COMPENSATION

The editor stood at the pearly gate,
His face was worn and old;
He meekly asked of the man of fate
Admission to the fold.
"What have you done?" Saint Peter asked;
The editor wiped away a tear,
"Oh, I ran a country newspaper
On earth for many a year."
The gate swung open sharply
As Saint Peter touched the bell,
"Come in," he said, "and take a harp,
You've had enough of hell."

Greening lawns spell mower exercise.

NOW, YOU TELL ONE

Yes, says the old timer, I knew of a chap who had a dog so well trained that when he took down the rifle the dog knew they were going deer hunting; when he took down the shot-gun, he was going for rabbits. One day the owner got into his hunting clothes and to fool the dog took down the fishing pole. The dog disappeared, and after some searching he was found back of the barn digging fishworms.

The things we do tomorrow help us to live through today.

The first sigh of love is the last sigh of wisdom.
