Spring-like weather—and the farmers are preparing to make maple syrup.

Mr. Geo. Burnside returned from his visit to St. Marys, bringing with him a a partner for life. We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Burnside to our neighborhood and wish them a happy and prosperous journey through life.

A large number of friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs Richard Ottewell on Friday evening last, on the eve of their departue to their new home, near Arcola, Sask., and presented Mr. Ottewell with a purse of money and a silver mounted piccolo and Mrs. Ottewell with a beautiful Bible, the following address being read by Miss Ruby Cooper and the presentation made by Chas. Barber.

To Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ottewell: We, a few of your friends and neighbors, have met to-night to express our sincere regret that you are about to sever your connection with us. Your uniform courtesy and affability have won for you many friends among us. We request you, Mrs Ottewell, to accept this Bible, and you, Mr. Ottewell, this piccolo and purse of money as a slight token of our love and esteem for you. We wish you every happiness and success in your new sphere of activity and influence. Signed in behalf of your friends and neighbors —Chas. Barber, Geo. Cooper, R. J. Colquette.

The Brethern of L. O. L., No. 1085, Feversham, on the same evening, showing their esteem for Bro. Ottewell by gathering in a goodly number at Bro. Ottewell's and presenting him with a purse of money. Bro. F. W. Brownlee read the following address and Bro. John Elliot, made the presentation.

Feversham, March 26, 1909.

Mr. Richard Ottewell,

Dear Friend and Bro.—It is with mingled feelings of pleasure and sadness that we have met to-night to spend a few hours with you at your home. It is with sincere sorrow that we realize that the happy relations that have so long existed between you and this community, and especially with the bretheren of the Orange Association, are about to be severed by your removal to a new home in the north west. We know you are going to a very promising and prosperous portion of our fair country, and feel sure you will meet with many true friends there, as you have here; but grieve that circumstances are such that you are not going to spend the remainder of your life in our midst. We need scarcely asure you that you will be greatly missed, not only by the country at large, but especially by the Orange lodge of which you have been a use and valued member. We beg of you therefore, Bro. Ottewell, to accept this purse of money and also this charm and emblem of our association, not for the intrinsic value but for the pleasure in offering this in memory of the warm friendship which existed in the past and which we are delighted to renew at this time. Trusting that the future may bring you and your good wife and family good health, long life and true happiness, and that God's richest blessing may ever rest on you and your family, that your mind may often wander back to the days spent with the Bretheren of L. O. L., 1085. Signed in behalf of Feversham L. O. L., 1085. F. W. Brownlee, P. C. M., East Grey, John Frances, D. M., 1085, A. T. Hutchinson, R. S. 1085.

A lively race was on view last week. A certain young man of poor memory when ready to start for the bush, left his horses untied while he returned to the house. The horses resented this delay and decided to go on. They were not overtaken by the owner until he reached the skidway, where they were waiting most patiently. Moral—"Make your head save your heels," or in other words, a good memory and you ride to the bush; a poor one, and you walk.

We are glad to see that so many of our Dundalk, Bethel and Proton friends are visiting Inistioge these nice Sundays.

A MODERN ROBINSON CRUSOE.

From the Owen Sound Advertiser, Friday, June 12, 1863.

On Sunday, May 31st, J. Tretheway, a resident of the Bruce mines, started from Sault Ste. Marie, W. S., in a small boat, accompanied by a female. On his way, however, when about three miles distant from the mines, the boat capsized, throwing them into the water, where with a valour worthy a hero, the gentleman kept the lady's head above water for the space of 15 minutes. At length with the greatest exertion he got her on to the boat and lashed her to it, so that she might not be thrown into the water again. By this time the waves were running high, and night coming on, which made their position more perilous. The brave fellow tried to guide the boat to land, but all his exertions were fruitless; the current and wind proved too much for him, and he was drawn a distance of 15 miles. At length, after being in the water for 13 hours, they were drifted upon an island; but there they were little better off than in the place from which they had just come, being without fire or the means to make one, and without food. In this state they remained two days enduring cold and hunger, when they were providentially rescued by the crew of the schooner "Brothers," and he was restored to the bosom of his family little the worse for his cruise; but his companion in the voyage received some injuries from which she is not yet recovered. His return was celebrated in splendid style, and like a veteran returning from the wars, he is never tired of telling his adventures.

Address and Presentation.

A number of friends of Mr. Jos. Duncan met at his residence, west back line, on Friday evening last, when the following address was given:

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Duncan

Dear Friends,—As you are about to remove from our neighborhood, where you have been a lifelong resident, a few of the people with whom you have associated have met here to-night to give you our assurance of regret at your removal. At the same time it is a matter of pleasure to know that the distance which will separate us will not be very great, and our social intercourse will not be altogether severed. We have decided to present to you a small parting memento, in the form of this clock and a pair of vases for Miss Clara, merely to emphasize our good will and as recognition of the lifelong friendship that has existed between us as neighbors. We do not look upon your removal as a parting, and hope and expect to met you both frequently as visitors among us. Trusting that your change of residence may prove beneficial to health and add to your pecuniary advancement, we are yours in friendship's bonds,—The Neighbors.

"Teddy" Ries met with a nasty accident at the rink here last Friday evening just prior to the hockey match. He was standing on the platform behind the goal net with his face against the wire netting when a chance shot caught him. The puck was a new one and consequently sharp cornered and "Teddy" saw stars for a moment. One front tooth was broken off, several were loosened, while his under lip was so badly cut that it required several stitches to close it.—Hanover Post.

County Constable Cochrane, of Peterboro, who is the agent of the Children's Aid Society, and Chief Brill, of Havelock, had a rather interesting experience a few days ago when they went to the home of Mrs. Rosebush (who lives about three miles east of Havelock) to remove two children—a boy and a girl—from surroundings which it is alleged were not fit for them to be brought up in, to the children's Shelter in Peterboro. While endeavoring to round up the boy Con. Cochrane received two blows over the head with a pine knot in the hands of the youth, while Chief Brill in trying to secure the girl, was attacked by the mother who bit him on the arm several times. The constables, however, secured the children, but finding on inquiry that the boy was 17 years old he was allowed to remain at home, but the girl, aged 10 years, was taken to the shelter.—Norwood Register.
