Maxwell Items

Hawton—Brownridge—The home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brownridge, Maxwell was the scene of a pretty event, September 9th, when their only daughter, Elsie May, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Samuel Hawton, son of the late Mr. Isaac Hawton of 12th line Osprey, by their pastor, Rev. A. P. Stanley. While Mrs. Stanley played Mendelssohn's Wedding March the bridal party appeared and took their places under a large wedding bell and bower of greenery, decorated with wide white crepe ribbon. The bride, in a gown of soft pale blue silk trimmed with chiffon and alover lace, her veil caught up with white asters, and her boquet asters and sweet peas—was a picture of daintiness. Miss Flossie Clinton, a cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid in a pretty white silk waist and pale blue lustre skirt. Mr. Alfred Hawton did duties of best man. After the ceremony and congratulations, the guests, numbering about fifty, were invited to the dining room where a table of good things awaited them. Many pretty and useful presents were received, the groom's present to the bride being a gold Norma bracelet, and to the bridesmaid a gold brooch and to the groomsman a pair of gold cuff links. Mr. and Mrs. Hawton left on a short trip to Toronto—the bride travelling in a brown suit of ladies cloth with a white velvet hat trimmed with two plumes. Their many friends wish them a happy and prosperous journey through life.

The Regina Leader says: Upon the Provincial Department of Agriculture drawing the C P. R. Company's attention to the congestion which existed at various points. Second Vice-President Whyte immediately wired instructions to agents to waive the thirty days' employment clause and issue return tickets at the reduced rates to harvesters desirous of returning home. In taking this course the C. P. R. did the right thing, and, coupled with their action and cancelling the last of their excursions, it indicates their desire to be honest and square with the people in this matter.

A Travelling man Received Thanks of Every Passenger in the C...

"I must tell you my experience on an East bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to LeGrande, Ore., writes Sam A. Garber, a well known travelling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came back and said, "There is a woman sick unto death in the car." I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic, so bad, in fact I was almost afraid to take the risk; her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a deathlike look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whiskey. I went to my suit case and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into LeGrande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by time the train ran into LeGrande she was all right, and I received thanks of every passenger in the car." For sale by W. E. Richardson.

Smith--Bentham

The following from the Dunkirk, N.Y., Observer, will be of interest to many of our readers here, both of the principals being well and favorably known in this section. Mr. Smith learned his trade in this office and is prospering in the west. We tender most sincere congratulations. The Observer says: "The marriage of Miss Annie Madeline Bentham, daughter of Mrs. Helen Bentham of 29 East Front street, to Mr. Wm. Wesley Smith, a well known newspaperman of Battleford, Sask., Canada, took place at 2.30 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the bride's home. Only the immediate members of the two families were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Jay T. Badgley, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. There were no attendants. Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for a visit to Toronto, after which they will go to Battleford, where they will make their home. They will be accompanied by the bride's mother, Mrs. Helen Bentham."
