VARICOCELE CURED

☞ NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were sure and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

On Sunday evening the barn of Mr. John Collier, on the 3rd concession of Glenelg, was nearly destroyed by fire. Just how the fire originated is somewhat of a mystery, but it is believed to have started from a parlor match that was mixed in with the hay, being set off by one of the animals teeth coming in contact with it, or being scraped by one of its feet. Mr. Collier's seventeen year-old son went to the barn on the afternoon in question and fed the stock, returning to the house shortly afterwards. Happening to look out the window, a member of the family observed smoke issuing from the building. The boy ran to the barn and found the fire confined principally to a stall and manger in which was a valuable horse, and in the adjoining passageway. Luckily a couple of buckets of milk, which were to be used to feed some calves, were standing near, and which sufficed to hold the flames in check until sufficient water could be produced to thoroughly quench them. The horse instead of jumping back from the flames leaped into the manger into the midst of them and was badly burned about the legs, breast and head. A. C. Wolfe V. S. was called and dressed the injured animal, which though badly burned, will, in all probability, recover. The match theory is the only one that seems to work out in the case, as Mr. Collier had not been near the barn and his son does not smoke. It was a close call anyway and from whatever cause, Mr. Collier had an almost miraculous escape from having his season's labors wiped out in less time than it takes to tell it.—Durham Chronicle.

Last week Adam Densmore was turning over some new ground on his farm, Lot 18, con. 1, West Luther, when his plough struck something hard, and pried an odd-looking affair out of the ground. He investigated and found it the skull of an elk—a species of deer—with parts of the horns intact. The backbone and ribs were also recovered. He brought the head to town where it roused not a little excitement among the sportsmen. The bones are about two inches in diameter, round in form, have a number of prongs, and must have been four feet in length. Strange what hidden secrets lie beneath the ground only waiting for chance or accident to reveal them. What a mystery is surrounded by this find. How many years have passed since the beast lay down to die in the dense swamp which covered that particular part? Many, no doubt, because no one remembers ever seeing one of this species here.—Grand Valley Star.

Municipal clerks have received from the registrar-general of Ontario sets of blank forms prepared under the new law for registration of births, marriages and deaths, and will supply the same to clergymen, physicians and others whose duty it is under the statute to make returns to the clerk. All the old forms remaining in the hands of professional men should be returned to the clerk for cancellation, as returns may only be made upon the new ones. The Clerk's instructions on the latter point are mandatory and therefore inconvenience will be avoided if the new forms be at once secured. The intention is by provisions of the new act to secure fuller and more reliable information.

Here is The Mildmay Gazet's weekly sensation: Mr. James Spence of Amaranth is the owner of a very ambitious hen who is not content to lay eggs in lowly places, but, like a bird, selects a tree. For a number of days Mrs. Spence noticed the hen cackling around the tree and looked in vain for eggs among the berry bushes, but at last a nest was noticed in a willow tree and five eggs were found it it. Dead leaves in the tree had fallen in the crotch of some branches and there the hen chose her nest.

Stomach troubles would more quickly disappear if the idea of treating the cause rather then the effect, would come into practice. A tiny, inside, hidden nerve, says Dr. Shoop, governs and gives strength to the stomach. A branch also goes to the heart, and one to the kidneys. When these "inside nerves" fail then the organs must falter. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is directed specifically to these failing nerves. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment patients say they realize a gain. Sold by all dealers.

Thieves broke into Robt. Braiden's barn south of Shelburne three times last week and got away with a quantity of grain on each occasion. Mr. Braiden has the place now properly protected and the next thief who attempts to get in will get a surprise that may hasten his death if he has any tendency to heart failure. We understand that a large quantity of grain was taken.—Free Press.

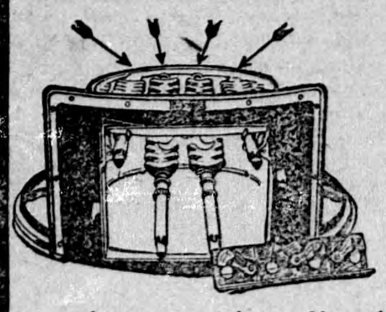
Let us show you how easy it is to shake the

"Hecla" Furnace



The "Hecla" has four grate bars. Each one can be shaken separately. This means that you can shake down just the part of the fire where the ashes are, without disturbing the rest of the coals.

With "Hecla" Triangular Grate Bars, you can get rid of all the ashes—save coal—keep the fire bright and clean—and do away with sifting ashes, because no fresh coal or half-burnt clinkers come down in the ashpan.

We would be pleased to talk over the furnace question with you and show you, part by part, just why the "Hecla" Furnace is the best for you to buy. Come in any time.
