EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Methodists up Amhurstburg way have the courage of their convictions, at least. They desired a certain minister but the conference did not see fit to grant their desire and sent them another man. This was resented and when the minister arrived he found the parsonage locked up, and has since been boarding out. The officials of the church explain that they have nothing against the minister, but have requested to be allowed to withdraw their church from the conference for one year. Difficulties such as this frequently occur nowadays and are the natural outgrowth of the discriminating system, that has been allowed to take root in the Methodist church of Canada. These Methodists have entered the strongest kind of protest against the system that lies in their power. Many good people will look with horror upon such a treasonable proceeding and claim that there cannot be much christian forbearance where such an act could be perpetrated, but possibly when they come to think camly over the matter they will decide that only by some radical means of this nature can the captains of the host be brought to a sense of their duty to the rank and file—rich and poor. They cannot afford to ignore the wishes of one company while granting all that another desires. The itineracy should be out out altogether or the "call" refused in every case.

A certain M. P. whos name we are not at liberty to use, recently related to The Advance the following rather good joke on himself: While attending a garden party at Rideau Hall during the regime of the Mintos of blessed memory, he was introduced to a lady whose name he failed to catch. After a few commonplaces the conversation turned to Canada and its capital and naturally drifted to to the family then at Rideau Hall. Fortunately the gentleman was an ardent admirer of the Mintos and waxed quite warm in praise of the Governor and his good wife, and said that among Canadians generally they were exceedingly popular. He noticed at the time that the conversation appeared to please the lady and she rather attempted to draw him on, but the reason did not dawn upon him until some time afterward, when he learned that it was Lady Minto herself to whom he had been offering his flattering comments. The next time he met Lady Minto she had a twinkle in her eye that was easy of interpretation, and caused the M. P. to pity himself, at the same time congratulating himself that it was no worse.

The Prince of Wales, Sir Wilfred Laurier, Mr. Borden and one or two others are to be presented with a set each of the new tercentennial stamp. As these cost only 61 cents per set there is not likely to be any strenuous opposition to the outlay.

Sir James Whitney it now is. A popular novel is entitled "When Knighthood was in flower." Knighthoods appear to have been blooming well down around Quebec during the past week, and our plain Mr. Whitney has come home with one of the "blooming" Knighthoods. Well! Well! and ahem!

A Rochester young man drove his auto into the Erie Canal and he and a young lady accompanying him were drowned. Several other accidents have occurred to auto drivers in Canada recently. We thank our stars every day that we decided not to buy that $6000 machine. A walking stick is more in our line.

They Buried the Beans.

A comical incident marked th break-up of the camp of the Queen's Own at Quebec.

There had, of course, been the usual amount of grumbling at the monotony of camp fare, the surfeit of beans being a subject of especial complaint.

Sunday afternoon some wags procured a plate of beans and samples of the other rations provided, and started a funeral procession through the ranks. The whole regiment caught on to the joke, and soon an imposing cortege was in progress. First came the regimental band, playing the "dead march," next the late lamented beans and other remains, with a lighted candle borne aloft. The luckless camp cook was seized and carried on a stretcher, and a firing party accompanied the procession. After a solemn progress through the ranks, with officers and men saluting, the defunct rations were interred with full military honors and the grave was decorated. For the remainder of the day all visitors and soldiers were compelled to reverently bare their heads when appreacning the place of sepulchre.

Take a Vacation

Now is the time to take a vacation, get out into the woods, fields and mountains and visit the seashore, but do not forget to take a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy along with you. It is almost certain to be needed and cannot be obtained on railroad trains or steamships. It is too much of a risk for anyone to leave home on a journey without it. For sale by W. E. Richardson.

The Owen Sound Times says: A Campbell-street citizen was deputed the other day to buy an article for his wife—a blouse, or something else that women wear, it makes no difference to the story just what. He modestly stated his mission to the young lady behind the counter. "What bust?" she inquired. "Well I, don't thind anything did," was the reply: "thing simply wore out.
