Sunnyside "Doings"

News seems scarce at present owing to this being a busy season of the year.

Mrs. James McLean gave an ice cream party to a number of friends one night recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Anderson, Proton Station, spent an evening with the former's sister, Mrs. A. Currie.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Dingwall returned home after spending the past week with friends in Arthur and Luther.

We must correct one item that was published from Sunnyside recently. We said that Mr. R. Hodgins, Proton Station, was the guest of his friend, Miss Annie Gillies; but instead, it was to buy cattle he went.

Mr. Will Meads, accompanied by his sister, Ella, spent Sunday at "Elm Grove Farm."

Mr. James McLean is improving nicely under the skilful treatment of Dr. Elliott, Priceville.

Mr. James Hay and Mr. Will Dingwall spent an evening with their friend, Wm. Campbell.

Quite a number of the young people from here attended the garden party at Swinton Park on the 20th. All report a good time.

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Roy spent Sunday at Redwing.

Drs. McWilliams of Dundalk and Ryckman of Maxwell performed a very critical operation on Jas. Milne on Monday.

What are the ratepayers of this township doing so much kicking about their Continuation School for? They ought to be proud to think they are going to have such a grand institution in their township. They should grasp such a golden opportunity of having education brought within reach of every boy and girl. But some people just want to grab all they can and give nothing in return. They want education free. They want the gospel preached to them free. A young man who went to a certain town to take a course at business college thought he would go among some friends and get his board free. He found out his mistake and was soon turned under.

W. I. Convention At Owen Sound

As the train stopped at the several stations between Dundalk and Owen Sound on Tuesday, June 14, and crowds of laughing, chattering women filed in, expressions might be heard such as "I never saw the train on this line so crowded," "What is going on to-day?" "Where are all the women going!" etc. The initiated knew that the county convention of the Women's Institute was to be held in Owen Sound. A 'bus chartered for the occasion conveyed the delegates from the station to the W.C.T.U. hall, where a hot dinner was awaiting them.

The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. (Rev.) J. L. McCullough. Mrs. J. McQuaker, in a neatly worded address, gave a warm welcome to the delegates. Mrs. J. B. Egan, on behalf of the delegates, thanked the ladies for the kind reception and warm hospitality which had already been extended to them. The President instructed the delegates to take back to their branches a full report of the meeting so that others might profit by it.

Mrs. W. J. Logan of Meaford gave an excellent paper on "Some benefits of Women's Institutes." She said the twentieth century was a century of organization. There are now so many we cannot attend to all, but we should endeavor to belong to those which would benefit us most. We train our sons for doctors, ministers, lawyers, etc., but we expect our daughters to fill their place without any training. We go in classes. There is apt to be a social barrier between the town and country. Even the churches divide, but in the Institute there is no barrier. We have talents to cultivate—have we a right to allow them to remain idle? We learn to do by doing, and we all should do our share of the program.

The President, Mrs. S. H. Breese, of Chatsworth, conducted the question drawer. In reply to the question, "What prevents butter from gathering?" Miss Rose of Guelph said, in winter we are so anxious to save cream enough to churn that the cream is not sufficiently rich. Succulent foods should be given cows. In summer if butter won't gather draw off the buttermilk and churn slowly. Add ice cold water.

CANNING PINEAPPLES

The following recipe was given for canning pineapple: Peel pines and shred with a fork; add sugar, pound for pound; let stand over night and bottle in sterilized cans. Will keep for years.

The question was asked, "Why does separator cream take longer to churn than that taken off cans?" Miss Rose replied that it was apt to be too thin or possibly was not cooled rapidly enough. It should be put on ice, or if that were not available, put in shallow pans on the cement floor of the cellar. The cream is thicker than milk and takes longer to cool.

Mrs. W. Buchanan of Ravenna gave a paper on Women's Rights, or the Suffrage question, or the Power to Vote (I really do not know the exact title, but I do know it was prepared in Mrs. Buchanan's original and inimitable way, and appealed to the reason of every woman present). Mrs. Buchanan has strong objections to being placed in the same class with idiots, lunatics and minors.

The election resulted in returning the old officers, viz., Pres., Mrs. S. H. Breese; Vice Pres., Mrs. James Airth, Chatsworth; Sec.-Treas., Mrs. W. H. Thurston, Flesherton.

Miss Laura Rose gave a most inspiring address on the Influence of Environment. She is a lady of strong personality, winning ways, and an expressive face. Among other things, she said, when we furnish our home comfortably, beautifully and usefully, we are paying a premium to entice our children to stay at home but when we bedeck them with jewelery and make them into a fashion plate we are paying a premium for them to go from home to show their finery. Miss Rose also said, we clean our kitchen once a week, the school room where our children spend thirty hours a week is cleaned once a year; it, too, should be cleaned once a week.

