CHRIST'S QUESTION. "Children, have ye any meat."
Comes the question soft and low.
Like a breath of summer sweet.
Stealing over wastes of snow.
All our needs the Saviour knew,
Needs that He will not forget;
To His ancient kindness true.
Human longings touch Him yet.

"Children, have ye any ment?"
Winter days are hard and cold;
Wearily, from field and street.
Comes the answer as of old.
Jesus, Master, Thou wert known
Long ago in breaking bread;
Let Thy love through us be shown,
And the hungry ones be fed.

"Children, have ye any meat."
Lord, we do Thy will to-day:
Eager lips Thy words repeat.
None are empty sent away:
Birds, whose notes are full of praise,
Share the bounties of Thine hand:
Aye, on dreary winter days
There is gladness in the land. "Children, have ye any meat"
(Deerer still the accents sound);
Christ, to famished souls how sweet
Shall the bread of life be found!
From those plentons stores of Thine
Feed them in their daily race.
Till they drink Thine own new wine
In the kingdom of Thy grace.

HOUSE BURNED.—On Sunday afterhoon, January the 2nd, the dwellingnouse of Mr. Win. Curley about a mile north of here was discovered to be on fire, and was totally destroyed together with nearly ail the contents. The loss will be about $500. The fire originated in the roof and without doubt was caused by a defective flue. Terms, $1.50 in Advance.
