VARICOCELE CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

HENRY C. LOCUST.

Some Good News Items

Squire Hickey of Cooksville sold $600 worth of strawberries off one acre of land this season. The prices ranged from 10 cents to 5½ cents a basket.

Two men were killed by lightning at Virden, Man., while standing in the doorway of a barn.

Two young ladies of Mt. Forest are being laughed at on account of an experience they had with a horse while out driving. A male friend met them vainly endeavoring to prevent their steed taking them up a farmer's lane instead of continuing on the way he should go. When he suggested to them that perhaps they would meet with better success in guiding their horse if the bit was in the animal's mouth instead of under its chin, they for the first time became aware of what was wrong. The bit was then put where it belonged and the ladies proceeded on their way rejoicing.

Among other things the Olympic games at London, England, will serve to popularize the metric system throughout the world, more especially in America where the reform has not yet been generally adopted. The metre was adopted as the unit of a decimal system of measurements by the scientists of France at the time of the French revolution and has been slowly making its way since against the ingrained conservatism of mankind. It is the length of a pendulum beating seconds at the level of the sea, about 39.37 inches, or, roughly speaking, a yard. More accurately, it is a yard and a tenth, so that a race of 100 metres is very nearly 110 yards.

Mrs. Sarah Coulson of Owen Sound pleaded guilty of keeping liquor for sale and was fined $30 and costs. The ingenuity of the person who concocted the scheme to fool the inspector almost deserved a better reward. When Mr. Beckett visited the house a week or two ago he found in the bar a harmless necessary water tap—at least it appeared so. Mr. Beckett has the investigating habit and followed up the pipe and found in a quiet corner another pipe connected, with cut offs on each. Further investigation showed that one pipe contained water, the other beer. Mr. Beckett took some samples, but had not time to trace the beer pipe back to its beginning. When he returned to continue his investigations the tap was doing duty as a water tap only. The beer end of the combination was gone, but there was no getting around the fact that it had been there. Mr. Beckett had the goods to show for it so the only thing to do was to own up and pay the fine.

Prof. Fletcher of the Dominion experimental farm gives the following remedy for cabbage worms, which are such a bugbear to cabbage raisers: The safest and best remedy for this insect which every year does so much harm, is Insect Powder diluted with four times its quantity of common flour. After mixing thoroughly place in a tight canister or jar and close up for 24 hours before using. When required for use, put a few ounces in a small bag of fine muslin or cheese cloth, tie this bag to the end of a short stick, so that it swings freely, and holding it over each plant give it a slight blow with a light stick. This will discharge enough of the powder to cover each plant, and the powder falling on the caterpillars will kill every one it touches, or the poison being wet with rain or dew the infusion will run down and will have the same effect. Insect powder although very fatal to insects is not poisonous to the higher animals and therefore is much safer to use on plants which are eaten as vegetables than Paris Geen which is sometimes used. On late cabbages which have not begun to head up Paris Green may be used for the first brood of cabbage worms which begins to be noticeably destructive in the beginning of July.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100,000.

In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar of Cat Islann, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in time I believe it would have saved me a hundred dollars doctor's bill.