The evening session was presided over by Mayor Harrison of Owen Sound. Mrs. (Dr) Easton of Ayton gave a paper on "Mother and child" from a kindergartner's standpoint. As Mrs. Easton is an ex-kindergarten teacher she dealt with her subject in a practical manner.

Miss Rose took as her evening subject "The head to plan, the hand to do and the heart to will," which was listened to with interest.

Professor Wade of O. A. C. spoke on Agricultural Education. We were sorry that there were so few gentlemen present from the country.

Miss Stewart, Miss Herriot, Miss Lily Roseborough, Miss Bessie Robertson and Miss Kathleen Robertson delighted the audience with vocal and instrumental music.

After a vote of thanks had been tendered chairman, speakers, all who had assisted and all who had entertained, the meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

The county convention will be held in Flesherton next year.

Maxwell C.O.F. Picnic a Success

The annual picnic of Maxwell C.O.F. materialized last Wednesday afternoon in Wm. Scutt's grove. A goodly number gathered, in spite of the warm weather. It was hot—so hot that every breath of air seemed to be baked on both sides, but better that than cold or wet. The gate receipts amounted to $41.

The first event to be pulled off was a baseball match between Singhampton and Flesherton, when the former were handed a nice, juicy lemon, with the score against them to the extent of 19-8. The Flesherton players feel heartily ashamed of themselves for not being content with a smaller score—however they have promised not to do it again. For the first four innings Singhampton only secured one run, and in the first three Flesherton annexed seventeen. Then a shift was made and Singhamptrn pulled up—a little. The pitching of Tom Brown for the latter during the last four innings fooled the Flesherton boys, while Kitchen's pitching for the first four innings had the Singhampton batters guessing badly, and certainly put them down and out. Three fair ones from Singhampton cheered their players on to—well, as near victory as they could get. One of these fair fans, in the excitement of an unusually good play on the part of "Pat," was so exasperated that she fell back on that ancient bit of repartee "Smartie! Smartie!" Dr. Ryckman was a decidedly impartial umpire, and made the fans happy with his "square" decisions. No roughness, either of language or play, was shown by either team, and the losers took their medicine with the best of grace. The players were as follows: Singhampton—Dr. McFadden, A. Taylor, F. McLean, T. Brown, J. Taylor, — Sheard, H. Taylor, — Noble, L. McKinnon; Flesherton—H. Smith, H. Mitchell, R. Bellamy, G. McTavish, A. Sproat, G. M. Patrick, W. Wilson, F. Smith and R. Kitchen. The score by innings is as follows:

Singhampton	0	0	1	0	4	2	1	8
Flesherton	4	7	6	0	1	0	1	19

The football match between Maxwell and the Collingwood Rovers, all Scotchmen, was delayed until quite late owing to the non-appearance of the Feversham team, which had promised to play against the Rovers. It seems that the Feversham players have not fully recovered from their encounter with Flesherton on May 24th, and several of the men were unable to play, and the rest were unable to play without them. However a Maxwell team was gathered up and about 7.30 in the evening the opposing forces lined up for the fray, with several Flesherton, Feversham and Singhampton men filling up vacancies on the line-up. The game started off at a furious pace, which was maintained until the end. Particularly good was the work of F. Foreman and Dr. Ryckman in the respective goals, who while not over-worked, made several brilliant stops. The visitors were possibly the better players, yet they had not the necessary weight, and so were at a disadvantage. As the play warmed up the superior weight of the locals told on the temper of the visitors slightly. For instance, when McLean jumped on one of the Scotchmen's shouldrs and upset him the "under dog" wished to scrap, but evidently thought better of it and the play continued. The home team scored two goals, the last one, just before time was called, was scored after a whirlwind rush—a very pretty play; while the visitors failed to locate the goal stakes even once. The line-up was: Collingwood—F. Forman, J. Barr, J. Watt, J. Knight, G. Wilson, J. Hunter, J. Fulton, J. J. Henderson, A. Hunter, W. Clark, W. Mirrlees; Feversham—Dr. Ryckman, S. Ottewell, W. Kerton, A Taylor, F. McLean, J. Davidson, R. Morrison, J. Henderson, H. Linley, G. McTavish, E. Davidson.

Newsome--Sled.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Sled, of Lumsden, Sask., parents of Mr. T. Sled, of Flesherton, was the scene of a quiet home wedding on the 8th inst., when their youngest daughter, Isabel, became the wife of Mr. James Harvey Newson, of Lumsden, formerly of Smith's Falls, Ont. The bride, who was unattended, was prettily attired in a white lace robe over white chiffon silk en princesse, with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower boquet of white roses. She wore as her only ornament, the gift of the groom, a pearl and amethyst brooch. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wm. Arnett, under an arch of white ribbon intertwined with maple leaf, and a white bell, to which she was escorted by her father, while her sister, (Mrs. Hewson) played the Wedding March. After the ceremony and congratulations, the guests, numbering about twenty-five, entered the dining room, where a dainty wedding luncheon was served.

