One thing that the new C. P. R. line has killed is the Durham stage line. There has been a stage running between Walkerton and Durham for as far back as the oldest inhabitant can remember, fifty years or thereabouts. The horses were generally pretty hard looking specimens of the equine family, lame and halt, and all the rest of it, and the old covered wagon was neither a thing of beauty nor one of comfort. But for all these draw backs the old stage was on time. It was a bad snowstorm that could stop the Durham stage; indeed we are not aware that it was ever stopped by anything. But it is gone at last. The old Black Maria has been discarded and for the last few days the proprietor has been doing the trip in a single buggy, simply to fill the condition of his mail contract. But this is not paying him, and he is anxious to be released of his contract. When this stage line or mail line was first started the mail was carried on horseback. Later on Coulson of Owen Sound, the greatest stage man this north country has ever seen, got hold of it, and he equipped it with a wagon for the summer and sleighs for the winter. Soon it passed into other hands, Archie Todd, of Walkerton, running it for four years. Perhaps the man who stayed with the job longer than anybody else was W. E. Taylor, of Walkerton. Mr. Taylor held it down for 16 consecutive years, during all of which time we have been told he never missed a trip.—Walkerton Telescope.

Sixteen negroes from Barbadoes are stranded at Virden, Man., and are a public charge on the town. They went west with the harvesters' excursions as farm laborers, but the farmers' wives objected to their presence on the farms, so they were refused work. Since that time they have been idle and now are destitute. As the men appeared to be above the ordinary class of negroes the citizens of the town interested themselves in the case, and they were all given work in the coal mines of Roche Percee, ten miles southeast of the town. A private citizen, named Davis, has also taken an active interest in the case, and an indignation meeting of the citizens is being called, when the matter will be thoroughly investigated.

The sheaf-loading machine invented by Messrs. Fisher and Robson, which has been undergoing some alterations during the last few months, was tested on Friday afternoon on Mr. James Patterson's farm and worked perfectly. The machine was put to work in some very hard shocks of wheat, but it elevated the sheaves with the greatest of care and proved that it can put on an average load in about two minutes. The inventors have demonstrated that they can produce a machine that will handle the sheaves so gently that there is no danger of shelling the grain. The machine is so designed particularly for the use of western farmers, where basket racks are used and there is little or no building of the load.—Alliston Herald.

A man named James McChesney, who was committed to the asylum at Kingston, from the township of Clarke, escaped in June, and has been at large ever since. A guard was sent to look for him, and located him in a piece of woods near Kendal, but could not get near him. He has lived there all summer. Thursday last Chief Jarvis, acting on a warrant from F. B. Lovekin, Newcastle, went out, and, after a chase, succeeded in capturing him. McChesney looks rather weather-beaten, and was armed with a gun and an axe. He had over $50 in his purse, and has since been re-committed to the asylum.

A man named Anderson, of Orangeville, received severe injuries in the station yard here on Tuesday afternoon. He was doing some repairing in the yard and did not notice that they were shunting some cars on the siding where he was working. A car struck him and he grabbed an iron rod and held on and was dragged some distance. He was badly cut on the head and one hand was badly mangled. Dr. A. T. Steele attended to his injuries and has good hopes of saving the hand.—Shelburne Economist.

A few weeks ago a supposedly mad dog run amuck through Burford Tp, the animal in its career biting a number of sheep and pigs. A farmer living near Scotland, named Grundy, has lost six sheep as a result of being bitten. One or two pigs in the neighborhood it is also feared are suffering from rabies and have been isolated and a careful watch kept over them by order of the authorities.—Paris Star.

Royal names for hotels are sometimes the cause of peculiar misunderstandings. An aged farmer from the home country decided to make a visit to Toronto. It was the first time he had been at the city station and when a hotel crier hurried to him with the interrogation, "King Edward?" the new comer smiled as he answered, "No sir—Thomas Cox, of Eramosa."

A worthy old Quaker lady and her son, John, were once called upon to entertain a number of ladies at dinner during quarterly meeting. As John began to crave the broiled chickens he entered upon a flowery speech of welcome, but in the midst of his flattering utterances his mother, who was somewhat deaf, piped up from the other end of the table: "You needn't be praising of 'em up, John. I'm afraid they're a lot of tough old hens, every one of 'em."

The seven prisoners who escaped from Toronto Jail made their way out through the execution room. If some of them do not change their ways they may be let out of such a chamber some day by means of a trap-door.

"Hecla" Furnace

Means Perfect Heating without Gas, Dust or Smoke.

The "Hecla" Furnace is the only Furnace with Fused Joints.

These Joints are made by fusing the steel and cast iron parts together at white heat making an indestructible joint. Fused Joints are permanently airtight. Even after 20 years' use they will not work loose or leak. They insure absolute freedom from dust, smoke and gas.

The Steel-Ribbed Fire Pot used on the "Hecla" Furnace has three times as much radiating surface as any other style of fire pot. It will save fuel for you and give you more heat. It extracts from the fire, heat that would otherwise go up the chimney.

Let us show you the 1908 "Hecla" and explain all the latest improvements in detail.
