Port Law

(Held over from last week)

Mrs. John Haney passed away on August 26th at the home of her daughter n Dundalk, aged 67 years. During the last year of her life she was a great sufferer from cancer, and to her death was a happy release from pain which was patiently borne. She had learned to set her affections on things above and died with implicit trust in her Saviour. When a mere child she came with her parents from Ireland and settled in the Township of Mulmur, where she married her husband who predeceased her about two years ago. A family of three daughters and seven sons mourn the loss of an affectionate mother. The daughters are Mrs. Wm. R. Morrow, Dundalk; Mrs. Wm. Taylor, Portlaw; and Mrs. J. L. Wood, Ceylon. The sons are Thomas and Edward of Toronto, Robert and Albert of Dundalk, and John and George at home. Her sister is Mrs. A. McDuff of Dundalk. Her brothers are John Stephens, of Tara, William of Markdale, Richard of Wiarton and Edward of Dundalk. The funeral took place on Friday last from Dundalk to Mount Zion. The service was conducted by Mr. Gaudin, Rev. Messrs Ferguson of Dundalk and Laidlaw assisting. Six sons acted as pall-bearers.

Harvesting is practically over.

Mr. Edward Watson should have been mentioned as one of our young men who have gone west.

Mr. Henry Holman returned last week to the hospital in Toronto.

Mrs. Jamieson, who has been visiting her son the past few weeks, left for Toronto on Monday.

T. R. and Mrs. McKenzie accompanied the remains of the former's sister, Mrs. Bell of West Toronto, to Owen Sound, where interment took place last week.

The Royal Templars are anticipating a meeting of more than usual interest next week. A question drawer and other interesting features should bring all the members out.

Rock Mills

Farmers who have clover to cut and draw in should get it done while the weather is dry and the sun shines.

Mr. Levi Betts' youngest son has been very ill, but is somewhat better.

Our esteemed lady postmistress seems to understand her work and does it up in a first class way.

Two drunken men whose names we withold for shame's sake, entered into the home of John Smith, 3rd line, and abused him shamefully. They were before the magistrate on Thursday last. Such men, who cannot let civil people alone, ought to be sent down.

Mr. Harry Thompson's sister, who has been visiting them for some time past, returned to Toronto on Friday morning. accompanied by her three little nephews,

Mrs. E. G Cross and baby, of Wiarton, came down Saturday to spend a few days with her mother.

A Travelling man Received the Thanks of Every Passenger in the Car.

"I must tell you my experience on an East bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to LeGrande, Ore., writes Sam A. Garber, a well known travelling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, "There is a woman sick unto death in the car." I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic, so bad, in fact I was almost afraid to take the risk; her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a deathlike look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whiskey. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stired it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into LeGrande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by time the train ran into LeGrande she was all right, and I received thanks of every passenger in the car." For sale by W. E. Richardson.

The Khan Reminisces

Wherever I go I see upon the boardings the announcement of the big fall fairs. It is the first chill breath.

And it comes so soon. Why, it was only yesterday we raked the garden and sowed the phlox Drummondi, and since then the roses are gone and the lilies of the valley, and the sweet flags are gone, too, and the lilacs—it seems years since the lilac time.

But when I see the fall fair notices upon the dead walls I know that is the beginning of the end. For there be stubble fields now, and strawstacks, and men are getting killed in threshing machines.

Well, there is one comfort about it: we will soon quit getting drowned. About fall fair time the water is too cold, and we don't go out and get drowned with the regularity and precision which is our chief characteristic in the hayday of summer. We will put it off till the ice is thin, and then we will get drowned every here and there, and they will drag for us and hold inquests, preach funeral sermons, and the able editor will write the perennial warning, but what's left of us will go right along getting drowned next spring when the water gets warm.

When it was May it looked a long way off—the fall fair—and now when the fall fair is asserting itself the May was only yesterday.

John Baker was charged before Judge Hatton with a criminal assult upon an old woman at Hanover last July. The evidence was conflicting and the prisoner got the benefit of the doubt with a warning to be careful of his behavior in the future.

Markdale Furniture Factory is now in good shape for business, but business is not by any means booming. Many furniture factories are closed down, owing to lack of demand for orders. However, as soon as times improve and a competent practical man can be secured as manager, the factory will begin operations.—Markdale Standard.

Mr. R. H. S. Allan, who is running the Clarksburg planing mill, met with a hard streak of luck on Monday when his dam went out. Only recently he had it built and without any warning it was swept down the river about 10 o'clock. He had only the use of it about five days.—Reflector.

The Craighurst correspondent of The Packet, Orillia, says: "A party of engineers and one hundred Italians are announced to be here next week, to begin widening cuts, raising trrcks, and surveying a line to Collingwood." Craighurst is on the C. P. R. new Sudbury line about twenty-seven miles from Collingwood and a few miles east of Baxter whence it has been expected that the C. P. R. would extend to Collingwood. Nothing official has yet been learned here of the proposed survey.

The village of Williamsford has a sensation in the shape of a real live shooting affray. Robert Gatis, the school teacher of the village, and who lives with his mother, Mrs. Riggs, fired shots at a number of boys breaking into his mother's orchard, and one of the bullets lodged in the leg of Chas. Roberts, one of the boys. Gatis will appear at the fall assizes.

COLLINSON BROS.

The barn of Peter Ferry of the 3rd line of Euphrasia was burned on Monday last. The origin of the fire is a mystery, but it is supposed to have been caused by damp straw in the straw stack heating and causing spontaneous combustion. All the contents of the barn were burned, also a number of pigs. With much trouble a valuable horse was saved. The fire spread in the direction of the Methodist church which caught fire and was burned down and it even spread down through the farm of Mr. Dickinson. Mr. Ferry had recently threshed and his loss will be serious.—Reflector.

Kate Dolan, daughter of John Dolan of of Hall's Corners, had both of her arms broken at the wrist, as the result of a fall from the mow of the barn to the barn floor.

Frank Durga, a human ostrich, had an inconvenience in his stomach and was operated on by two doctors in a North Bend, Oregon, hospital. Weight, 1 pound 14 ounces. The operation occupied 55 minutes.
