EDITORIAL COMMENT

Mr. W. P. Telford has been renominated to contest North Grey in the coming Dominion election

The Dominion election is expected to take place about Nov. 3, although the exact date is not yet decided upon. Hon. Wilfrid Laurier opened the campaign in Quebec last week by an address at Sorel.

J. W. Stratton has been nominated for the Dominion House in West Peterboro. It is said Mr. Gamey will probably have something to say in Mr. Stratton's riding during the campaign. If he does, there ought to be some interesting times down in West Peterboro.

Some years ago a Boston professor published a book in which he endeavored to prove that the Eden of the Bible was situated at the north pole, and not in the Euphrates valley as was generally believed. He adduced, too, a surprising mass of evidence to prove his contention, both scientific and legendary, The book made some interesting reading but was not taken very seriously by the public. He endeavored to prove that at one time the north polar latitudes embraced a torrid region in the process of the earth s cooling and formed the first spot on earth habitable by man. Only this week the cable tells us that the British Scientific Association has discovered some startling facts that go to prove correct the theory of the Boston professor, but include also the antarctic polar regions in the former habitable climate. The investigation of sunken continents prove by fossil and geological remains that the frigid polar regions were at one time of a tropical nature and covered by tropical verdure. The writer of the book referred to, painted a word picture of the first abode of mankind, where the sun shone for six months in the year and the moon and brilliant auroras made the other six months almost as bright as day, but with the heat tempered by the sun's absence. It would make too long an article for these columns to follow the argument referred to. We mention it simply to chronicle one more instance where theory and deduction have been followed hard by scientific proof. It is an unimportant matter in itself where Eden was located, but the proven fact that our polar regions were the first portions of our globe habitable by man and the strong probability that on sunken continents there our forefathers first saw the light of the new sun, is not only exceedingly fascinating knowledge, but it will start scientific research in a new channel. It will also cause us to stretch our imaginations over a vaster period of time than we have been wont to do when gauging the vast period of time that must have elapsed since the three rivers that flowed out of paradise were merged into one great arctic ocean, in the slow submergence of past ages.

Mr. Wm. VanHorne's four year old daughter, Dollie, died at Walkerton from burns caused by playing with matches. The child was playing in a room up stairs and began lighting matches with the result that her clothes caught fire and before it could be extinguished she was burned badly. The funeral took place on Sunday.

Sidney Violet, who is living with Geo. Hand of Mulmur, was engaged in the mow putting away grain and while waiting for another load to come in, lay down on the beam and fell asleep. He awoke just as the team was coming in and fell off the beam to the floor, a distance of 18 feet, receiving a bad shaking up.

John Bailey of 10 sideroad, Mulmur, met with a serious accident on Tuesday of last week. He was engaged drawing in grain and the unloading was done with a horse and grain lifter. Something went wrong with the business and the whiffletree to which the horse was attached fell and struck Mr. Bailey in the face cutting his upper lip clear through.—Free Press.

Girls of a marriageable age do not like to tell how old they are, but you can find out by following the subjoined instructions, the young lady doing the figuring. Tell her to put down the number of the month in which she was born, then to add 5, then to multiply it by 50, then to add her age, then to subtract 365, then to add 315, then tell her to tell you the amount she has left. The two figures to the right will tell you her age and the remainder the month of her birth. For example, if the amount is 822 she is 22 years of age and was born in the eighth month (August). Try it.

A Chesley despatch says: Wm. J. Crow, a prominent young cattle dealer, commited suicide sometime this afternoon (Wednesday) by blowing his brains out in his own barn. The last seen of Crow in Chesley was last Friday, he was seen at different neighboring towns afterwards, and it is supposed he returned home sometime last night. Crow leaves a wife and two children.

Fire destroyed the barns of Miss Farr and John Staples, Glenelg, about two miles from Durham, wiping out all the season's crop and burning a team of horses the property of Geo. Aljoe, who was working the former's place on shares. The fire started from a threshing engine in Miss Farr's barn and spread so rapidly that there was scarcely time for the threshers to escape with their lives. Although the separator was removed in time, it was considerably scorched Burning shingles ignited the barn of Mr. John Staples, a quarter of a mile away, and this in turn placed Wm. Weir's property furthur on in such imminent danger that it was only by hard work it was saved. The Durham fire brigade stood in readiness to respond to a call, but were not needed. The loss will be over $6,000 with practically no insurance.
