It is remarkable how some villagers will resist and flout certain village by-laws that are enacted for the general welfare of the community. Take the cow and pig bylaw for instance, Every spring those in authority have to remind that such a bylaw exists, and even then it has been necessary to make an example or two before heed is taken. The usual spring notice is to be found elsewhere. The police trustees have gone to the expense of getting legal advice on the matter and find that they are empowered to fine those who refuse to obey the bylaw instead of impounding the animals. Those who insist on allowing stock to run at large during prohibited hours should take warning.

Reports from all over the Dominion indicate that crops are looking and doing well. A few days ago we were grumbling at the lateness of the season. The past week of sunshine has brought vegetation along fast and things are about at the usual stage. But of course we must borrow trouble and are even now beginning to wonder if there is not going to be a drouth. We're a grumbling lot, anyway.

THE BLUE SPRINGS

The following appeared in the Walkerton Herald of July 4, 1862. It would be interesting for our Hanover or Walkerton exchanges to inform us as to the condition of these springs at the present time. Were they ever commercially exploited? —Ed Advance.

On Monday last we had the pleasure of visiting, for the first time, one of the greatest natural curiosities in Upper Canada. A drive of twenty minutes over a charming country, east of this place, brings the sight-seer to the bank of the Saugeen in the vicinity of what are now known as the "Blue Springs." Crossing the river at a fording place, a pleasant walk through a clear and a romantic piece of woods brings us within sight of a miniature Niagara, which gushes and tumbles down a declivity in the most picturesque manner. Having viewed the waterfall a few minutes, we cross a creek into which it falls and pick our way upward through the little streams which struggle down the slope in every direction. Here we are at once struck with the fact that there is some very peculiar property in the crystal water flashing around us. The ground, wherever it reaches it, is dyed with the reddish tinge which indicates the presence of iron, and more singular still, we find that we are standing upon what one of our scientific amateurs has termed a volcano of petrified matter. Moss, wood, clay, everything found in contact with the highly impergnated water is completely petrified, or in common parlance, "turned into stone." There is enough here to awaken in us the most lively curiosity, but our guide, who has often visited the spot, urges us to ascend still further. We see through a break in the bushes what we take to be a pond of blueish looking water. Before us is a basin of water of some seventy-five or one hundred feet in circumference, and filled to the depth of 70 feet some say, although it seems to be about thirty feet, in a body of water, we had almost written crystal, so pure is it. The taste of the water appears to be clearly mineral, iron and sulphur, evidently entering into its composition. We may be mistaken, but we think that, on being analysed, the order of preponderance would stand thus: Iron, sulphur, lime. It does not taste nearly so nauseous as the water of the sulphur springs and for half an hour after taking it into the mouth the irony flavor can be detected. The water, when Walkerton grows into a large town, will be resorted to not only for pleasure but for health. Art judiciously applied, would render it a most desirable spot for recreation to those who live in the vicinity as well as visitors. The most intelligent person who has visited the locality says that he finds the water flowing in every direction, and we have no hesitation in adopting the theory of a scientific friend that the hill has been formed around the well by the petrifying qualities of the water which have been operating upon the ever-renewed vegetation through past ages, analagous to the formation of volcanos.—Walkerton Herald.

For a Sprained Ankle.

As usually treated, a sprained ankle will disable the injured person for a month or more, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and observing the directions with each bottle faithfully, a cure may be effected in many cases in less than one week's time. This liniment is a most remarkable preparation. Try it for a sprain or bruise, or when laid up with chronic or muscular rheumatism, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which it affords. For sale by W. E. Richardson.

Born in Iowa.

Our family were all born and raised in Iowa, and have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, made at Des Moines, for years. We know how good it is from long experience in the use of it. In fact, when in El Paso, Texas, the writer's life was saved by the prompt use of this remedy. We are now engaged in the mercantile business at Narcoossee, Fla., and have introduced the remedy here. It has proven very successful and is constantly growing in favor.—Ennis Bros. Weak Kidneys

Weak Kidneys, surely point to weak kidney Nerves. The Kidneys, like the Heart, and the Stomach, find their weakness, not in the organ itself, but in the nerves that control and guide and strengthen them. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is a medicine specifically prepared to reach these controlling nerves. To doctor the Kidneys alone, is futile. It is a waste of time, and of money as well.

If your back aches or is weak, if the urine scalds, or is dark and strong, if you have symptoms of Brights or other distressing or dangerous kidney disease, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative a month—Tablets or Liquid—and see what it can and will do for you. Druggist recommend and sell

The American Standard Bred Stallion DEMOTTE

Demotte will make the season of 1909 as follows:

MONDAY evening—Berkeley.
THURSDAY evening—Flesherton.
The rest of the week Markdale House Stables.

Demotte, 29842, is a handsome, game, level headed horse with a perfect disposition; to see him is to like him, and after looking over his pedigree all must admit that he is one of the best bred horses imported. Where will you find another in this country with as fast a sire and dam? His grandsire, Gambetta Wilkes, sired Gambolier, the sire of the great Eel 2.2¼. His grandsire on his dam's side, C. F. Clay, has more to his credit in the 2.10 list than any other horse in Kentucky, and is also one of the, if not the greatest, sires of high actors in the United States. Demotte is a beautiful high going horse with a great turn of speed himself, having been a close 2nd in 16¾. I have put this horse's fee very low, within reach of the owner of the ordinary mare, while the owners of the best mares will get the service of a $25 horse for just $12. Those wishing to bargain for living colts can do so by applying to me. I have also made arrangement for pasture close to town for mares sent a distance.
