He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your NEW METHOD TREATMENT for a serious blood disease with which I had been inflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians, taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the NEW METHOD TREATMENT for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish." W. The Marvel Safety Razor

Is a perfectly practical razor. The price is 15c. This fact alone sets the the town talking. Who ever thought of such a thing? It makes our store a Mecca for mankind, who crowd in to buy MARVEL RAZORS. Don't immagine that the low price in any way militates against the effectiveness of the razor. It is just as good as the $5.00 kind for all practical purposes. The absolute guarante of the maker on every metal box to refund the money if the razors are not perfectly satisfactory.

An Heroic Death

The circumstances surrounding the drowning of Malcolm McGregor, first mate of the steamer, Scottish Hero, Capt. McIntyre, which occurred on the up trip to Port Arthur last week, are extremely sad. He died the death of a hero, giving his life in a vain attempt to assist others and passing four men, who were under his command in a yawl boat, into safety before himself accepting the proffered help, which would have saved him had he been possessed of his full strength.

While the steamer was opposite Point Iroquois, on the Americah shore, on her trip up a fire was noticed on shore, and, as it was apparently making very dangerous the position of the people there, McGregor volunteered to his captain, McIntyre, that he would go ashore with assistance. Four others of the crew volunteered, and the five set out in a yawl boat. It was pitch dark and the sea was running so high that no headway could be made whatever.

After battling with the waves until it was apparent that all attempts to reach the shore would be furtile and the boat had begun to fill with water, they turned to return to the steamer. When they reached her side the yawl boat was practically full of water, and the men all but perished with cold and exhaustion. A aope ladder was thrown over to them, and the four of the crew succeeded in hanging on, to be taken aboard one by one until the mate alone was left. The rope was thrown to him and he was hauled a part of the way up, but before he could be taken aboard his strength gave out and he dropped into the blackness of the watter. Though every attempt possible was made, he could not be found.

Wiltshire Got His Money

James A. Wiltshire thinks he is the luckiest man in Proton. Last week the Herald reported his loss of $600 in cash while on the train between New York city and Buffalo a couple of weeks ago. He arrived in Dundalk minus his money and without any clue as to whether it was lost from his pocket or stolen. He notified the police in Buffalo as soon as he missed the wad and advertised in three city dailies. He came on home to Dundalk feeling very down-hearted but was surprised to receive a telegraph message from a stranger in Buffalo stating that he found the money and asking what disposal he would make of it. This was almost too good to be true, thought Wiltshire and he had a real suspicion that there was some scheme on. However he wired back instructing the stranger to take from the pocket book the reward offered and express the balance to Dundalk. He was doubly surprised to get a parcel by Saturday's express and on opening it he could hardly believe his eyes. There was the money complete. The finder informed Mr. Wiltshire that he found the money in the toilet room on the New York Central train coming into Buffalo. This is a rare case of honesty when the temptation to be dishonest was exceedingly inviting. That Buffalo man has a conscience worth having. We are accustomed to regard this life as one of continuous grasping for money but there are those who do not accept the almighty dollar as the greatest thing on earth. Mr. Wiltshire has been in New York nearly three years, leaving here in the early spring of 1906 and he has been employed as carpenter at good wages in a railway repair gang. He will likely settle down to farming in Proton.—Herald.

Ceylon

Mr. J. W. Hodgson of Hornings Mills shipped another fine car load of stock from the C. P. R. station here on Monday.

Mr. Edw. Sargent is having his residence bricked. This makes considerable improvement in it's appearance, as well as as well as adding to the comfort of the family.

Miss Flossie Ferguson has left Mr. Jas. Pattison's to return home. Her place is being filled, for the present, by Miss Sadie McKechnie of Lion's Head, a sister of Mrs. David Dow. Miss Ferguson had become quite a favorite with the young people here.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hall of Westfield visited friends in Flesherton and Ceylon on Saturday and Sunday last. She is a daughter of J. W. Hodgson of Hornings Mills.

Mrs. Angus McLeod is enclosing her residence with metallic brick sheeting. She is also replacing the doors and windows with new ones, which will make a great improvement.

Mr. T. A. Gilchrist has purchased a handsome driver and a buggy from Robt. Bates.

Mr. Isaac Sargent took unto himself a partner in life last week. We wish the young couple much happiness through life.

We are glad to see Mr. John Chislett around again after his long illness.

Andrew Sproat has gone to the north shore to timber for the winter.

Jas. Sproat took a trip to Collingwood last week.

The Italians over whom J. L. Woods is time-keeper presented him with a fur-lined coat and a pair of gloves last week.

Mr. Brock Patton has returned to his home at Owen Sound after spending some time here.

Harry Patton of Walkerton grve his friends a call last Monday.

Over 1100 appeals were made against the Owen Sound voters' list this year.

The loss of the steamer J. H. Jone nearly two years ago is recalled by memento of the ill-fated boat which wa pitched up some days ago on the north shore of the Georgian bay and may now be seen at the warehouse of the Dominion Transportation Co. It is a board bearing the name J. H. Jones and is from the bow of the boat. The board is painted black, with the name in gilt letters. It has been split by some means so that only the bottom part of the first J remains on the narrow end of the board, while almost the entire S remains at the wide end. It was brought down by the City of Meaford on Sunday and handed over to Mr. Armour, the wharfinger, by Engineer Silas Heverley. The Jones was wrecked near Cape Croker on the 22nd November, 1906, when twenty-seven lives were lost.—O. S. Advertiser.

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child, if there is feverishness, night or day. Herein probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in 5c boxes for the pocket, also in 25c boxes of 60 Preventics. Insist on your druggists giving you

"ALL DEALERS"

Mr. Roy Mitchell, Clarksburg had a thrilling experience a few evenings ago. As he was out looking for cows he noticed an animal crouching preparatory to making a spring at him, but luckily he had his gun with him, and being a good shot quickly fired and killed the ferocious beast which proved to be a large catamount, sometimes known as a wildcat. It measured three feet longand two feet high, and evidently had been driven from the mountain by the fires now raging there.
