Mr. LUCAS AND THE THREE-FIFTHS.

A vote on the three-fifths clause came up in the Legislature on Wednesday of last week. The bill to abolish this was introduced by Mr. Proudfoot, Liberal, of Centre Huron, and of course amounted to a vote of want of confidence in the government. Naturally it was defeated by a large majority. Mr. Lucas did not vote on the question but paired with a member of the government, which was practically the same thing. During the course of the discussion Mr. Lucas explained his attitude on the preference of a simple majority, but felt that an adverse vote on that question might be construed as a vote of want of confidence. He was in perfect accord with the general license policy of the government which had done more for temperance in three or four years than any government which had preceded it. He had, however, given a promise that at some time he would give a vote for the repeal of the three-fifths clause, and he proposed to redeem that promise now. Since the government had been in power over twenty amendments had been made in the license law, on only one of which temperance people divided.

In this connection we might say that we understood Mr. Lucas to be pledged to bring in a private bill himself if requested, and that this request was forwarded to him by the Centre Grey Alliance. Why this was not done by him we have no means of knowing. Perhaps it will be explained at the Alliance meeting to be held in Markdale this week.

Here is a paragraph from a recent issue of the Farmers Advocate which may be of benefit to some of our farmer readers:- Ploughs can be run close to fences or trees by lengthening the inside trace a little and hitching both traces on the outside hook of the whiffletrees—nigh horse to plow from, and off horse to plow toward the fence. Quiet working horses do not object to this hitch.

PUNCH'S WAR SONG.

The following verses were published by Punch at the opening of the American war in 1861:

O Jonathan and Jefferson,
Come listen to my song;
I can't decide, my word upon,
Which of you is most wrong.
I do declare I am afraid
To say which worse behaves,
The North imposing bands of trade,
Or South, that man enslaves.

And here you are about to fight,
And wage intestine war,
Nor either of you in the right:
What simpletons you are!
Too late your madness you will see,
And when your passion cools,
"Snakes!" you will bellow, "How could we
Have been such 'tarnal fools!"

One thing is certain; that if you
Blow out each others brains,
'Twill be apparent what a few
Each blockhead's skull contains.
You'll have just nothing for your cost,
To show, when all is done.
Greatness and glory you'll have lost;
And not a dollar won.

Oh joined to us by blood, and by
The bond of kindred speech,
And further, by the special tie
Of slang, bound each to each,
All-fired gonies, softhorn'd pair,
Each other will you lick?
You everlastin' dolts, forbear!
Throw down your arms, right slick.

You'll chaw each up, you two,
Like those Kilkenny cats,
When they had better things to do,
Improvin' off the rats.
Now come, shake hands, together jog
On friendly yet once more,
Whip one another not: and flog
Creation, as before?

MAN KILLED BY A SHEEP.

(From the Bruce Herald, June 7, 1861.)

It is our painful duty this week to publish the most melancholy occurence which has ever taken place in the township of Brant—if not in the County of Bruce itself—by which we have lost from our midst Wm. L. Hislop, a man respected and esteemed by all who knew him. On Tuesday morning last Mr. H. was in this village, in the enjoyment of perfect health and spirits, but he had hardly been missed from our streets when the alarming news was spread like wildfire, that he had met with an accident at his home, about half a mile out, and had sustained such injuries that his recovery was impossible. Though often false, this time rumor was too correct. He had been engaged in sheepshearing on his own farm, and while leading a powerful wether from the barn, the animal by a sudden plunge threw him from his feet, his head struck the ground violently and his neck was dislocated on the spot. He was conveyed to the house, and Drs. Scott and Seaman were in attendance almost immediately. But alas it was evident on examination that nothing could be done—the strong and robust man of a moment before he was completely paralyzed from the head downwards, and death might ensue at any moment. It is impossible to describe in words the saddening effect this death has had upon the whole community in which he lived.

A Mammoth Sugar Bush

Mr. J. A. Kernahan of Feversham has a mammoth sugar bush this year—probably the largest in western Ontario. At the present time Mr. Kernahan has 800 trees tapped and will increase these to 1000 or 1200. He is this week making about 20 gallons of syrup a day, and it is no ordinary syrup, either. The plant is up to-date in every respect. The sap is caught in new tin buckets and evaporated in a new improved Champion evaporator, which converts it rapidly into the choisest brand of maple syrup. It is drawn from the evaporator when it reaches 120 degrees, strained through felt strainers and canned ready for market. Mr. Kernahan believes his outfit to be the best on the market. He has sent The Advance a generous sample of the syrup and we can say positively that it is a revelation to us in the syrup line. He has orders for all he can make but hopes soon to catch up. All orders will be filled in rotation, so if our readers want any of this choice production it would be well to get your order in early. The price put up in shipping cans of one gallon each is $1.40 including cans, or $1.25 if cans are returned.

Captain John McInnis, owner of the fishing tug Primrose, of Meaford, while bringing his tug from Owen Sound, where it had wintered, fell overboard on Saturday and was drowned before assistance could reach him. The accident happened off Cape Rich, in rounding which the boats are compelled to run for some distance in the trough of the sea. The deck being coated with ice, Capt. McInnis lost his balance while going from the pilot house to the engine room, and, falling over the rail into the icy water, sank immediately. The Captain was one of four brothers operating fishing tugs from this port. He leaves a wife and three young children. The body has not yet been recovered, though the lake was dragged all day Sunday in the vicinity of the accident.

It is said that a Buffalo inventor has discovered a new oil that is particularly adapted for gasoline engines and automobiles. It is of higher power than any known oil and costs only about five cents a gallon. The patent has been registered in every country in the world. The inventor is James Myers, a former resident of Guelph. We take three or four grains of salt with the story, but if it be true nobody need care whether Niagara power comes or not.—Confederate.

Geo. Whitten and James McManaman of Melancthon, came to town on April 1st and took on a load of booze. Chief Hemphill, with some assistance, got them into the lock-up where they spent the night. Before P. McGregor, Police Magistrate, they had to answer to the charges of using bad language on the streets, and a second charge against McManaman of interfering with the constable, in the discharge of his duties, and resisting arrest. Whitten was fined five dollars and costs, and McManaman twenty-five dollars and costs. They settled.—Dudalk Herald.

A boy going to school in a neighboring town prepared the following essay on ducks: "The duck is a low, heavy set bird composed mostly of meat and feathers. He is a mighty poor singer, having a hoarse voice, caused by getting so many frogs in his neck. He likes the water and carries a toy balloon in his stomach to keep from sinking. The duck has only two legs and they are set so far back on his running gears by nature that they came pretty near missing the body. Some ducks have curls on their tails and are called drakes. Drakes don't have to set or hatch, but just loaf, go swimming and eat. If I was to be a duck I'd rather be a drake."
