"That must be right. I've heard singing that has made my blood boil."

ONTARIO POTATOES IN ONTARIO MARKETS

(By J. T. Cassin, Potato Fieldman)

Why are Ontario Potatoes being discriminated against to the extent of 25c to 35c per bag on Ontario markets? Is it because potatoes of good cooking quality can't be produced in Ontario? No.

But too many Ontario potatoes are poorly graded and have not good cooking quality resulting from immaturity, frost injury and diseases. Many of the consuming public have been so dissatisfied with Ontario potatoes that they refuse to buy them. In Toronto some chain stores and many independents do not handle Ontarios at all, others report that 75% of their potato trade is with Maritime stock.

It appears that in October and November many potatoes affected with field frost, Fusarium Wilt and Fusarium Eumarti and poorly graded were rushed to market. They were unsatisfactory to the consumers and many of them turned to Maritime potatoes. The demand for Ontario potatoes has fallen off and many growers are receiving only 35c to 40c per bag while Prince Edward Islands are selling at 90c per bag in carloads on tract Toronto. Even well graded Ontario's of good quality move slowly at 15c below P.E.I.'s because so many are afraid to buy Ontario potatoes. Confidence once lost is difficult to regain. At the present time some well graded potatoes are being offered with 75% Fusarium Wilt and Fusarium Eumarti and some hollow heart and frost injury to make conditions worse.

There is very little that can be done this season to correct or improve conditions, but efforts should be made to make preparations for the 1938 crop.

Where seed potatoes infected with these diseases are planted in the soil these fields will become infected and another crop of diseased potatoes produced with results similar to those existing at present. The importance of using seed that is free from disease cannot be too strongly impressed upon potato growers. Farmers who have potatoes bearing these diseases should cook them when feed them to livestock. If fed uncooked infection will be carried to the soil in the manure and succeeding potato crops will be infected.

The amount of certified seed potatoes in Ontario is very limited. There were less than 1,300 acres of potatoes that received and passed inspection in Ontario last year. This is less than 1% of the Ontario crop. There were very few fields of uncertified stock that did not have these diseases in them. Much of the certified crop has been marketed for table use. Growers who need a change of seed should not delay in arranging for their supplies, while it is yet possible to get them.

District representatives will be furnished with the names of certified seed growers and the varieties grown.

Ontario potato growers are losing many thousands of dollars by using seed that is disease infected. They are also encouraging Maritime growers to increase their acreage, when there is such a demand in Ontario markets for their potatoes. Forty per cent. of the P.E.I. crop was planted from certified seed and less than 1 per cent. of Ontario's crop. This very well explains the difference in price in Ontario markets. Diseased seed cannot produce good potatoes.

Illuminated Markers Next?

A new illuminated automobile marker may make its appearance on Ontario owned motor cars next year. The St. Thomas firm, which does work on the markers, had demonstrated the illuminated type to members of the Ontario government and they are said to have voiced their approval of them. The letters and figures are illuminated on the plates causing them to stand out in the dark under reflected light.

"How many kinds of wood are used in making a match?" asked William.

"Two kinds," replied Harriet. "He would and she would."

ALSIKE PRODUCTION

Alsike has been a dependable seed crop in Ontario for generations but its production has declined sharply in recent years due to abnormal weather conditions. It would seem opportune to revive the production of this seed crop as market prospects for the future are good.

Alsike has brought profitable prices for many years in the United Kingdom and the United States. Other European countries and New Zealand also buy Canadian alsike seed. It is reasonable to expect that good prices will continue for well-grown alsike seed reasonably free of weed seeds. This clover usually produces from 4 to 10 bushels per acre, and prices paid growers seldom have been lower than $5.00 per bushel for average seed in the rough. The price in 1938 to the grower is about $12.00.

FARM PROPERTY IMPROVES

The report of sales of farm machinery by one of the largest Canadian implement manufacturers reveals an increase during the past year of over 40 per cent. Such a statement can mean but one thing—that the farmers of the nation have enjoyed a greater measure of prosperity than during the preceding years. An increase in the prosperity of the farming population, which forms over 30 per cent. of the population of Canada, points to better times for the entire nation.
