Mrs. F. A. Tucker was in Wiarton over the week end.

Ed. Thompson is making more dough an any other man in town.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Parslow, D. R., on Saturday, Nov. 13, a on.

Dr. and Mrs. Carter were in Toronto ast week attending the horticultural exhibition.

Robt. Wright will remove to the residence lately vacated by F. A. Tucker.

Mr. G. B. Welton of Hamilton spent the week end visiting his wife, at the Munshaw House.

Rev. and Mrs. Wellwood returned home this week, accompanied by the former's sister, Miss Wellwood.

Mr. Deagle was in town on Monday installing a light in front of the Methodist church. This will fill a "long-felt want."

Mr. Avery Hawken, photographer, has returned to his studio, after several weeks serious illness at his home near Markdale.

Charlie Mosier caught a 25-lb coon in a mink trap last week. John Sharp also captured a large coon, but could not give its weight.

Herb Badgerow and Ellwyn Jamieson left last week for Cochrane. Bert Best left for the same centre of northern civilization this week.

Mr. H. M. Douglas disposed of his black clydesdale "Cremorne" to Mr. A. G. Farrer of Toronto for shipment to the West. The price paid, $1,550.—Creemore Star.

Mr. Victor Phillips has returned from Jamaica and will spend his holidays with his mother. Victor is in love with the atmosphere he breathed in that southern isle.

M. K. Richardson wishes us to state that 5000 children have been wards of the Children's Aid Society since its inception, instead of 2000 as reported in the Owen Sound Advertiser.

Mr. F. T. Carr of Stoughton, Sask., shot a coyote recently and felt so good over it that he gave the editor of the Stoughton Times a bag of potatoes. Can't some of our readers hit a coyote?

Little Ernie Flynn while playing around the planing mill got into a scrap with a pile of lumber and as a result is exhibiting a nasty cut on his head. Just how the accident occurred we have not learned.

An eight-year-old poultry fancier near Flesherton has considerable difficulty in selecting names for his pets, and has things slightly muddled. One of his most prized hens bears the appellation "Dick," while a lordly rooster droops his tail feathers every time he is addressed as "Rosie."

Last week we stated that Mr. and Mrs. John Flynn were married by Rev. A. W. Shepherd of Markdale, when we should have put it Rev. Mr. Young. Of course we are sorry that the mistake was made, but we trust that no harm was done, and the fact that the knot was tied by a Methodist instead of a Presbyterian lessens in no degree the congratulations and best wishes of The Advance.

Last week Ed. Best attempted to tow the stone crusher to Vandeleur with his traction engine. The mud was too deep however, so the crusher had to be tied up here to await drier roads. We would respectfully suggest that the council invest in several scows or barges to navigate the autumn canals and not tie up the township machinery in this manner. The scheme has much to recommend it.

Some comment has been caused by our using these columns the past two weeks to ask that outstanding accounts be paid. Well, to tell the truth, the writer thought the paper man, the ink man, and the type man all meant it when they "dunned" him, and he wanted to get the money to pay them. Of course, had ye Editor been home he would have realized that these men were only bluffing, and put them off with a promise. But such is inexperience. Still we think perhaps it was just as well that he did make an offort to collect a little of the outstanding capital, and so thank those who have already responded so cheerfully, and feverishly await every incoming mail.

Miss Ruby Stone of Stones Sett'ement visited her grandmother, Mrs. P. Holman, on Saturday.

Mrs. Richard Strain of Minto, Man., had a visit from a number of Ontario friends recently, viz.: Mrs. John McKee, Robert McKee, Patrick McKee, and Mrs. Richard Pedlar and daughter, Miss Edna, Ontario friends are always welcome.

Mrs. Fred McClocklin, who has been ailing with an internal trouble for some time, became seriously ill last week and was taken to a Toronto hospital to undergo an operation. Mr. McClockin accompanied her, returning home on Monday with the report that she is improving nicely.

Mr. Wm. Lees has his weaving outfit in operation in the old Advance office, having set it up last week. He gave the Advance reporter a most interesting explanation of the whys and wherefores of the trade, and we feel ourselves fully competent to take contracts for weaving—but we have no loom!

