LOST IN SWAMP

Mr. Harold Wallace of Kimberley and his two sons, aged about 5 and 6 years, became lost in the deep swamp north of Kimberley late Tuesday afternoon. When they failed to return home at dark the alarm was raised and an intensive search was made by over one hundred of the citizens of that district. They were found about 3 a.m. Wednesday morning, protected as much as possible from the wind and sold by the roots of a large stump. The little lads had become cold and Mr. Wallace had wrapped his coat around them and otherwise kept them warm. It was a harrowing experience for Mr. Wallace but it is gratifying that the outcome of their becoming lost was not more serious.

At not saying farewell.

Vote Liberal And Keep The Old Henry Gang Out

IT'S all right to let Earl Rowe kid himself that he is steering and running the Conservatives, but the electors don't want to let Mr. Rowe kid them into believing that he is leading a new, clean, thoroughly purged Conservative party. The same "old Henry gang" is managing the Rowe boat. The "old Henry gang" think that they were beaten by "some mistake" in 1934. On Wednesday, October 6th, show them that it was no mistake, but that you were in deadly earnest when you voted them out and that you want them even less today.

Hepburn's Social Legislation Proves He Is "a Man With a Heart"

BY his deeds, Mr. Hepburn has shown he has the interests of the masses at heart. His government has assumed the full cost of Mothers' Allowances. A mother with one child is now entitled to an allowance, a right denied her by the former Conservative government.

Under Mr. Hepburn, the government assumed the municipalities' share of Old Age Pensions.

It established Pensions for the Blind.

It abolished Students' Examination Fees.

It cancelled the Amusement Tax so that people are no longer penalized for enjoying themselves at theatres, concerts and games.

Hepburn Benefits Labour

HEPBURN has shown true friendship for the workingman, with advanced labour legislation — Minimum wages for men as well as women, an Industrial Standards Act providing codes by agreement between employees and employers and already improving conditions for 75,000 workers; and the creation of the Industry and Labour Board.

Another evidence of Mr. Hepburn's friendship for labour is his promise, if re-elected, to enact legislation to provide Unemployment Insurance, and Mr. Hepburn makes good on his promises.

Hepburn Takes Liquor Out of Politics

HEPBURN'S proposed Board of Three —a Judge, a Liberal, a Conservative— is the sanest, soundest, most constructive plan for removing liquor from politics that has yet been devised.

In respect to beverage rooms the Hepburn Government stands for the principle of local option. It is up to the municipality to decide for itself whether it wishes to be "wet" or "dry". That's British fair play.

Hepburn prevented the sale of liquor in restaurants.

On its record of successful administration during its first term in office, the Hepburn Government deserves to be returned to power—deserves the support and the vote of all fair-minded people.

Do your part to assure Ontario a continuance of good government for another term by voting for the Hepburn candidate in your riding.
