The members of Court Vandeleur C.O. F. gave a banquet in honour of their wives at the home of Geo. Warling on Thursday evening last. Speeches were given by a number of prominent members of the Court. Misses Maggie and Rena Davis sang a couple of songs very sweetly. John McArthur Dead

Prominent Priceville citizen passes over to the great majority.

On Monday of this week there passed away at Priceville one of Grey county's most prominent citizens, in the person of Mr. John McArthur, who had been ailing for about a year, but only seriously ill for a few months.

Mr. McArthur's life record is closely interwoven with the history of Artemesia. In 1883 he was elected to the township council and sat at the board as councillor until 1886, when he was appointed deputy reeve. He continued as deputy reeve until the close of 1888, attending the council, where he was a prominent member. In 1899 he was elected reeve and again attended the two councils. In 1901, under the changed regulations he was elected as commissioner to go to the county town, and sat in council there for four years, serving one as Warden.

It was with genuine regret that the people of this neighborhood heard of the death of this prominent gentleman, and the sympathy of the county is extended to the bereaved family.

Full particulars of Mr. McArthur's life are not to hand.

Eugenia.

Smith—Maral—On Oct. 27th. at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maral, near Otterbourne, Manitoba, Mr. Alexander Smith, formerly of Eugenia and Miss Eliza Maral were united by marriage in the presence of a large number of invited guests, by the Rev. Mr. Phillips of Emerson. The stately bride looked charming in a dress of white Duchess satin, handsomely trimmed. Her only ornament was a sunburst of pearls, the gift of the groom. The bride's sister was maid of honour. The groom's sister acted as flower girl. The groom's brother, Mr. Bert Smith was groomsman. The wedding march was played by the groom's sister, Mrs. Hattie Bell Mathews. After congratulations all repaired to the handsomely decorated dining room where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served, which all enjoyed. The presents were both costly and numerous. The bride's travelling dress was brown satin finished broadcloth with hat to match. Among the guests from a distance was the groom's uncle, Mr. Fred Pedlar of Eugenia, Ontario. After a couple of weeks of a bridal tour, spent in different parts, the young couple will reside on their own farm near Otterbourne, where the best wishes for their prosperity and happiness of a large circle of friends accompanies them to their home. The groom presented the bride with a handsome driver and outfit.

We are greatly pleased to welcome home Mr. Fred Pedlar of "Summer Hill" from his trip out west. He returned greatly improved in health, and enjoyed the outing, yet he says, Ontario is good enough for him.

Mr. Richard Park and John Parson have gone on a trip to Gow Ganda, that lately discovered Eldorado, where gold is so plentiful.

Mrs. W. Purvis has gone to spend the winter in Toronto. Our oldest residents of Eugenia will soon be all gone.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hislop of Stratford are visiting their friends in the valley for a couple of weeks.

One of our local sports has captured a fine dear somewhere in the valley, when out hunting. He intends keeping it for a pet.

Mr. and Mrs. Weeks, nee Miss Edna Madill, of the Soo, are on their bridal tour at present. They are visiting the bride's sister, Mrs. Alex Carruthers. As the bride was one of our most popular Eugenia young ladies, the best wishes of a large circle of friends is extended to them, wishing them every happiness and prosperity in their distant home and may they feel the absent never forgotten.

Our genial collector, Mr. R. D. Meldrum is around paying his small visits. He comes in so cheery, one has no time to grumble, although the bill is pretty steep. Some are thinking our city fathers are preparing to buy one of those famous Dreadnaughts to put in Mr. Deagle's pond, but Eugenia people would rather have a snow plough for winter. Flesherton can have the Dreadnaught for their mill pond.

It is now fifty years since Mr. Duncan Campbell, the venerable clerk of Bentinck, was appointed. The first meeting he attended was in Durham at that distant period, and this year he asked the township Council as a favor to hold another session in the town, as an anniversary of that occasion. The Council readily acquiesced and had arranged to hold the regular meeting at the Central hotel, when Mayor Laidlaw—learning of this, had Clerk Vollett write, offering the free use of the town council chamber for this meeting and the freedom of the town. This was accepted by the Bentinck law-makers, and on Monday, November 15, after a great lapse of years, and as a compliment to their veteran clerk, Bentinck council will again meet in our town.—Review.

Mr. Fuller, Inspector for the Public Works Department, inspected the Armory on Tuesday and found everything going along smoothly. The building is handsome and very substantial and its out-of-the-wayness is the only regrettable thing about it.

Much gratification was expressed Saturday last when it became known that Rev. Mr. Newton had decided to remain in Durham. We congratulate his congregation and the town also on this result and hope the coming years may yield him still more success and happiness as an evidence of the wisdom of his decision.

Mr. Jos. Firth, who runs the engine at the furniture factory, had the misfortune to severely crush the back of his hand on Monday last. He had just stopped the engine and was reaching for an oil can when the crank came down catching his hand between it and the bed of the engine and smashing the bones in the back of the right hand connected with the second and third fingers, which are now numb and powerless. The unfortunate mishap will lay him off work for a few weeks.
