The C. P. R. Will Carry the Mail

The Durham Review says: "Since the new railway has been running through to Hanover and Walkerton, liveryman "Billy" Caldwell, the stage proprietor, has been up against a losing proposition. He had practically only the mail carrying left, the passengers and parcels going by C. P. R, so he applied to H. H. Miller, M. P., to be released from his contract. Mr. Miller at once busied himself in the matter by writing the Post Master-General, who has consented to the change as the following letter indicates:

Ottawa, 4th Sept., 1908.

H. H. Miller, M. P.,
Hanover, Ont.

Dear Sir,

In accordance with your request, the Department has authorized the using for mail purposes of the new C. P. Railway between Saugeen Junction and Walkerton.

This change will be put into operation at as early a date as possible, and will, it is trusted, prove satisfactory.

Yours truly,
Rodolphe Lemieux."

This will let Mr. Tucker, who has been driving the Durham-Flesherton stage, out of a losing proposition, also. It will be with but few regrets that he sees the iron horse doing the trip with the mail.

Some time ago a wee bit of humanity visited Flesherton. The same little fellow was interviewed by the Wiarton Canadian which says: The Canadian was favored with a call on Saturday afternoon from Mr. Charles Soley, who is about the smallest bit of humanity for his age that has ever struck this place. Charles was born in Southampton, England, in 1859, and the sum and total of his height (or depth) is 3 feet 4 inches, and his weight is 73 pounds all told. The same Charles has a luxuriant growth of whiskers and smokes a full sized pipe. This rival of the world-famous Tom Thumb has a grievance against the railways because they charge him full fare, and this, he says, eats up most of the profits of his piccolo playing, although a neat and cosy little home 12x14 feet, on a lot 20x140 feet at Wychwood, near Toronto, is a monument to the thrift of the little fellow. Charles informed The Canadian that his mother was living and was 77 years of age and that "mamma kept things nice and tidy" about his house. Some 12 years ago this diminutive specimen visited these parts. He is an accomplished piccolo player, and, as he says, he has something to "show for his nickles."

Last June the Division Court quashed the local option by-law in the town of Orillia. Some time last week the town of Orillia applied for leave of appeal to effect the restoration of the by-law. Mr. Justice Osler has given judgement refusing leave to appeal. Mr. Frank Hodgins K. C., appeared for the town of Orillia, and Mr. James Haverson, K C., for the liquor interests.

Forest fires are raging in many parts of the Eastern townships, and heavy damage is being done. Cobalt and Ottawa have been enveloped in a dense smoke for days. In the region of Duluth and Port Arthur a slight rain has checked the flames, but has not removed the the danger.

When Arthur Whittaker was run down by a C. P. R. construction train while riding a jigger on the track he received injuries that tore an alarming quantity of flesh and skin from his left leg and made a wound that was ugly, dangerous and painful. The physician in attendance, Dr. H. H. Sinclair, tried the experiment of grafting pig's skin onto the injured limb. The operation, which we believe is a new departure in local surgery here, took place at the hospital on Tuesday of last week, and considerable interest and anxiety was manifested in the outcome. The patient, however, commenced to grow to the pig-skin or the pig-skin began to grow to him, we are not certain which, but at all events a perfect limb is now the outcome, and so successfully did the grafter cover up his traces that it would now bother a casuist to tell just which is the pig and which is the man. This is a new method of putting a man on the hog. —Bruce times.

Speaking at the great political gathering at Niagara Falls on Tuesday the Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, Postmaster General, foreshadowed the delivery of the rural mails throughout the Dominion. The service will be first inaugurated along the existing mail routes, boxes for which already have been approved by the Department and the service, he said, would be begun very soon. The cost will be within the means of the country. His words as reported by the Toronto World were: "I have much pleasure in informing you that we have developed a scheme of delivery for the Province of Ontario and the Dominion of Canada, by which we will be able to equip every existing mail route in the Dominion with mail boxes placed at the door of every house and at the junction of the main road and concession lines in order to save the travel of two or three miles to reach the nearest post office.

Seymour Peppler, the bright little son of Mr and Mrs. Alexander Peppler, lies at his home, Hanover, in a critical condition. He and a number of his little boy chums had climbed a couple of shade trees across the road from the Peppler residence. Seymour, it appears, took hold of electric light wires passing through the trees, receiving such a shock and to such a degree it is said that he couldn't let go. He called loudly for his father and mother, but they did not hear him and a few moments afterwards there was a thud. The little chap had held onto the wire, it is believed, until he was insensible and then fell to the ground, a distance of 25 feet, landing on his head on the cement sidewalk. His escape from instant death is remarkable, but he is a powerfully built little fellow, with strong shoulders neck and thick skull. When picked up he was, of course, insensible, and has been suffering since with concussion of the brain. Since coming to he has told his parents of the severe shock he received, and the pitiful tale makes one shudder. His attending physician holds out fair chances for recovery, and the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Peppler trust that the best may be realized.

Magistrate Creasor, of Owen Sound, sentenced Matthew Simmons, proprietor of the Coulson House, to four months in jail. Simmons pleaded guilty to a second offence of selling liquor illegally.

Hon. R. L. Borden, leader of the Conservative party in the House of Commons, is to visit Hanover on Oct. 1st, in behalf of the candidature of R. J. Ball, the popular candidate for South Grey. Premier Sir James P. Whitney, it is said, will cut his visit in England short that he may accompany Mr. Borden in his tour of the Province and may also be at Hanover.

It would seem as if partridges were aware of the protection offered by the game laws this season. One day last week one of these game birds flew into Mr. Gardiner's lawn in the village. Another came into C. McConnell's kitchen on Sunday. Geo. Curliss saw a flock of a dozen or so on Sunday and they didn't fly away with the usual buzz. Apparently the birds are driven out of the bush by the fires and smoke.—Herald.

Mrs. Hanbury of Dundalk is the guest of friends in town.
