Mr. and Mrs. L. Whewell of Griffin, Sask., returned home on Saturday after a lengthy visit with friends in this vicinity. They were accompanied on the return by Miss Maggie McComb of Yellow Grass, who has also been visiting friends in this neighborhood.

An instance of the benefit of having printed butter wrappers was shown in a letter received last week by Mrs. F. Dickenson. A resident of Toronto who had purchased some butter in the city bearing her label was so highly pleased with the quality of the butter that they wrote her a complimentary letter and wanted to contract with her to supply them steadily with all they required.—Creemore Star. The Advance keeps a supply of butter wrappers on hand and prints them at a reasonable price.

Messrs. W. C. and Geo. E. Strain of Victornia Corners, who succeeded in securing homesteads in the famous land rush at Lethbridge in January, wish to sell their farm here and expect to leave in about two weeks to take possession of their new property in southern Alberta, the garden of the Northwest. The boys stood in the land-seekers' line from Sunday morning until noon on Monday, and as they were pretty well up to the front of the 1500 in line, they succeeded in getting choice locations.

With The Churches.

The March Rod and Gun.

Snow Trails, a story of a professional man spending some weeks trapping with an Indian in the Canadian backwoods, is the leading feature of the March issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont., and one that no sportsman should miss. Stories galore have been written of experiences in the backwoods in summer and fall, but not too many genuine instances of personal experiences by outsiders, in the woods in winter have been given to the world. Mr. Auer's narrative is full of interest and demonstrates the health and pleasure to be obtained from a visit to the winter woods. To penetrate too far is, as the author says, only for the strong, but there are few cases which would not be benefited from following the author's advice and example. The time may come when winter visitors will only rank second in numbers to those enjoying summer outings. The difficulties of prospecting trips in Northern British Columbia are well brought out in the story of a Wild Goose Chase by Mr. F. Bullock Webster. The experiences gained by fire ranging for two summers in the Metagami Forest Reserve are told in an interesting style by Mr. H. W. Lyons. These are supplemented by a full list of contents, dealing with big game, hunting woodcock, shooting, fishing, protective work, mountaineering, and kindred subjects, the whole bringing with it the whiffs of the woodlands in very full measure and largely accounting for the wide spread influence the magazine has gained amongst sportsmen on both sides of the border.

Dr. deVan's French Female Pills—the Wife's Friend.

The editor of the Flesherton Advance says that the editor who boasts of his "below cost" prices is one of the biggest fools in the business. Where does the fellow come in who goes down to starvation prices without boasting!—Durham Chronicle. Why he is too ashamed to boast, and there is therefore some hope for his redemption. It is an encouraging symptom.

Mr. Gordon Moir of the 10th con., Sunnidale, was visited by lightning during the thunder storm last Sunday afternoon. His hen house was struck shortly after four o'clock and totally destroyed with its contents, over sixty fowl. Fortunately no other buildings were near, as barns had been moved last fall.—Stayner Sun.

Owen Sound.

Mr. Alex Hood of Woodford, sold a team of horses recently to the well known horse buyer, A Galbraith of Paisley, Ont. The price realized was four hundred and fifty dollars.

John J. Brown, a former employee of the C. P. R. section gang on the Rockford section, while going home on Friday discovered a broken rail. His son, who was with him, was despatched to a nearby house for a piece of red cloth to flag any trains, while Brown ran up the track and met locomotive 1745 returning with a van from Flesherton. The discovery and subsequent prompt action probably averted an accident, as the locomotive was on the down grade and going at a good speed. The way freight was following and a still more serious accident might have resulted from the broken rail. Brown reported the matter to the local agent and to the officials at Toronto. Since leaving the road he has been working on a small farm near Superior street, just outside the corporation limits. The company will no doubt show its appreciation of his work.

Reeve McKay of Sydenham went to the woodshed for a block of wood in the dark and slipping on some ice, fell, striking his face on a stake which had been driven in the ground with three others to form a saw horse. Fortunately, in falling, he went sidewise and the end of the stake glanced along the cheek bone and the bridge of the nose and across to the other cheek close under the eye. A slight turn of the head would almost certainly have meant that the stake would have entered the eye. Reeve McKay is an elder brother of Hon. A. G. McKay, K. C., M. P. P.—Times.

S. Liddy, of Violet Hill, delivered at Shelburne stockyards on Tuesday a big sow that beats all local records for weight. It just weighed 940 pounds, and was such a monster that Photographer Reid was summoned to "take its picture."—Economist.

With a loud report that resounded through the school building and an almost deafening crack in Form III room of the High School Dept., a chemical explosion occurred which startled students and teachers Tuesday afternoon. Principal Allan was teaching a chemistry lesson to the third form and had a number of boys around the table assisting in conducting an experiment for the manufacture of nitrous oxide, using ammonium nitrate in its preparation. This it appears was not chemically pure and on being heated gases escaped forming an explosive compound. The explosion followed, when a copper florence flask used was blown to pieces, part flying under Mr. Allan's arm, but luckily none of the boys were in the way either, or serious and perhaps fatal results might have taken place. The force of the explosion was shown by a hole torn in the platform while the room was filled with fumes and the hands of the boys blackened.—Durham Review.

A Discovery of Vast Importance

It Is Now Admitted That Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh, Coughs, and Colds Can Only Be Quickly Cured By Mixing a New Medicine With the Air You Breathe.

Scientists acknowledge that medicated air treatment is the only treatment that will cure these diseases, and that stomach medicines are worse than useless.

Catarrhozone air treatment has been found to be the most effective way to cure all diseases of the throat, lungs, and nasal passages. Its action is so prompt that in less than an hour an ordinary cold is cured, and after a more thorough use of Catarrhozone, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all diseases of the throat and lungs are completely cured.

Catarrhozone is a very simple and powerful method of treatment. You simply breathe it through the inhaler and it immediately passes over every air cell of the throat, lungs, and bronchial tubes, curing and healing as it goes.

Catarrhozone treatment affords little drops of healing for sore places in the lungs, throat, and nasal passages.
