Fall Millinery Openings.

At Mr. John Simon's the season's display of new things in the way of millinery are shown. The goods are very fashionable and great care has been shown in making selections, with the end in view that excellent materials are placed within the reach of the most economical pur-chaser. During Wednesday and Thursday the Gollen Fleece (Mr. James Graham's) was the centre of attraction for ladies. These dates were tree days of the fall opening in the department of millinery and mantles. The handsome goods shown were evidence of the well established character of the trade served and of the nopularity of the department with ladies. While the antums styles materially differ from the pring fashions, it is only that the trimmings are of a tone more suitable to the snow of winter. In mantles silks and satins have given place to the new and fashionable rough cloths and figured fabrics, of which the assortment shown is a very fine one. Miss Young, the lady in charge, makes this woek her first display and it is creditable atike to the hous cand herself.

Although not on Exhibition at the Fair, several fine organs on exhibition at Goodwin's picture store, by Mr. G. W. Smith, attracted attention. One fine instrument shown by the Rell Organ Co'y at Toronto, and brought by Mr. Smith to Lindsay was especially admired. Other instruments were shown, such as combine splendid finish, beauty of tone and rich design, and yet moderate in price. Master L. G. Smith was at hand and played on these organs giving very satisfactory evidence of the tone and capabilities of the instruments,—12-1.

At quiet wedding took place at St. Paul's hurch on Monday, 27th Sept. The contracting parties were Mr. Frederick A. Prime, son of Rev. Frederick Prime of Kingston, and Miss Rev. Frederick Prime of Kingston, and Miss Eliza Umphrey, daughter of Mrs. Wray of this town. The Rev. Dr. Smithett officiated. The bride was the recipient of many handsome presents. The happy couple took the evening train for Toronto, where they will reside after their return from the tour, which will embrace Montreal and other points of interest in the east. The many friends of Mrs. Prime in this locality wish her a more than usual amount of conjugal bliss.

To Growers of Clover Seed.

We take from the Review the following paragraph of interest to growers of clover seed: 'Mr. Wm. Cluxton desires through the Review to address a few words to the growers of clover seed in this part of the province. He says that seed in this part of the province. He says that farmers make a fatal mistake in not threshing their clover seed early in the season and gives the following reasons for saying so: The sowing commences in some parts of England in January and through February. If the buyer does not get the seed to the old country market in time for this sowing the seed must remain over until the next season to be sold at a greatly reduced price. The grower of clover seed must get his seed to the market on time or accept a lower price for it. Mr. Cluxton ships from both Casada and the United States and last year sent home $40,000 worth. He says that he received a great deal of good aisike seed from the Lindsay section."

On Monday and Tuesday of this week the fall millinery opening at Dundas & Flavelle Bros. was held. Although the weather was untavorable to lady shoppers coming out in force the commission were visited very largely. Comments by visitors were very favorable as to the elegance and beauty of the fall and winter styles of hate and bouncts shown, and the impression prevailed that this season the display, while not to a scree extent showing pattern goods of high value, was yet replete with styles at moderate cost and of clexant design. In fact it may be remarked that the serviceable, and useful predominated, while the firm assured customers that the value offered was much better for a moderate cost than ever shown before. On Saturday evening last a young man from the country—well known in town in connection with a certain wrestling event—tackled our local heavy weight boxer with the evident intention of doing him up. But he reckoned without his host; and the result was that this "son of nature" returned to his rural home a much disfigured but a presumably wiser and more cautious man.

—An effort has been made by the members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union to effect the early delivery of goods bought on Saturday. Nearly all the houses in town have been visited and three hundred and fifty resident ladies have agreed to make no purchase after seven o'clock on Saturday nights which would have to be delivered if it could possibly be avoided.

—The effect of example and precept may be judged by the remarks of an indignant citizen who was engaged in the misty morning air on Saturday driving a cow out of his grounds, where she had beeu lunching during the night. "You're the poor man's cow, are you?" he muttered, fetching her a swipe with a barrel stave. "Il give you raw and unboiled justice." and he did. The reporter walked away after seeing the cow frantically dash over a step-ladder and stamp the bottom out of a wash tub and concluded the exhibition was one of those "ebullitions of popular sentiment," as quoted by gelegate Smith.

A local subscriber at Hamilton show writes: The Hamilton fair at present promises to be quite a success. New buildings have been erected to accommodate the increased number of stock entered, and though London and Collingwood hold their fair this week, still with good weather the attendance of spectators will probably be large. The Provincial at Guelph last week was among the best ever held. Stockmen in general appeared to be much better pleased with it than with the Industrial, which is greatly getting to be more and more a circus-like show. We hope that your Lindsay Central fair will be such a show as the county of Victoria and surrounding country ought to make it. However very much depends upon the treatment of exhibitors by the officials of both the fair and railway company. Breeding stock, particularly Shorthorns and Shropshire sheep has been changing hands at paying prices at the fairs, which indicate that farmers see that more profitable returns are to be had from stock than grain.

