Halley's Comet.

Halley's comet may now be seen on nights when conditions are favorable, with the aid of an ordinary field glass. The most favorable time to look for it is between 6.30 and 7 30 p. m., with the glass elevated somewhere above where the sun sets. The Harvard observatory focused the wanderer nightly on their big telescopes, and some interesting photographs of its development are being made.

Professor E. C. Pickering, director of the Harvard observatory, says:

"The comet is at present in the twilight region. It is in the line of the sun and its brightness is dimmed by the lustre of the great centre of the solar system. Besides, it has not yet attained its maximum brilliancy. That will be May 18th. It will be visible all through April, but at its brightest in May. At about that time, if clouds do not obscure it, it will be a dazzling sight. About a third of the heavens will be colored with a fiery gold, its great flashes of light will play from one part of the heavens to another, and the sight will be remembered for generations. Halley's comet has been noted for its brilliant displays."

A government overseer of destitute and truant children was in town last week making enquiries for any who needed his attention. He went out to the farm of James Hogg, an old man in the eighties whose young wife died about three years ago, leaving him with a young family of five children, the eldest a girl now fourteen years of age. Last year a boy was taken charge of by the Children's Aid Society, and now the balance of the children are taken away to be looked after by the Provincial authorities. The old man, who is very badly crippled by rheumatism and not able to care for himself, is left alone at the farm and is in a bad way. We understand he will also be cared for as soon as a suitable place is arranged for. The case is one that calls for great sympathy, as the old man is strongly attatched to his children, and it is sorely against his will that his home is broken. He is well educated and has an income outside of the farm, which he owns, and is, therefore, financially able to support the little ones. The neighbors have been very kind to them.—Dundalk Herald.

A missionary in India showed a Brahmin a drop of water through a microscope. When the Brahmin beheld the myriads of creeping things in the water, and was told he drank just such, he became very uneasy. After a time he came and offered an immense sum for the microscope. The missionary at last sold it to him. As soon as he had got it he cast it down vehemently on the pavement, and dashed it to pieces. There are many who get rid of dangers by simply shutting their eyes.—Confederate.

Jacob Still of Glencross, Mono township, was killed in the woods on his farm last week when gathering sap for sugar-making, by a limb of a tree falling some thirty feet, striking him on the head and fracturing his skull. He was alone at the time of the accident and was found some time after by his cousin Alfred, still in an unconscious condition. He died before he could be removed to his home. Deceased was about forty years of age and leaves a widow who is a cripple.

A strange cur, evidently suffering from rabies, ran amuck in the Ballycroy district a few days ago and now there is trouble. The dog entered yards and stables and bit several horses and cattle before it was shot. The animals were tied up to watch developements. One cow belonging to Mr. David McElwain developed rabies and was shot, and other of his cattle and some horses of his neighbors are showing symptoms of the disease, and may have to be destroyed.—Bolton Enterprise.

Mr. R. C. Russell, Apostle of the Latter Day Saint church, left this week to attend a conference of the twelve, which is this week being held in Independence, Missouri. Mr. Russel was, last year, made one of the Twelve Apostles which is the second highest rank in that denomination, their authority being superceded only by the Presidency, which is composed of Joseph Smith, jr., and two advisors.—Arthur Enterprise.

The man who gets the fewest letters complains the most of the post office; the man who complains of his preacher pays the preacher the least; the man who complains most of his neighbor is the meanest neighbor, and the man who has the least sense is the most conceited.

"De world," said Uncle Eben, "is sumpin' like a lookin'glass—you's g'inter get better results if you smiles dan if you makes faces."

Horse Distemper

Prince Edward Farmer Solemnly Declares "Nerviline" Is a Specific.

"After fifty years' experience in raising horses I can safely testify that no remedy gives such good results for an all-round stable liniment as Nerviline." Thus opens the very earnest letter of J. I. Evanston, who lives near Wellington, P. E. "I had a very valuable horse that took distemper a month ago, and was afraid I was going to lose him. His throat swelled and hard lumps developed. His nostrils ran and he had a terrible cough. I tried different remedies, but was unable to relieve my horse of his pain and suffering till I started to use Nerviline. I mixed a bottle of Nerviline and sweet oil and rubbed the mixture on the throat and chest three times a day and you would scarcely believe the way that horse picked up. Nerviline cured him. I also have used Nerviline for colic in horses and cows, and earnestly recommend it to every man that is raising stock."

Nerviline CURES QUICKLY

For strains, sprains, swellings, colic, distemper, coughs, and colds, no liniment will prove so efficacious in the stable as "Nerviline"—it's good for man or beast, for internal or external use. Wherever there is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse substitutes. Large bottles 50c, trial size 25c, at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

The News of all the world—Red-Hot

The Toronto Daily Star's splendid telegraph and cable service brings to its editorial rooms, on eight wires, all the world's news while it is news.

Besides the regular Canadian and American Associated Press and Cable services, the Star has the exclusive use for Toronto of a leased wire to New York, and gets all the world's news much quicker than any other service gives it, and often more fully.

From correspondents all over Canada, from Sydney to Victoria and Prince Rupert, the gets a Canadian Telegraph service that is unsurpassed.

On account of the difference in time (over 5 hours) the Star is able to publish in the afternoon an account of Old Country happenings up to 6 or 7 o'clock the same evening—the same news the morning papers give you the next day.

The Star's editing staff present this fresh, world-gleaned news in a form that is most "newsy" and entertaining, yet always clean and wholesome. The Star does not spare expense when there is an opportunity to serve its readers, as illustrated when it recently sent to England Jos. T. Clark, a member of its staff, to cover the British Elections.