On Saturday this place was honoured by the advance agent of a concert company, which was to give "the best show on earth"—mostly moving pictures. But that was as far as it went, for their lantern and outfit were held at Markdale for a board bill. The Advance did some little printing for the company, but the terms were cash with order, so that we lost nothing by their stranding. They struck off for Orangeville on Sunday, not waiting for their concerts on Monday and Tuesday here.

A minister of our acquaintance had occasion recently to put up for the night at a "city" where they were in the throes of a local option contest. There was only one hostelry in the place, and only one room in that hostelry in which to spend the evening—the bar. As he sat in that room reading he was conscious of the searching glances of the men in the room and could distinguish whispered surmises as to his business there. Next morning while paying his bill he was asked by the proprietor what his business was, and then was he English church?, but no, he happened to be Methodist. Then the pent up energy in the genial host burst bounds, and the discussion waxed long ere the reverend gentleman managed to get in the last word and gracefully bid adieu.

Bang! Bang!! Bang!!! The woods in this neighborhood reverberated last week with the sound of many volleys. War? No, it was simply an unoffending deer that some local sports had noticed in a field where cattle are wont to pasture. The alarm was soon given and the call to arms responded to by many nimrods. The denizen of the wild was traced by the footprints for some distance and then lost. Some excited sports even thought they saw its footprints floating down the stream which it crossed. The dogs, which were used on this occasion paid more attention to rabbits than to the deer (?), which the evil minded hint was nothing more than a gentle cow or some such domesticated animal. It is not for us to say which.

An Appreciated "Roast"

Mrs. P. Holman left this week to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. John Chard, near Markdale, and dropped us a kind note, a portion of which we print: "Before leaving for Markdale, I wish to congratulate you on the marked improvement in The Advance this last year or more. It is very newsy, and clear print so that I can read it by lamplight."

The Band Will Continue.

The annual meeting of The Flesherton Band was held last week. The band has had a good season and paid the leader the past year $100. John A. Boyd is the new president; John Runstadtler, vice pres.; Andrew Wilson, manager; C. J. Bellamy, sec.-treas.; and Chas. Munshaw, Andrew Wilson and A. S. Thurston as the managing committee. The band will continue with A. Stanley Thurston as band master for the coming year. Several recruits have been secured and prospects are encouraging for a good summer's work-out.

A. Carnegie has increased the grant to Fergus from $6000 to $9000. The village council has passed the necessary resolution regarding maintenance.

With the Churches

The service in the Presbyterian church on Sunday was a memorial service for the late J. McKenzie Duncan.

Rev. Wellwood will occupy his own pulpit on Sunday and at night will give the introduction to a series of sermons on "The Parables of Jesus."

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid held a successful "cake sale" on Saturday. The scheme, which was an innovation here, netted them over $10, and will be repeated at a later date.

The Epworth League service on Monday evening was of unusual interest, being an evening with Tennyson, in charge of the Literary Committee. A charming quartette, "Crossing the Bar," was rendered. Assisting the Leaguers were Mrs. (Dr.) Carter and Mr. M. K. Richardson. The latter spoke for some time. His utterances were reminiscent and of exceeding interest to those present. Mr. Richardson told of a meeting he had attended at the time of the Crimean war. It was just after the famous charge of the Light Brigade at Balaclava, and Tennyson's wonderful little poem commemorating that event had not been in print two weeks. At the gathering Mr. Richardson referred to, Rev. Morley Punshon, the great Methodist orator, recited Tennyson's "Charge of the Light Brigade." The effect, he said, was wonderful. Men embraced each other and wept. The town in which the meeting was held had sent numbers to the Crimea who never were heard of again as no accurate records were kept of the dead, so that the poem had a personal grip that, coupled with the orator's powers, moved men as strong feelings only can move them.

Death of John McKenzie Duncan.

After a long illness of over two years Mr. J. McKenzie Duncan passed away at his home at lot 168, concession 3, Artemesia, on Friday last.

