THE VOLUNTEERS OF LITTLE BRITAIN.

To the Editor of the Canadian Post, DEAR SIR .- You will no doubt be glad to learn that the late call for volunteers in Canada is meeting with a prompt response. In the village of Little Britain, in this township , there is a company of about fifty men, the gift. This delights one as I am one of those that long for Christian union on a large who have enrolled their names in a drill association, and are now drilling twice a month in the expectation that the Government will accept of them as volunteers. I presume there are many who ridicule the idea of drill associations while the country is so quiet; but I, for one, think it is quite a praiseworthy undertaking for people to prepare for the worst, and hope for the best. The future is at this time a very gloomy one, full of fearful forbodings, into which some of our ablest statesmen cannot see. We may very probably before the beginning of another year be involved in war, and if so those who are so much opposed to drilling will be brought to ac-
