Friday evening last it rained steadily for about three hours but this did not daunt the Eugenia boys, who came out to play the game with the Flesherton club. Of course it was too wet to play, but that was not the fault of the Eugenia boys, and we suppose they are entitled to call the game theirs.

Amatite Roofing

As soon as a practical man sees Amatite, he reccognize its superiority. The wearing quaity of a good roof depends upon its weight. A thin flimsy fabric cannot wear as long as a thick heavy one. Amatite weighs twice as much as any other roofing at its price.

Another important thing it has a real mineral surface of Amatite. This preparation protects roof against the rain and wind. Most roofings have to be painted twice or three times in five years, with this it requires no painting. If you are contemplating on good roof investigate and you will see the Amatite's superiority. Call and get samples and circulars giving full information.

Steel Range Problem

We are very sorry to see our intelligent farmers being taken in by some dealers, who go through the country demonstrating the better qualities of their stoves and are selling them right and left at nearly double the price which we ask. Why buy a stove that when requiring repairs, you are sure of getting them, not of a stove that probably might be out of existence in a few years? These qualities they call better are only a talking point, you know what the malleable iron top does and why not be satisfied and not pay from $35 to $40 more for an article which is no better.

Garden Seeds

We are head quarters for (Simmers) first quality Garden and Root seeds, including Carrots, Sugar Beets, Turnips and Mangels, Corns, Crompton's Early, and N. Dakota White Flint, Millets and Dwarf Essex Rape. All at popular prises, also Red Clover and Alsike, Timothy seeds.

Now Contracting for Season's Sugars

We have just started a scheme which has met with the approval of all, who we have been talking to. We agree to supply you with sugar at a certain price 4 months, or the sugar season. If sugar raises, which it does around preserving time, you will get it at the contract price, and if it goes lower, you get the reduced price on the sugar purchases at the time of the drop, this insuring you against the sugar famine which is likely to take place this season. Now is your time to come in, only a certain amount we are going to put on the market in this way. All we ask you to do is to say you want it. We Don't ask any money until you get the sugar, and get it lower in this way. Call at once and investigate. If not clear come in and we will make it clear.

Last week the Chronicle advertised for the return of a bicycle that had been stolen from the home of Mr. David Allan in town here. It may be attached to any ordinary window and does not present an unsightly appearance as some ventilators do.

On Thursday afternoon last, during the heavy thunderstorm, Mr. Robt. Edge, of Edge Hill, had a miraculous escape from serious loss of property and life. His barn was struck by lightning and seriously damaged, but fortunately did not take fire. At the time of the crash there were three of his family in the shed in the front of the barn, where they had gone to take shelter from the storm, but none of them were injured. At the time, there were twenty-four head of cattle and twenty-three pigs in the building, all of which escaped, with the exception of one cow that was badly stunned, but not fatally injured. Four holes were made in the roof and three window frames and the ventilator were badly damaged. The loss is fully covered by insurance.—Chronicle.

Killed At Orangeville

A fatal accident took place on East Broadway, Orangeville, about 8 o'clock Friday night, whereby James Fawcett was instantly killed. Mr. Fawcett, who was a farm laborer, about sixty years old, had been living with John Connors in Amaranth, and was going home with James Ellis, a Mono farmer, for whom he had worked for the past five seasons. In driving down a rather steep hill, a loose plank slipped out, striking the horses, and causing them to run away. Ellis and Fawcett were sitting on the latter's trunk, the former driving. The combined efforts of the two men failed to check the horses. Fawcett was thrown out, and his neck and several ribs broken. Ellis crawled over the back of the wagon and escaped unhurt. Deceased leaves a widow, at present confined in Mimico Asylum. There are no children, but a brother and sister live in Ireland. He was a prominent Orangeman and member of the Chosen Friends. A considerable sum of money and bank book were found in the clothing of the deceased, who was generally respected.