—The Warder has been unable to keep from misrepresentation in its report of the meeting in the council chamber to arrange for the reception of the Irish delegates. What it says is not of very much consequence, but it may as well be stated that Mr. Barr in substance remarked that as the announcements read in the churches called upon all those who were "in favor of the unity of the empire" to gather in the council chamber something more should be done than merely appoint a reception committee to the Ulster delegates. If it was merely the latter that was the object of the meeting the simple statement to that effect should have been made, and then no alarm or anxiety as to the danger of the empire would have been caused. Under the impression that the "empire was in great peril" it would only have been fair and right to have sent the announcement for the meeting to Rev. Father Laurent to read to his congruntion, for they were undoubtedly loyal and would rally with the rest of us. Of course if the meeting was merely to appoint a reception committee to Dr. Kane and Mr. Smith such an invitation would not have been apropes. The chairman, Mr. Hudspeth, had alluded to some reviewer's contemptuous remark that Canada had no histrature, and is support of his remarks. Mr. Barr said there was an excellent literature is Ontario sad in Quebec a fine English literature and a brilliant French one. Mr. Barr forget to mention, however, that Ontario had preduced a geography which though unauthorized was destined to hand the writer's name down, to posterity. This oversight is committed, and we are not surprised at the Warder's institution, of we are not surprised at the Warder's institution, seriously speaking, however, why

Justin McCarthy in Lindsay. We understand arrangements have been completed to have Mr. Justin McCarthy, M.P., the famous author, novelist and politician, lecture in Lindsay under the auspices of the mechanics institute. The date will be sometime in the latter half of October. The subject is yet to be chosen, but no doubt it will have some connection with the home rule question. The reputation of the lecturer will secure a large audience. Particulars later on.

During the week past Mr. A. Campbell, the well-known grocer, has taken a brief holiday, visited the city and noted the features of the ladustrial fair. He seems to have combined business with his pleasure, for he reports a very large purchase made of Teas. If there is one thing mere than another that Mr. Campbell's trade is famous for it is the supplying superior teas and -of course-at lowest prices. The purchase made is a very large one and one carload is to be delivered beginning of October next. The crop is new season s and the grades of the finest. While we hear of lines of goods advancing in price teas seem to be an exception, and Mr. Campbell has bought at lower rates than ever before. This will be an advantage to consumers, who can appreciate a low price quite as well as a good article. Japan teas are the favorite, and the shipment to come to hand is of that kind. Consumers will do well to look this point up-about these teas of Campbell's-and country merchants might wisely ask if they cannot buy from Mr. Campbell, and find that indeed they can buy to advantage. ousiness with his pleasure, for he reports a very

-Mr. Arch. McIntyre, license inspector for Rast Rigin, has instructed his solicitor to enter an action against Rev. J. R. Gundy of Aylmer for $2,000 damages for libel. The alleged libel is contained in the following statement which Mr. Gundy is reported to have made at the late meeting of the Dominion alliance: "In the county of Rigin the act was in force. They asked the removal of the inspector there, who was not in sympathy with the act. He was frequently seen reeling about the street."

—It is in prospect that the basement of the Methodist church will be ready for use in about two weeks. Just now a first coat of plaster is drying while the furnaces are being put in. Plastering is going forward in the body of the church and will be well advanced by end of the week. The choir arch has been built and the wall removed. Altogether the work done gives promise of a handsome interior when finished and well arranged for convenience and comfort.

An interesting program has been arranged, and there will be no end of enjoyment of a quiet character. Remember Friday evening.

—The young men's district association district conference was held during last week at Peterboro. Rev. Dr. McTavish and Mesers. Wm. J. King, R. M. Anderson and S. Smyth of Lindsay attended. Mr. King was appointed secretary of the conference and reported from the Lindsay association, and received many valuable suggestions from the other associates. Rev. Dr. McTavish delivered an interesting address on a suitable subject... Although Lindsay's association has not been long in existence and has had many operacles to contend with its work was considered very satisfactory. Now that the association has secured rooms, which will be furnished and fitted up as a parlor, reading room, with lecture-room and gymnasium combined, the public may look for some benefit from the association and the privilege of contributing to their funds.

GOOD ADVICE

Can always be taken with safety, irrespective of the source from which it comes. It is requisite, however, that it be "good advice," and by good advice we mean that sort that is really and without question beneficial to the recipient. It is good advice that we offer you. We'll not even object to your finding a streak of selfishness in our reasons for offering it, since the discovery can't possibly interfere with the benefit to be derived from following the advice itself, which is simply this,