He was born forty-six years ago on the homestead near the Durham corners. In 1885 he married Miss Isabel Webster and settled near Eugenia. His wife only lived three years, leaving two sons Wesley and Joseph, the latter since deceased. Shortly after, he married Mrs. Susan Sloan and conducted a mercantile business in the store at Eugenia now occupied by Richard Parks. Later they moved to Proton Station, and then to Owen Sound, returning in 1892 and taking up the farm where he has since resided. He leaves to mourn their loss a beloved wife, two sons and a daughter, Wesley, Frank and Lena, and John Sloan, a son of Mrs. Duncan's to all of whom much sympathy is extended.

Last January the electors of Artemesia paid high tribute to Mr. Duncan by electing him to a seat at the council board, but illness had of late prevented him taking an active part in the works of that board.

The funeral on Sunday was very largely attended, and the funeral sermon was preached in the Presbyterian church.

Among the friends from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Job Turner of Paisley, Mr. Geo. Turner of Heathcote, Chas. Turner of Eugenia, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Scott and W. J. Shean of Owen Sound.

News of The Women's Institute

The Women's Institute will meet on Friday, 19th inst, instead of Tuesday, the 30th, in the town hall. Mrs. W. A. Armstrong will give an account of her trip to the Pacific coast. Each member is expected to respond to roll call by giving a suggestion about Christmas.

Pure and Elevating.

Any family who misses securing a copy of the beautiful picture, "The Soul's Awakening," will surely be sorry after they are all gone, and it is seen in some friend's house. The best people in the Dominion are publicly recommending it to every home. Every lover of that which is pure and inspiring cannot fail to appreciate such a beautiful work. The picture is given absolutely free to all who subscribe to that great weekly paper, "The Family Herald and Weekly Star" of Montreal, the price of which is only one dollar a year. It is not the usual cheap chromo but is in sepia tones ready for framing and fit for a place in any home in the Dominion. It is 19x24 inches. Send a dollar at once for a year's subscription to that great paper and the picture will be sent at once safely packed in a strong cardboaad tube. Do not wait until the crowd ahead of you is too big.

Thursday last Auctioneer J. Rudd Matthews, of Markdale brought the Middaugh House under the hammer. Bidding was brisk but as it failed to reach the reserve bid placed on the property, no sale was made. Mr. Geo. Ryan began at $4000 and Mr. Wm. Black promptly went $500 better. Ryan went another $100, but Black soon brought it to $5000. It went on again $100 at a raise till $6000 was reached, Mr. Black's being the last bid. As the auctioneer could not coax them further, the sale was over. The auctioneer announced that the executors would consider a proposition to rent the building and this may be done.—Durham Review.

The largest and most powerful gun ever built for the United States navy has arrived at the Washington Navy Yard. It is a 14-inch rifle, 53 feet long, and discharges a shell weighing 1,400 pounds. Its range will be at least 14 miles, and at that distance it is believed the shell would pierce an 11-inch belt of Krupp steel or the armor of the heaviest battleship. Each discharge will cost about $500.

There is an honest man in Toronto. Some time ago a tobacco dealer sold a cigar to a stranger and received a $100 bill in payment, but through carelessness gave change for $10. When he discovered his error he handed the $90 over to the authorities, but it has not been claimed. Now, don't everybody speak at once.

A Maesie farmer, J. Partridge, had one of his legs fractured between the ankle and knee on Tuesday, and he will probably be laid up for many weeks. Partridge was attending to his duties at the stable, when a cow jumped on him, knocking him down and fracturing the bones of his leg. One bone was broken twice, both ends protruding through the flesh and skin.—Sun.

Mr. Jos. McArdle, of Hopeville, father of Lawyer McArdle, of Markdale, had his arm broken above the wrist by a fall on a slippery sidewalk on Monday morning. The injury is very painful and will no doubt heal slowly, as Mr. McArdle is in his eightieth year, though still vigorous.—Standard.

Last year in one of Toronto's leading hospitals fully one-eight of all the cases treated were alcoholic. This is a big percentage for a comparatively "dry" city. The recent cutting off of a number will probably reduce the percentage slightly this year.

A Kentuckian avows he owes his long life to a steady diet of pie. This is not strange, observes The Augusta Herald, for it has long been noted that office holders generally are a long-living tribe.

An Indian named Bernard, on the way to penitentiary, jumped from a train running at thirty-five miles an hour near Gloucester Junction, N. B., and escaped.
