball match between Markdale and Ceylon young ladies, with a purse to the winners. We presume there will be money in the purse, too. Admission to game and tea, 25 and 15 cents. See bills for all about it.

A small runaway occurred in town Tuesday morning when Mr. R. Allen's horse became scared at a dog cart, broke its halter and bolted. It was stopped before going far but not before damaging one buggy wheel pretty badly.

That annual musical event, the Band Promenade, under the auspices of the Flesherton Citizens' Band, will be held on Thursday, Aug. 6th. Arrangements are being made to have Markdale, Dundalk, and Durham Bands present.

Mr. Andrew Wilson declares that he was paralyzed on one side by lightning early one morning last week while a thunder storm was passing over. He was in bed and was unable to move his arm for some time. There was no sign of the lightning having struck in the near vicinity.

The young people of Ceylon will hold a picnic at Sullivan's grove on Friday, July 31. There will be a baseball match between Markdale and Ceylon ladies, and a football match between Pomona and Ceylon, also foot races, etc. Games at 2 p m., supper from 5 to 7. Admission 25 and 15 cents. See bills.

Last week we were unable to give a complete list of the prizes given at Dundalk on July 13th. These were the ones omitted: Piccolo player—G. Bretz, No. 909; T. Wauchob, No. 244. Fifer—W. L. Wright, No. 883; R. H. Wright, No. 509. Bass drummer—J. Aitkin, No. 244; Jas. Brown, No. 1192. Snare drummer—T Robinson, No 252; H. N. Horne, No. 632.

A rather unusual evidence of the value of advertising occurred last week. An advertisement announcing the loss of part of a piccolo appeared in our last issue. Friday morning Mr. Walter Simmons of the 4th line came in and said he had found the part. Later the same day Mr. Johnston Cullen came in with part of a picolo which he had picked up on the 4th line. One of these, of course, was the one advertised for. The other can be had at this office by the owner.

Rev. Mr. Wilkinson of the Euphrasia circuit preached an eloquent and inspiring sermon in the Methodist church Sunday evening, his subject being "Temptation," and text James 1. 2: "My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations." Mrs. T. J Sheppard favored the audience at this service with a choice solo rendered in her usual masterly manner. It was like old times to hear Mrs. Sheppard's voice once more. She also sang at the Presbyterian service in the afternoon.

Lightning played high jinks with the frame residence of Mr. W. J. Moore, Durham Road corner, during a thunder storm that passed over about 4 a.m. on Saturday last. The fluid demolished the chimney and made scrap iron of all the stovepipes inside. The plaster was all knocked from the pantry and contents thrown out. A piece of the maple flooring two feet long was blown through into the cellar. At the time the bolt struck the dog was lying outside next the house and he was instantly killed. The members of the family escaped with a severe fright and the building was not fired.

Fenwick--Gillespie

A very interesting wedding took place at the residence of Mr. Andrew Wilson, Flesherton, on Thursday evening of last week, when Mr. Joseph Fenwick, late of British Columbia, took as a partner Mrs. Elizabeth Gillespie of this town, the ceremony being performed by Rev. L. F. Kipp, assisted by Pastor Strachan of the Thornbury Baptist church. After the ceremony Flesherton Citizens' band serenaded the happy couple and were handsomely rewarded by the groom, Mr. Andrew Wilson introducing the newly-made bride and groom. Leader Tucker wished Mr. and Mrs. Fenwick many years of prosperity and happiness. The Baptist choir also supplied some music. Mr. and Mrs. Fenwick have not fully decided where their future home will be, but wherever they should locate our best wishes go with them.

The S. Grey Conservative Candidate

The Grey Review prints the following facts regarding the life of R. J. Ball, Warden of this county and the man selected last week by the Conservatives to contest South Grey against H. H. Miller, the sitting member: He is a native of the county, having been born in the township of Normanby about 50 years ago. He began his public life as a teacher some 30 years ago, taught on third and second class certificates very successfuly for a number of years and subsequently took up insurance work. Later he secured banking experience in Hanover and still later formed a partnership with Mr. Hollinger in the furniture manufacturing business, the firm of Hollinger & Ball, running for a few years until at last the establishment came entirely under his own control and is so at present.

Some years ago R. J. asked his fellow citizens for a place in the town council and got it. For a term also he represented No. 3 Division in the County Council. Under the new system he was elected Reeve of the town and thus his County Council experience was continued. Last January he was elected Warden of the county of Grey, the highest honor he has yet reached, thus furnishing the stimulus, no doubt, to induce him to aspire to still higher honors, and to face the most popular and efficient parliamentarian South Grey has ever known.

Mr Ball is a fair speaker and in private life a most estimable gentleman. He was married to a Miss Leonard, a member of a well-known Normanby family, and their family consists of three sons and three daughters.

One hundred and twenty turkeys, roosting in the branches of a great elm just outside Dayton, Ohio, were instantly killed by a bolt of lightning which struck the tree. The dead turkeys dropped in a cloud to the ground, and at the same moment the stricken tree, falling killed two steers which had taken refuge underneath it.

Hot Electricity in Dundalk

They had a lively time for a few minutes in Dundalk at the close of the celebration on July 13, about 6 o'clock. A rain storm came on and it got quite dark in the Queen's hotel. The proprietor went to turn on the light and he got a shock and could not let go until his hands were badly burned. Another man caught hold of Mr. Maxwell and he was knocked down. All the lights were put out of business. James H. Wilkinson of Shelburne was assisting in the bar at the time and the live wire that had fallen from the ceiling struck him on the arm and knocked him insensible on the floor. When he came to he caught hold of the bar to jump out when he got another shock that knocked him out again. When he came to he made another attempt to get out and when on top of the bar rolled off and fell on the floor. In falling he hurt his leg. He was carried outside and came to his senses in a few minutes. He is very lame and has to use a cane to get around. The lights in the Grand Central hotel and J. E. Richards' store were also smashed and both buildings were fired, but the blazes were put out before much damage was done. It is supposed that the wiring in the above named places was defective. Sparks were flying in all directions from the live wire in the Queen's hotel as it swung around the bar.--Shelburne Free Press.