The fair bride, who was one of our most popular young ladies, received many useful and beautiful gifts, including gold pieces and checks. The happy young couple left on the 18.08 express for Winnipeg and other eastern points. The bride travelled in a tailored navy serge suit with hat to match. On their return they will reside on their fine farm near Lumsden.

The bride's mother received her guests in a black taffeta silk dress. Among the guests from a distance were: Mrs. Newsome, of Smith's Falls, mother of the groom, Mrs. Ferguson, of Smith's Falls, Mr. George Brown, of Orangeville, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hewson, Allandale, and Mr. and Mrs. and Miss McMorris of Sedley.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, addressing the Halifax Board of trade, said the C.P. R. hoped soon to hang out its shingle in Halifax.

County Court And Sessions

In addressing the Grand Jury His Honor expressed satisfaction on the fact that no parties were in goal awaiting trial although there were three parties against whom there were charges that were to be disposed of but they were out on bail. The Grand Jury appointed Mr. W. F. C. Arlidge, of Meaford, their foreman, and went into their work in earnest, bringing in a true bill against Frank Robinson for assault and doing actual bodily harm to Mr. Hawkins of St. Vincent. Their presentment, particularly in dealing with the Hospital and the House of Refuge which they visited, was very interesting. They deplored the fact that there was lack of accommodation in the hospital for the number of patients that desired to come, a large number coming from the country, and they urged the County Council to give substantial aid to the proposed increase of accommodation of the hospital. They named $10,000 as a sum that the County might very reasonably grant.

As to the House of Refuge they noticed marked improvement in the past two years and found things in a very satisfactory condition, all the inmates expressing themselves as well satisfied with their treatment in every respect.

CRIMINAL DOCKET.

Reg. vs. Ross.—This was the case that was tried two years ago when the jury disagreed. The case was not brought up at the last sessions and when called at the present sessions the Crown Attorney after consulting with the Department, entered a nolle prosequi which means that the proceedings are absolutely terminated and the accused acquitted. John Armstrong for the Crown. A. G. MacKay K. C. for the accused.

Rex. vs. Robinson.—Prosecutor Henry Hawkins and the accused Frank Robinson got into an altercation on an occasion when Mr. Robinson went up to subpoena Hawkins on a Division Court case. Mr. Hawkins refused to take the subpoena and did not wish to attend court as a witness. A few blows were exchanged both faces giving some evidence of the interchange. Robinson knocked Hawkins down. The Jury brought in a verdict of common assault against Robinson and he was fined $10. John Armstrong for the Crown. A. G. MacKay K. C. for the accused.

Rex. vs. Chas. McInnis.—The accused was sent up for trial on a charge of writing a letter with menaces. The prisoner elected to be tried by the Judge. The letter did not bear the interpretation which the prosecutor endeavored to put upon it. Mr. McInnis claimed that the Prosecutor's dog had bitten him and he had written the owner of the dog to kill the dog and pay him $10, for the injury and if he did not do both the letter stated that he would bring it before the Courts which naturally indicated that he intended to sue him for damages. The letter did not come within the Criminal Code and the case was dismissed. John Armstrong for the Crown. A. G. MacKay for the accused.

CIVIL DOCKET.

Meads vs. C. P. R.—Was adjourned until after October 1st, the jury notice being struck out, it being understood that the C. P. R. will relieve the grievance in the meantime. W. H. Wright for plaintiff, A. G. McKay K. C. and Angus McMurchy for defendants.

McDonald vs Bell and Bracken—This was rather an interesting case. Mr. Robert Bracken of St. Vincent had sold a threshing outfit to his co-defendant, Mr. Joseph Bell of the same township, and had taken lien notes for the same. Subsequent to the maturity of the notes in 1906 Mr. Bracken sold the same to the plaintiff, Edward McDonald, the latter advancing the face value of the notes, namely $720. The parties when dealing evidently thought that McDonald was securing full rights by Bracken simply endorsing the lien notes, but on this, lien notes being agreements, a simple endorsation did not convey the property. Mcdonald, the plaintiff, charged misrepresentation against Bracken, because of the fact that Bell had sold the traction engine, part of the machinery the lien notes covered, prior to the sale of the notes by Mr. Bracken to Mr. McDonald and that Bracken had represented that all the machinery was at Bell's. The fact that the lien notes or agreements were not properly signed left the rights of the parties quite uncertain. The defendant, Bell, did not defend the suit and judgment is already entered against him. Judgment reserved.—Advertiser.
